

BUILD PAPER MILL IN BANDON

Plant Costing Quarter Million Will Be Erected at Mouth of Coquille River—Eastern Capital Backs Project

A $250,000 pulp and paper mill for manufacturing high grade white paper is the newest prize captured by the city of Bandon at the mouth of the Coquille river. The citizens are raising $250,000 to be augmented by $200,000 of eastern capital. The mill will manufacture paper from white cedar and alder by a new process.

M. C. Bingham of Portland who returned yesterday from the Coquille region, said: "There is great activity in building and increasing of business and population in the Coquille valley. The people of Bandon are entitled to much credit for the enterprise they are showing. At the J. H. Price & company shipyard three ships are on stocks, and will be completed within a short time. All are steam schooners, and will run in the lumber trade."

One has a lumber carrying capacity of 800,000 feet, and will go to Gray's Harbor. Another of 500 tons register has been chartered for 10 years by the Cody Lumber company, of Bandon. A third, of 350 tons register, will run lumber from Bureka to San Francisco, and bring back general cargo. The Price company has contracts for two more similar vessels. Mr. Price has offered to build a vessel for the Portland-Coquille run at actual cost.

Growth of business at Bandon is shown by the record of the Bandon woolen mills. If these mills did not get another order this year they would now have enough orders on hand to run until the first of next January. A single order from Detroit, Michigan, is for 135,000 of one grade of cloth.

"It is not pretty good for a small concern away out here on the Pacific coast, I would like to know," said Mr. Bingham, proudly. "The woolen mill people have just put in 500 new spindles. They will shortly increase their force and run the mill night and day, employing altogether about 70 men."

New Mills Being Built. Johnson & Lyons, two local young men, are completing a new sawmill of 75,000 feet daily capacity on the Coquille river three miles above Bandon. All the equipment is new throughout.

L. M. White, a physician at Palouse, Washington, returned yesterday to Portland from Bandon, where he purchased property and will erect a hospital. It is said by Bandon people that their harbor, and resources equal those of any point on the Oregon coast. The Coquille river is navigable for lumber vessels to Riverport, 18 miles above Bandon. There is a deep channel, accessible on both sides of the river for vessels.

The bar has a depth of more than 18 feet at low tide. The tide ordinarily at the mouth of the river is eight feet and the full moon tide is 10 1/2 feet. Good progress is being made with the movement to build a vessel for the Portland-Coquille run.

BONILLA RETIRES FROM POLITICS

Exiled President of Honduras Will Not Fight Longer for Control.

(Journal Special Service.) New Orleans, La., May 20.—General Manuel Bonilla, exiled president of Honduras, arrived here this morning. General Bonilla is in bad shape physically and his eyes require immediate treatment. He will remain here until Thursday, when he will sail for Belize, British Honduras.

In the course of an interview General Bonilla emphatically disclaimed all the warlike intentions attributed to him in interviews sent out from Galveston. "I am going to Belize to resume the quiet and peaceful life of a planter," he said. "I have not the slightest intention of ever again mixing up in the politics of Honduras. I realize that I am unable to hold the forces of that country together and that there is a large number of traitors and adventurers who are totally unreliable in the army, and after my recent experience with them I am done. I have no more political ambitions, and all I ask is to be let alone in the peaceful pursuits of life."

"I lived in Belize many years before taking up the leadership of the revolution which resulted in my becoming president of Honduras. I started to do it in that office, but in the manner in which I have been treated shows that it was useless, and I will have nothing more to do with politics in Honduras."

ORCHARD IS USING EXAMINING JURORS

Betting at Boise Is Eight to Five on Disagreement.

(Journal Special Service.) Boise, Idaho, May 20.—With half a hundred witnesses for the prosecution on hand, both prosecution and defense compelled to resort to peremptory challenges to remove from the jury box obnoxious veniremen, the third week of the Haywood murder trial began this morning. The third week promises to develop sensations. When the court recessed today the prosecution had five and the defense six peremptory challenges left and it is plain that both sides intend to be very chary in using these.

When the court reconvened the defense took up the examination of T. C. De Chere, who has already been accepted by the prosecution as number five. Before the day is over Judge Wood will excuse Juror Over Cole, who was eminently satisfactory to both sides, but whose physician has filed a certificate that his health unfit him from serving.

In sporting circles bets are freely offered at 8 to 5 that the jury will disagree. So far no one has offered to take the short end of the wager. A personal encounter between one of the detectives here to testify for the prosecution and one of the defense's witnesses occurred today, but it was quickly stopped with honors even.

Dechere was subjected to a severe cross-questioning by Attorney Darrow, who finally excused him for bias. Half a dozen veniremen were then examined, but an unsuccessful effort to fill the vacancy.

Frank Marcellus, prospective juror-man, caused a laugh by declaring that he had no interest in learning who killed Steuener. The questions by the state attorneys confirmed the impression that the juror-man fears it will be impossible to secure direct evidence to confirm Orchard's story, and it will be forced to rely upon circumstantial evidence.

cent opera's fund fair in the Metropolitan opera house he and she were frequently together, both of them riding to and from the fair in the same automobile. He is considered a handsome and striking figure. Her brother is quoted as saying that as soon as Gould and his wife are divorced, this actress will be married to Gould.

The knowledge that Gould is desirous of a divorce so that he may contract a marriage with the woman who has supplanted her in his affections, is said to be one reason why Mrs. Gould will ask only for separation with alimony, and not for absolute sundering of matrimonial ties.

It is understood that her suit will go to the referee and publicity in regard to her evidence will thus be avoided. It is said that Mrs. Gould wants $12,000 per month alimony, while Gould is unwilling to pay her more than $6,000.

PREPARING ROAST

dent regards highly, is given the task of injecting vitriol into the attorneys' report.

Harriman is an ogre in the eyes of the administration. It is for Lane to paint him in all his alleged villainous attributes as a picaresque adventurer among the peaceful fleets of commerce. Lane gave an inkling of his command of vigorous Anglo-Saxon Latin when he wrote a report on car shortage, and his declaration at that time that less stock manipulation and more reroading would result in better transportation service, gave pleasure to the president.

Since then Harriman has given added evidence of Napoleonic financial expedients by announcing that he would issue $111,000,000 of new stocks on convertible bonds of the Union and Southern Pacific to pay for the securities of other roads already purchased. This is looked on by the administration as a fresh contribution by Harriman for his funeral pyre.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her. The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N.Y. She writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation. Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

PROGRESS OF CITY IS IN HANDS OF VOTERS

Charter Amendments for Improvements Should Be Accepted at June Election.

NEW CONDITIONS MUST MEET GREAT GROWTH

Issuance of Bonds Will Augment the Expansion of Portland's Interests—Intelligent Vote Needed to Cross Ballots Correctly.

The extraordinary growth of Portland in the last three years has its sequel in the ballot that will be placed in the hands of the voters at the June election. These voters are up against the plain question of keeping up with the progress of the city, which they will determine whether or not the city is to take care of its increasing responsibilities.

The issuing of bonds to raise funds for immediate improvements or enlargements of a city's facilities is done on the theory that the newcomer and the man who is to come thereafter may help pay for the improvement. On this theory Portland can well afford to issue bonds for legitimate improvements at the rate of many thousands per annum. In fact it is the growth of population and business that has rendered it imperative to have more water service, more docks, more parks, fire protection, more and better street pavements, more schools and churches, more streetcars and more arc lights.

City and Business Doubled. Since 1900 Portland's population has more than doubled. The earnings of its water works have doubled. Its post-office receipts, in 1904, $353,253, will in 1907, jump to nearly $1,000,000. In 1902 this was a city with 3,175 telephone instruments. Today it uses more than 20,000 instruments of the old company, and in addition has taken on a new automatic system, with underground wires.

Since 1900 Portland has added more than $65,000,000 worth of buildings, according to the record left by permits issued at the city hall. It is not unreasonable, therefore, that the taxpayers are at this time confronted by a necessity for more public service facilities. They can afford to furnish them, for their property has in the same period increased in value in the same ratio that the city has grown.

The Good and the Bad. The problem for the voter who takes up his ballot is to determine what are the good propositions and what are the ones to be rejected. It is important to vote against the bad, but still more important not to reject the good.

Portland needs municipal docks. With completion of the government jetty and the Cello canal, deep sea shipping and river business will enormously increase. Water frontage between Fulton and St. Johns will become correspondingly expanded and hard to get. The present time is a good time for the city to invest $500,000 in acquiring municipal docks, or at least water frontage where docks can be built in future.

The ballot on this question reads, $500,000 of dock bonds to be authorized for the purchase of land for docks and construction and improvement of public docks to be owned by the city of Portland, by an amendment to section 118 of the city charter of Portland to be amended. "The wise voter will put a cross in front of the word 'yes.'"

Two Bad Measures. The proposition to vote $3,000,000 for an additional pipe line from Bull Run, to purchase land for reservoirs, and to install a water meter system, might under a clearly drawn ordinance be a proper thing for the voter to accept. But the measure is not a good one. It is loosely constructed and permits of various interpretations.

In its present form the results would be mixed, and more injustice than benefit would probably follow. The proposal

NO EXTENSION OF RAILROAD TICKETS

Sickness or Accidents Make Your Tickets No Good to You.

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, May 20.—Under the new rule adopted by the Western Passenger association persons who have purchased tickets must fall ill at their own expense. The association has decided to cancel its former rule regarding the extension of tickets for passengers on account of sickness, delayed trains or other legitimate reasons. This means that only the tickets are purchased and the responsibility of the road ends beyond its usual care in conveying passengers to their destination within the time specified only.

The rescinding of this rule follows a decision by the interstate commerce commission to the effect that "tickets sold at reduced rates, to be used within a limited period, should not be extended because of sickness or other misfortune." The commission explained that while this rule seemed harsh, it was plain that the contrary ruling would open the door to "imposition and evasion."

To this ruling the railroads have added the item regarding trains delayed by accidents, strikes or other matters over which they have no control.

MOBS STONE CARS IN INDIANA CITY

Troops May Be Ordered Out to Quell the Rioting in Evansville.

(Journal Special Service.) Evansville, Ind., May 20.—The street car strikes situation last night became very serious and the company announced that if the police authorities do not give immediate assurances that adequate protection will be furnished it will appeal for state militia. It is apparent that the police are powerless. Mobs collected at points where there were no officers stationed and stoned, beat, mugged and wrecked property. Several employees were badly beaten by hoodlums who pass under the title of "sympathizers." Efforts were made to operate cars, but every movement was marked by violence. The company abandoned all cars and an extra guard was thrown around the barns.

President Boese of the board of public safety has called an emergency meeting for this afternoon, when measures for protection and coping with the lawless elements will be discussed and a line of action decided upon.

The strike affords fine opportunity for thugs along the river front and they are flocking in from other cities to aid in the disorder. The company demands that police be sent on every car, but this is impossible as there are not enough patrolmen. All the business interests will be represented at the conference and it is likely that the state will be asked for troops to bring about order. Local authorities have shown themselves unable to handle the situation.

TACOMA FIGURING ON GRAVITY WATER SYSTEM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., May 20.—It costs Tacoma just 3 1/2 cents for every 1,000 gallons of water pumped from the wells south of the city. Mayor Wright thinks it is too much and many of the councilmen agree with him. The engineers are now making figures on a gravity supply from Green river, the intake of which will be far up in the Cascade mountains. This gravity system will cost $2,900,000. The administration officials say that counting $100,000 a year for interest on the gravity system bonds and another $100,000 for depreciation of the plant the cost of securing water on this plan will be but half a cent per 1,000 gallons, against the 3 1/2 cents the city is now paying.
