Nick Williams Drops Fly at Critical Point and Portland Nabs the Game.

FOUR PITCHERS FIGURE IN BASEBALL CIRCUS

Barney Joy, Elephantine Kanaka, Made a Monkey of and Is Taken Out in Middle of First-Kinsella Supersedes Gum in Ninth.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS Portland 7, San Francisco Los Angeles 7, Oakland 5.

Portland altpped home with it through the eye of a needle. It was one of those eld-time games of baseball, where the leather is just naturally pounded all over creation; where pitchers are knocked out of the box by the handful and passes are presented to nearly everybody in the game; where even the outfielders drop easy flies at critical moments; where now one side and now the other is ahead, and all the people howl all the time.

All the time was a very long time yesterday-two hours and 25 minutes. The battle lasted 11 rounds, ending finally in the middle of the eleventh, when the Sea a' center fielder, Nick Williams, dropped an easy fly and let Lev-ett romp home and tally the winning run. There were times in the ninth when the fans groaned between their yells, for it looked as if history were about to repeat itself and that the Beavers would lose for the "steenth"

How Barney Pared.

Four pitchers figured in the circus. One was Barney Joy, the elephantine Hawaifan. But Barney didn't figure very long. The first stone he heaved was put in a safe pocket by Mister Shinn, and after that he didn't heave any near the spot where business could be transacted with them. When he had walked Lovett, Casey and Bassey in succession, he was motioned to the hench and Henley was put in his place. Henley was unsteady himself. He sent McCredie along the same way the others had gone, forcing in Shinn. Lovett would have scored, too, but Casey had got him out by dancing away toward first before the fourth hall had ward first before the fourth ball had been called. Lovett had trotted toward second and and been caught by Mohler. Casey scored in the first also on a wild throw by Esola.

Visitors Even Se The visitors came right back in the second and evened the score. Street rapped out a double and Murphy walked. went out on a foul tip, then both Street and Murphy came home on Henley's safe swat.

Portland Portland got a couple more before the end of the inning. Carson walked, took second on Gum's bunt hit, third on Shim's sacrifice and home on Lovett's fielder's choice. Gum scored on Casey's Beavers increased their lead one more. McCredie was the man. He took first on a beautiful bunt, went to third on a muffed grounder by Wheeler and scored on Donahue's hit against the center

'Frisco scored once in the fourth and once in the fifth, and 5 to 4 was the way matters stood until the crowd began to leave in the ninth. Trisco Gets Busy.

With one man out the Seals suddenly got busy. Henley hit safe and Mohler followed with a two-swat. Hildebrand hit an easy one and Henley tried to score, but was caught. Two out and no score. Then Gum was put out of the box and Kinsella substituted. It didn't do any good. Wheeler killed the ball and Mohler and Hildebrand came home. Six to five in favor of the visitors and there the fans groaned. But Casey was there with the big hit and it was six all. Two more in-nings at high tension, but no score. Lovett began the second half of the eleventh with a double and went to third on Casey's sacrifice. Bassey and McCredle were walked in succession in the vain hope that a double play might save the iming. It might have, but Williams dropped the easy fly, Lovett crossed the rubber and Portland had captured her first game at home. The official scorer talks thus: PORTLAND.

UNIFORM AUTOMOBILE LAWS SEEM PROBABLE

Everything is moving favorably toward the federal bill, requiring uniformity of state automobile laws, being reted to the house of representatives by the judiciary committee next September. If the American Automobile assobe the greatest boon ever bestowed upon motorists and will constitute an enduring monument to the organization. The act will benefit all motorists and those who accept the benefit without having contributed by at least taking out a $2 membership, should feel like pretty small potatoes. The influence of the A A. A. is due largely to the moral force of numbers and every automobile owner should be moved by self-respect to be a member. The new offices of Secretary F. H.
