Letters From Executives Whose Do- main Does Not Touch Mississippi River Are Held in Highest Esteem by Roosevelt.

Beef, Standard Oil, Tobacco, Paper, Harvester, Fertilizer, Powder, Tur- pentine and Other Trusts Have Made Outlay Necessary.

Prosecuting Attorney Virtually Sup- planted by Special Prosecutors Who Are Conducting Case—How It Looks to the Defense.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, May 20.—President Roosevelt has accepted an invitation from the governors of Florida and Oregon, both of whom, although the states of which they are governors are not on the Mississippi river, show their realization of the enormous importance of improving this great national highway and its importance in affording one of the best possible methods of regulating railway rates. Others of the governors who have written me dwell upon the fact that the people of the west feel a peculiar interest in the object of the improvement, not only of the Mississippi, but of other navigable rivers fitted to be public highways of commerce. The basin of the Mississippi taken as a whole constitutes the greatest agricultural empire that men ever cultivated and an equally great system of these water highways is needed to supply any inadequacy of land carriage of products of this region.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, May 20.—Trust investigations and prosecutions are making Uncle Sam pull up his jeans. The cost of special counsel makes the biggest hole. Within the last four years the department of justice has paid out over $270,000 for this purpose. Some of the sums are as follows:
Beef trust, $48,000; Standard Oil (in court), $45,000; tobacco trust (under investigation), $42,000; paper trust (concluded), $20,000; harvester trust (under investigation), $30,000; fertilizer trust (in court), $15,000; coal and oil carrying railroad (under investigation), $10,000; powder trust (under investigation), $7,000; turpentine trust, $25,000; fines paid the government, $50,000.

(By George H. Shoaf, of the Appeal to Reason.)
Boise, Idaho, May 20.—With the exception of one or two incidents, in which gun men, hired by the Colorado Mine Owners' association, featured, Sunday in Boise saw no new developments in the Haywood trial. The attorneys on both sides worked all day on the famous case, conferring with their agents respecting the character and career of the generally regarded the history and connections of the tale men yet unexamined.

"Let me say a special word of appreciation of the invitations which come from the governors of Florida and Oregon, both of whom, although the states of which they are governors are not on the Mississippi river, show their realization of the enormous importance of improving this great national highway and its importance in affording one of the best possible methods of regulating railway rates. Others of the governors who have written me dwell upon the fact that the people of the west feel a peculiar interest in the object of the improvement, not only of the Mississippi, but of other navigable rivers fitted to be public highways of commerce. The basin of the Mississippi taken as a whole constitutes the greatest agricultural empire that men ever cultivated and an equally great system of these water highways is needed to supply any inadequacy of land carriage of products of this region.

There are almost a dozen investigations which have cost a pretty penny, but they are of less importance. Big money had to be paid for special counsel to get proper results.
Kellogg and Morrison, who are paid about $12,000 a year each, are devoting a great part of their time to the work. Judge McReynolds, former assistant attorney-general, who has charge of the tobacco trust investigation, is devoting his entire time to it. He is paid $16,000 a year.

Witnesses, too, who expect to testify on either side were talked with and given their instructions as to how they should conduct themselves on the stand. It is plain that no stone will be left unturned by the lawyers engaged in the defense and prosecution of Haywood to acquit or convict him. Every lawyer and agent connected with either side is straining his utmost, but none of them will stand a newspaper interview concerning their operations.

"Unless something unforeseen occurs to make me alter my plans, I intend to accompany the members of the inland waterways commission on a three or four days' trip at the beginning of October. I feel that the problems before the commission concern vitally not only the people of the Mississippi valley, but the people of our entire country, and anything I can do to help forward the rapid solution of these problems and the proper utilization of our great waterways I am glad to do.

This is not as high proportionately as was paid under the Knox administrations. D. W. Watson of Ohio got $10,000 for one argument in the Northern Securities case, Hudson and Harmon of Ohio got $5,000 each for their work on the Santa Fe rebating cases. When they found they could not indict Paul Morton they drew out of the case.

Prosecutor Supplanted.
In ordinary criminal cases the prosecuting attorneys, while generally attempting to do their best, make no special effort to convict the prisoner charged with crime. Not so with the present case. In fact the regular prosecuting attorney, O. M. Vanduyne, whose duty it is to take the initiative, has been practically put aside, and the best and most experienced criminal lawyers in the northwest have been given charge of the prosecution. In ordinary criminal cases the person being tried is presumed innocent until he is proved guilty of the crime. At least the prisoner is given the benefit of the doubt by the state's attorneys. Haywood, however, is being prosecuted with a vengeance by United States Senator W. E. Borah and Attorney James H. Hawley, that finds no parallel unless it be found in those extraordinary cases in the south where negro brutes are arraigned. This attitude of the attorneys engaged in prosecuting Haywood is particularly noticeable and is the subject of considerable comment among the court spectators.

SAD ENDING OF AN OLD SOLDIER AT PRINEVILLE

John Prior, a Town Character, Burns to Death in Shack Where He Lived Alone.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Prineville, Or., May 20.—John Prior, aged 64, a veteran of the civil war, who lived alone in a shack on the edge of town, was burned to death at midnight last night. The origin of the fire, which consumed his house, is unknown, but it is probably due to the careless use of matches or the accidental overturning of a lamp.
Prior had served in the First Connecticut light artillery in 1861, at the age of 18. He was a native of Ireland and combined all the attributes of a patriot. He was for many years one of the town's characters. He earned his living at odd jobs and the townspeople were generous to him, for despite a certain tendency toward habitual intemperance, he was always bubbling with merriment and goodwill to all. He was noted for the everyday use of a set of original expressions and was always an object of interest to strangers. He leaves as his little estate the lot on which his house stood. He had no known relatives in this country.
The remains of Prineville will give the charred remains of the poor old unfortunate a burial such as is seldom accorded one of so lowly a station.

DORRIS TELLS JURY HE KILLED BY ACCIDENT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Enterprise, Or., May 20.—In the Dorris murder case the defense is still engaged in examining witnesses. The defendant has testified and has apparently made a good impression with the jury. Part of his testimony which related to the shooting of Simms was to the effect that he was afraid Simms, being a much larger man than himself, would seriously beat him, and that he pulled the pistol from his pocket for the purpose of giving notice to Simms that he intended to defend himself from his assault, when the pistol was discharged accidentally.

SOCIALISTS IN MEETING

Socialists in Boise, local and visiting, met last night and quietly discussed the situation. Several persons present related experiences they have had during the last several days with armed thugs whose actions were such that they plainly invited hostilities. One man said that he was standing near a street corner, waiting for a car, when two rough-looking men, who afterward turned out to be Colorado gun men, approached and in a loud voice began to revile socialism and unionism, declaring that anybody who embraced or advocated either should be run out of the country. Another socialist got up and said that he was roundly abused by one of the courtroom guards Friday for no purpose whatever, that the guard actually started to draw his revolver saying at the time that he had a notion to shoot on general principles, and that in order to prevent a fight and possibly a killing, he, the socialist, was compelled to make a hot-foot from the place.

SHOT MAN SUSPECTED OF DEFAUDING HIM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Astoria, Or., May 20.—News has been received here that an Italian whose name is not learned who was working for Erickson and Peterson, the contractors on the Ilwaco Railroad & Navigation company's extension near McGowan, Washington, had been shot by William Black, a saloonkeeper of Ilwaco, Washington. Black has been in the habit of cashing time checks for the men working on the grade. On presenting a number of checks at a bank he had found several of them had been raised and he was defrauded out of nearly $300. Warrants were issued for the arrest and two men were arrested at Chinook yesterday afternoon. Black, who was arrested yesterday, met one of the alleged check raisers and at once pulled his gun and shot at the man, wounding him, it is said, fatally. Black is now under arrest. He will have a preliminary examination at Chinook.

PEACE PROGRAM ADOPTED

Many stories similar to these were told by other socialist speakers. At the conclusion of the meeting it was regarded as the consensus of opinion among those present that for the sake of peace and the welfare of the federation leaders no action should be taken against the detectives and gun men, either collectively or individually, and that on the other hand every socialist in Boise and Ada county shall do his best to observe the law and keep his temper.
W. D. Haywood, the defendant, spent a quiet day. Attorney Darrow conferred with him two hours in the afternoon and his wife visited him for an equal length of time. His morning hours were spent in exercise and reading his mail. Mrs. Pettibone, wife of George A. Pettibone, was unable to visit the jail account of the illness of Mrs. Moyer, wife of Charles H. Moyer, has been confined to her room in a local hospital nearly four weeks.
Save for the activities of the attorneys and agents interested, and the detectives, gun men and a few unionists, society and newspaper men, very few people in Boise are taking any apparent interest in the case. Apparently Boise residents refuse absolutely to talk about the affair. Citizens come and go and attend to their business or enjoy their pleasures as if there were no such thing as a labor war or existence of a Haywood trial going on.

ORDER OF OWLS FIGHTS RIVAL BUNCH OF HOOTERS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Spokane, Wash., May 20.—There is a big owl fight on here. The Order of Owls is fighting the Brotherhood of Owls, claiming that after it had been organized the latter order got its constitution and organized the same kind of lodge with a slightly different name. It is claimed the workings of the two orders are almost exactly alike. Through their supreme organizer the Order of Owls has brought suit against the Brotherhood of Owls for $25,000 damages.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Today is devoted to receiving the members of the grand lodge and visitors at the Pythian temple, which was last week given the finishing touches for the occasion.
The chief feature of the convention will be the dedication of this temple, which is one of the best buildings erected in the northwest by the fraternal organizations. Seven or eight companies of the uniform rank will appear in the parade that will open the grand lodge tomorrow morning. The ceremonial of El Mabarras, O. O. K. KELSO VOTES BONDS FOR A NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kelso, Wash., May 20.—The "Kelso spirit" was again demonstrated Saturday when the special school election called to vote the proposition for bonds for a new schoolhouse. There was so much talk of opposition that the progressive people of the town turned out en masse and carried the measure by the overwhelming majority of 175 to 67. This is nearly twice as large as any vote heretofore cast in Kelso at a school election. The Kelso schools have made great progress this year and the people of the place are resolved that good school facilities shall be provided so that there may be no abatement of the good work and that Kelso may soon have the best schools in Cowlitz county.
Bonds were voted in the sum of $9,500. Construction will begin as soon as school is out, June 1. The board has already prepared plans for a thoroughly modern school building with all needed high school facilities.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Spokane, Wash., May 20.—August Isle's big $10,000 deposit with the city as a guarantee that he would do certain sewer work was forfeited Saturday because he failed to comply with the contract in beginning the work. He may bring suit in an attempt to recover it.
