

Oregon Daily Journal

Journal Circulation Sunday Was 26,841

A Little Ad in THE JOURNAL Brings Results. Costs Only One Cent a Word.

The Weather—Showers tonight; Tuesday fair and warmer.

VOL. VI. NO. 64.

PORTLAND, OREGON, MONDAY EVENING, MAY 20, 1907.—FOURTEEN PAGES.

PRICE TWO CENTS. ON TRAINS AND NEWS STANDS, FIVE CENTS

CHANGE OF VENUE ASKED BY SCHMITZ

Mayor Escapes Elisor and Feels Greatly Relieved—Defense to File Answer

Pale and Nervous, Accused Executive Appears in Court for Trial of Five Indictments That Charge Extortion From French Restaurants—Case Goes Over

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, May 20.—Pale and palpably nervous, Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz appeared in court this morning for trial on five indictments charging him with extortion from French restaurants.

PRESIDENT GUARDED EVEN IN THE WOODS

(Journal Special Service.) Scottsville, Va., May 20.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their son Kermit are commencing for a week's outing at Pine Knot, the Virginia place of Mrs. Roosevelt in the Albemarle county woods.

BODY HUNG BY NECK FROM DOOR

Robert Rexford, Hawthorne Avenue Tailor, Kills Himself—Tied Shawlstrap Around Neck and Then Jumped Off Box.

Robert Rexford, a tailor 50 years of age and commonly known as "Umbrella Bob," was found dead in his place of business, 406 1/2 Hawthorne avenue, this morning.

THE OLDEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD, 120 YEARS OLD TODAY

MRS. C. B. REYNOLDS AGED 77 YEARS DAUGHTER.

COPYRIGHT PHOTOS BY G. PUTNAM.

GOULD IN LOVE WITH ACTRESS

Millionaire Anxious to Secure a Divorce So That He Can Wed His Latest Charmer, a Foot-light Favorite.

LANE FILES HIS ACCEPTANCE

Petition as Independent Nominee for Mayor Goes on Record—Prominent Business Men of Both Parties Sign Papers

Mayor Lane has filed his acceptance of the independent nomination conferred upon him by his nonpartisan friends throughout the city and accordingly will be on the ticket both as an independent and democratic candidate for the office of mayor.

120TH BIRTHDAY SPENT IN RECEIVING CALLERS

Mary Ramsey Woods Still in Full Possession of Her Faculties at Greatest Age Attained by Living Mortal—Many Presents Received From Friends.

About the time that the American colonies realized the necessity of federation, while the United States constitution was as yet unwritten and the nation still unborn, there came into the world on a farm near Knoxville, Tennessee, a girl baby who was destined to witness the marvelous changes that have since transformed the world and to survive out of the old time into ours.

CHICAGO FURNITURE MEN FINED $41,500 FOR FORMING TRUST

Special Dispatch to The Journal. Chicago, May 20.—The federal court today sentenced 18 constituent members of the local furniture trust to pay an aggregate of $41,000 for conspiracy in restraint of trade.

PREPARING ROAST FOR HARRIMAN

Lane Putting Pepper into President's Speech Against Harriman—Report of Commerce Attorneys Not Strong Enough

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, May 20.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin K. Lane is reported to be busy revising the report of Special Attorneys Severance and Kellogg on the Harriman roads, by special direction of the president.

The Week's Advertising Record

The week just closed shows another busy advertising week—The Journal and the Oregonian both carrying over 11,000 inches.

Table with 3 columns: Journal, Oregonian, Telegram. Rows include Local advertising, Foreign advertising, Classified and Real Estate.

The demand for advertising space in The Journal has made it necessary for The Journal to enlarge its mechanical facilities. At the present time it happens that two or three times during the week and usually every Sunday from three to ten columns of advertising presented for publication is left out.

ORCHARD IS USING RELIGION IN PLAYING SOME DEEP GAME

Prisoner's Manner Suggests No Impediment of Mercy Between Him and His Ends—Quite a Materialist, Even in His Conversion—Change of Mind Concrete and Not Spiritual—Is Sleek and Well-Fed

(By Hugh O'Neill, Special Commissioner of the Portland Journal and the Denver Post.)

Boise, Idaho, May 20.—"Call another juror." The never-ending monotony of the court's order to the clerk opened the Haywood trial in the court room at Boise this morning as another juror was dismissed.

It is all quite clearly insincere. A legal fiction based upon the impossible assumption that any living man could ever consider any debatable question with a mind absolutely free of bias, ignorant of every conceivable fact, untouched by any preconception.

The "conversion" of Orchard is so flagrantly phyllophagous, it was not my business when I saw Orchard on Thursday to express any personal opinion upon his sincerity, upon his character, or upon the actual motives underlying his attitude.

Dean Hinks believes profoundly in that conversion. He says that he has seen a life of great and cruel crime often do penance. He resents the opinion of Dooley that "A man never repents while he has the strength."

Orchard, it seems, has confessed to the good dean. He has written an autobiography of sorts, too, a something that covers two volumes. When Orchard gives his testimony that testimony will, the dean thinks, stagger humanity.

For the real brand in denunciation of gambling and gamblers, the violent, vociferous variety, listen to the recent employment refusal to disclose. However, learn just how wicked a place it is and just how crooked the management is.