The entire surplus stock of Garson, Meyer & Co. Rochester, New York, on sale. All sizes at all prices, 33 to 50 bust measure; single and double-breasted; three and four-button sack coats with or without cuffs. The character of this clothing can best be learned from an inspection, but a word as to Garson, Meyer & Co. may help you to judge what you may expect to find. This concern is famous throughout all clothing-dom for its fine factory, its expert cutting and for the scrupulous cleanliness and care in manufacture. Its workmen are said to be the highest paid clothing hands in the United States. The values given below are the actual prices for which these suits would sell if they had been sold to us at the Garson, Meyer & Co.'s regular figures. We took their entire stock on hand and can now offer this early in May as good suits as are made in the United States at these two prices:

The Entire Unsold Production of S. J. Singer & Sons and Garson, Meyer & Co. at Less Than Cost of Making

For six months prosperity has ruled the world. The demand for good merchandise has been unprecedented. All along the line goods have advanced. Manufacturers haven't been so busy in many years. Night and day the factories have been running, preparing to fill the orders that seemed sure to follow. Suddenly there's a transformation—from coast to coast the entire country experiences wintry weather—the white mantle puts a damper on buying, and the manufacturers want to unload. Mighty few retailers are in position to take advantage of conditions—most of 'em are overstocked—many of them haven't the cash the manufacturers demand, if the prices are to be cut.

AND RIGHT HERE THIS STORE'S MAGNIFICENT ORGANIZATION AND LIMITLESS OUTLET STEPS IN AND PICKS UP THE BARGAINS, THE LIKES OF WHICH THE OLDEST INHABITANT HAS NEVER SEEN.

The Sale of Manufacturers' Surplus Clothing Which Starts Here Tomorrow

Will be better than any clearing sale we ever inaugurated—greater than our recent Alteration Sale—more stupendous than any clothing sale we ever held—because the goods are the very latest and most in demand. Just what you were preparing to buy anyway. Some of you were going to wait for the clearance sales in order to get the cut prices. You needn't wait now. At no time will such elegant merchandise, shown in complete varieties, be as low again. No matter what we say in this advertisement, we can't say enough to do the values justice. No matter what we advertise, there is still more and better that hasn't been mentioned. You should be on hand when the doors open at 7:30 tomorrow morning, and you should come every day for the rest of this month if you want to feast on the richest bargains in the history of the store.

The entire unsold production of I. J. Singer & Sons, New York city, at less than cost of making. This is the sort of news we hope, for the sake of the clothing trade in general, you will seldom see. But it makes good reading for the man who wants good clothes, cheap. Very few of the people who have commented daily on the unseasonable weather have any idea of the havoc that weather has played with the makers of men's clothing. One of the biggest, strongest and best clothing concerns in the country—I. J. Singer & Sons of New York—terminated last week not to delay any longer in disposing of the stock which the slow and chilly spring kept on their hands. They were anxious to get to work on their fall and winter production. So they came to our buyer, who was in the market with a proposition which culminates in this advertisement.

PENCE WILL ASK MORE TIME

Sluicing Hindered by Objections to Blasting and Work is Incomplete.

When Lafe Pence was given permission by the park board to construct a flume across Macleay park on March 2, 1906, to sluice away a part of Willamette heights and the south of Guild's lake, it was required to have the flume completely completed, serving the purpose for which it was intended by yesterday. Owing to protestations on the part of residents in the vicinity against the blasting Pence was unable to accomplish his original object of transporting the hill to the lowland and converting useless ground into taxable property, and it will be necessary to ask the park board for a further extension of time to complete the project. Pence will, upon the next meeting of the board ask for what extension he thinks necessary, and is confident that it will be granted without hesitation. Under the privilege granted Pence he is permitted to use the storm waters from Balch creek from the first day of November until the last day of April for the purpose of washing down the hill. Since the plant has been in operation about 200,000 cubic yards of earth have been placed upon the lower surface. Since he is unable to proceed through the aid of blasting powder, Pence has decided to move his hydraulic plant from its present location to the Cornell road, and with the opening of next November will resume the work of reducing the hill. Bridges will be built across the draw in the vicinity during the next few months, provided the application for a renewal of the franchise is granted him by the board. The Pence company's sluicing system measures 18 miles in length, 2,000 feet of which crosses Macleay park. In crossing the park the board required that the flume be entirely covered on top with a walk, together with a hand rail, and that it was to serve as a public walk at all times. Pence stated this afternoon that he had met all the requirements of the council and apprehended no difficulty when he presented his request at the next meeting of the board.

General Charles W. Bartlett will contest with Henry M. Whitney for the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts this fall. In 1905 General Bartlett led the ticket and Mr. Whitney was the nominee for lieutenant-governor.

DUNKARDS WILL BE IN PORTLAND

Delegation Returning From the Los Angeles Convention Will See Sights Around Portland.

A special train carrying 150 members of the German Baptist brethren known as "Dunkards," returning east from their annual convention just closed at Los Angeles, will arrive in Portland May 31, and spend two days seeing the sights of this city and vicinity. The excursionists are from territory east of Chicago, and the train is in charge of Gordon G. Noble, southeastern passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley railroad. Mr. Gordon is also secretary of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents, and is well known among coast railroad men.

A letter has been received from him by M. J. Roche of the Denver & Rio Grande, requesting that trolley cars be provided on the morning of May 31, to receive the German Baptists at the union station and take them for a trip over the city.

PARSENER AGENT PRESENTED WITH PIN

A handsome pin has been purchased by the Portland business men's excursion party recently returned from eastern Oregon, and will be presented to Jack O'Neill, a popular traveling passenger agent of the O. R. & N. company, who accompanied the party on the trip, and did much to make the excursion a complete success. The pin is on view at the Commercial club, where the presentation will be made next Saturday evening.
