WAYNE PLEADS GUILTY

blower and, it is said, has stated time and again that he had no business entering in robberies with such men as Anderson, Carter and other members of the gang. His business—profession he calls it—is far superior to that of the common thug, and his skill is a marvel to all who know of his work. So excepting in his mechanical work he planned the sewerage system of the Colorado state prison, from which state he escaped after his parole. Wayne not only planned the system, but he charged the laborers and executed the work. More than three miles of pipe were laid and so perfect was the work done that it is being used as an example of like work about the penitentiary. Wayne not only knows the mechanism of nearly every kind of safe made, but knows just how to attack it in blowing it open.

Gang and Trouble.

It was due to Rankin's error in describing the safe at the Greenham bank that caused the failure of the robbery of that institution. Rankin is said to have told Wayne that the safe was fire-proof when it was in reality burglar-proof. Because of Rankin's mistake Wayne became angry with the crowd and they were on the verge of fighting just previous to their arrest. Shortly after the arrest of the men, the authorities learned of the trouble existing between the men, and for that reason it is said Mr. Cole refused to sweet Wayne. He allowed him to lie in the county jail and brood over his troubles. He is the man who is known as the "sore guy," and it was in the hope he would eventually tell all he knew, that he was allowed to go without the sweating process. Wayne's plea of guilty this morning seems to have borne out Mr. Cole's idea of handling the robber, and it is expected that he will tell all he knows. Anderson was visibly annoyed when he heard his comrade plead guilty. Wayne's reply to the query, "How plead you, guilty or not guilty?" as put by Clerk J. A. Bladen, was in a faint tone, and Anderson only showed his anger by pleading not guilty in a loud voice.

Attorney Will West Anderson. Attorney MacMahon, appearing for Anderson, stated that he had not been allowed to see his client since his hearing before the commissioner. Judge Wolverton granted him the privilege of visiting Anderson at the county jail. Judge Wolverton also appointed R. Citron as an attorney for Carter. Anderson's trial was set for Friday morning, but Mr. Cole stated that he would not be able to try the case at that time and it will probably go over indefinitely.

TOWN TOPICS

A fire of unknown origin almost totally destroyed the home of W. M. Combs at 514 East Fifteenth street at 10:45 o'clock last night. Engine 11 and hose 3 responded to a telephone alarm, but before the arrival of the apparatus the dwelling was badly damaged. Combs and his family were down town at the time of the fire and are at a loss to understand how the blaze started, unless it was the work of an incendiary.

The retail meat dealers discussed the issue situation for the coming summer at their regular meeting last night. The price at which ice in ton lots was furnished last summer was entirely satisfactory to the meat dealers, but there is general opposition to paying any advance over last summer's sale. The question will come up for further discussion at the next regular meeting of the association.

Beatrice Lewis and Grace Reed, both colored, were arraigned before Judge Cleland in the circuit court this morning charged with the larceny of $500 from Andrew Johnson on April 18. They were allowed until Saturday morning to plead. The women are at liberty under $1,000 bail each.

At the meeting of the Universal New Thought assembly tomorrow afternoon at 8 o'clock, at the Western Academy of Music, Mulkey building, Second and Morrison, Sister Avabamba will lecture to women only, subject, "What is the Mental and Physical Condition of Women on Other Planets?"

Articles of incorporation of the South East Bank company were filed in the office of the county clerk this morning by C. A. Bell, Sanderson Reed and C. E. Basher. Their purpose is to deal in logs, lumber and lumber. Capital stock, $2,500.

Dr. C. H. Chapman will give an address before the English literature department of the Women's club on Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Women's Woodcraft hall. All club members are invited to be present.

According to a report filed in the county court this morning by Oscar Overbeck, L. Gerling and J. W. Newkirk, appraisers of the estate of Emma J. Wakeman, the estate has property valued at $12,700.

A. B. Gatas, Frank Snuffin and John Moll, appraisers of the estate of A. G. Ryan, filed a report in the county court this morning showing that the property of the estate is worth $13,032.

by this railroad banking system of stock in the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad system, running from Chicago to California, competition by the only direct competitor of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific has been to all intents and purposes eliminated and contracts have been made for the division of freight. As a result of this the state of California, though connected by three great railroad systems with the rest of the continent, is virtually at the mercy of the directors of this banking system. In all the important connecting lines enough stock has been bought virtually to control all of the tributaries to the transcontinental system.

The testimony brought out showed that two groups of competing railroads are allied so closely as to preclude the idea of competition within each group such as would ordinarily exist. San Pedro Deal. The first of these groups is made up of the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific and the San Pedro & Los Angeles road, commonly known as the Clark road. These three roads were direct competitors, and are not competing at all today. The other group is made up of the Rock Island, the Illinois Central and the Chicago & Alton. This group differs from the first group in that the Rock Island is in the hands of entirely different interests than the Union Pacific, but through a peculiar agreement competition between these three roads is nothing more than a form. The agreement referred to is the joint agreement between the Rock Island and the Union Pacific by which, as holders of a majority of the stock of the Alton, the Rock Island and the Union Pacific, or the holding companies of them, are to control the Alton company in alternate years. As the Rock Island, the Alton and the Illinois Central are competitors by reason of the fact that the Union Pacific, one of the parties of this agreement, now virtually controls the Illinois Central, no healthy competition can exist and that there is a decided and peculiar "community of interest" between the three.

The commission is said to recommend the following remedies of the system: 1. Prohibition of ownership of any stocks and bonds by one railroad company in a competing line. 2. Consent of some federal authority before any new securities could be issued. 3. Action by the Attorney-General in the courts to dissolve control by the Union Pacific over the Southern Pacific as a parallel and competing line. 4. Similar action in the case of the Chicago & Alton, which is a parallel and competing line to the Illinois Central,

YOUR PIANO NEEDS ONE AND YOU CAN BUY ONE NOW FOR A MERE SONG.

Special Sale of Pianola Players, Taken in Exchange on Pianola Pianos, Now on at Eilers—Remarkable Values, Practically Pay as You Please Terms and a Surprising Offer.

Now for the long summer days, the beautiful, balmy evenings, vacation time, pleasure time and the time for a real musical treat, at practically no cost. You wonder how? Well, the way is easy—for it's "The Eilers Way."

Perhaps you failed to notice the announcement in yesterday's papers of our special clearance of Pianolas—those that we have taken in trade on Pianola Pianos. If so, we'll repeat briefly the attractive features that make this sale one of unusual interest to music lovers who have pianos, but not a piano-player.

Everybody knows what a glorious instrument the Pianola is; how it brings thousands of selections of all sorts of music to, one's immediate command; how it enables any one to play the piano, and to play any piece in the most artistic manner, too. As a matter of fact, the Pianola has achieved such really remarkable success that it is recognized and universally conceded the undisputed leader of all piano-players, artists, musical educational institutions and music lovers in general, throughout all the world.

Now, you can secure a Pianola—one of these which we have taken in exchange on Pianola Pianos with the inside player feature—at a great reduction from regular cost, and what is more, you can purchase it on very liberal terms of payment—as low as $1.50 a month on some of them—and the special sale prices also include a bench and a year's subscription to the Pianola Library of Music. More than this, you can trade in the Pianola purchased now, for the full amount paid, toward a Pianola Piano at any time up to January 1, 1908; so that all your enjoyment and entertainment between now and then will be practically without cost.

Sale prices range $87.50, $110, $125, $147, $150, $165 and $185, although some of the players at these figures will certainly be sold quickly, for the number is not large. Our advice is to come at the earliest moment possible, look them over and let us demonstrate what wonders these Pianolas will do in the musical line; what a world of pleasure they will unlock from your "silent" piano.

Pianolas are sold exclusively by the House of Eilers—the House of Highest Quality—where you'll find the Line of Highest Merit, at the Busy Music Corner, Washington and Park streets.

which is controlled by the Union Pacific, and to the Rock Island, which has a joint agreement with the Union Pacific to control the Alton.
