

MONTAGUE REPLIES TO CAKE'S OPEN LETTER

Throws Javelin at Republican Leader for Refusing to Arrange a Joint Debate of Mayorality Candidates—North End Support Again Brought Up—Conceded to Devlin.

W. M. Cake, chairman of the Republican City Committee, is handed a hard jolt by R. W. Montague in answer to the open letter sent to Mr. Montague Saturday night. Mr. Cake wrote an answer to the challenge sent by Mr. Montague for an open debate between Mr. Devlin and Dr. Lane and declined to pick up the gauntlet. In it he made some sarcastic statements, which are answered by Mr. Montague today. The letter follows:

"Hon. W. M. Cake, Chairman Republican City Committee—Dear Sir: The grounds which you assign for the delay in answering my proposal for a joint debate having been frankly denominated an excuse by you we will cheerfully accept them as such, merely noting our regret that not even an excuse is forthcoming for the omission to answer our proposal for publication of election accounts—of which more hereafter.

"At present we wish only to submit a suggestion or two in correction of certain errors or misapprehensions into which (with deference) we think you have fallen. You complain that the attempt has been made, implicitly by ourselves or the distinguished advocates of our cause, to identify the Republican party with north end and disreputable characters.

"In truth the matter stands quite otherwise. It is a perfectly indisputable fact that north end and disreputable characters in great numbers, practically the entire political element known as the north end, is energetically opposing Dr. Lane's reelection. They are doing this for the reason that the policy and practice of his administration has been injurious to their interests. They are all for Mr. Devlin and formed an important factor in his vote at the primaries as well as in his present support.

"It seems too obvious for argument, therefore, that it is those who are attempting to ally the Republican party with this element who are really seeking to identify that party with north end and disreputable characters, and not those, like ourselves, who are urging all good citizens, Republicans and Democrats alike, to set themselves against and not with these elements which have no interest in government save to protect them against the law, and know no loyalty but to the interests they serve. And we agree with you cordially that this attempt will be resented by the Republican party on the third day of June.

"There only remains a matter of minor importance. You say that you refuse to take issue in the alternative plainly expressed in our letter of the exercise of unjust, secret and improper influences. Being well conversant with the English language you know, of course, that our letter does not mean to say, or otherwise, any such alternative of action as you suggest. It positively does declare the contrary. But we will agree with you here again thus far: that you certainly will not join us in the exercise of unjust, secret or improper influences, since, if such as are used, it shall be by yourselves alone.

"In the hope that the respective candidates for whom we are laboring may meet with the success they deserve, we remain, very sincerely,
"RICHARD W. MONTAGUE, Chairman.
"C. A. AMBROSE, Secretary."

LOYAL HUSBAND RESIGNS PLACE BECAUSE WIFE REQUESTED IT

If all husbands showed as much deference for the wishes of their helpmeet as Frank A. Grimm, divorcee would be infrequent and "until death do ye part" would not be listed as a hollow mockery.

After passing the civil service examination for admission to the police department, duty was assigned to the first night relief, Grimm, who was one of the 14 patrolmen recently appointed, handed in his resignation to Chief Grizmacher this morning to take effect at once.

Grimm has been in the employ of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for some time and resides at 218 Monroe street. SAILORS ACCUSE PLAN HOSPITAL

MATE OF JOSIAH FOR EAST SIDE Construction Will Begin Soon on the New Homeopathic Institution.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., May 20.—Almost within the hour in which the waters of Commencement bay engulfed her 20-year-old son Saul yesterday morning, Mrs. McMartin dreamed he was drowned. Saul had signed for a voyage to the United Kingdom on the British bark Marion Josiah. Hurrying from her home at Seattle, the frantic mother reached the dock yesterday and there found her dream was a reality.

Along with the death of McMartin are unconfirmed charges against the first mate of the Josiah. Sailors who were aboard the ship when the boy was drowned and who were brought ashore yesterday state that when they attempted to jump overboard and save young McMartin they were swept back upon the deck by the first mate, who at the point of a gun commanded them to keep their places. This statement could not be in any degree confirmed, a number of sailors who had been for weeks on the ship waiting for her to sail were brought ashore and turned adrift.

Plans are being prepared in the office of Whidden & Lewis for the new East Side hospital, which is to be erected by the Portland Homeopathic Dispensary association. The proposed hospital building will occupy the block bounded by Multnomah, Hasall, East Second and East Third streets, with the main front on Multnomah street.

The plan calls for a 200 by 100-foot structure, four stories high, which will cost between $75,000 and $100,000. This building will contain the administration department and sufficient wards and private rooms for the present needs of the institution. Provision is made in the plans for the addition of two four-story wings, each 100-feet long, and a two-story structure, to be located on Hasall street. The block to be covered by the hospital is known as the Breyman homestead, and is now occupied by the Breyman residence, which will be retained and fitted up as a nurses' home.

Plans and specifications of the proposed building will be finished in about 30 days, when bids for its construction will be asked for. It is believed construction work will begin not later than July 1, but that it will probably be a year before the building is ready for occupancy.

HORSES STOLEN DURING NIGHT

As the result of the large number of horses that have been stolen during the past month the local authorities are firmly convinced that a well-organized band of horse thieves has their headquarters in this city. Several detectives have been working on the case for the past week, but so far have been unable to secure the slightest clue that would lead to the apprehension of the criminals. Reports are continually coming from outside towns of the operations of the gang, and it is believed that the crooks are disposing of their plunder in Washington.

ALL TACOMA JAPS SAY OMATO VERY BAD MAN

They Have Raised a Thousand for Defense on Trial, Which Begins Today.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., May 20.—The trial of M. Oriyama and T. Nakamura, the two Japanese who murdered their countryman, H. Omato, a month ago, came up for trial this morning at the Tacoma court house. The Japanese cheerfully admitted killing Omato, and accuse him of being a very bad man. The entire Japanese colony of Tacoma is strongly in sympathy with the self-confessed murderers and has raised a fund of $1,000 to clear the men.

Omato is alleged by respectable Japanese of the city to have been a dangerous man, extorting money from local Japanese and threatening them when they refused. Two years ago the police found Omato at a table with another Japanese whom he had tied by the wrists, and suspended from the ceiling, with his feet just touching the floor. Japanese of the city had secretly given information to the police of the torture to which the man was being subjected, and an investigation showed that Omato was trying to collect money he claimed the man owed him.

The ugly thing about the murder of Omato is that his body had seven bullet wounds in the back and seven knife wounds on the back of the head. The Japanese of the city feel relieved at his death.

NERVY BURGLAR CHASER SAVES POSTOFFICE SAFE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., May 20.—Two burglars who pried up a window and entered the Medical Lake postoffice building about 3 o'clock in the morning got it to blow the safe. J. F. Goldback, a merchant who lives over the store, was awakened by the noise. He took a gun and went through the store but saw nothing. He then opened the door and stepped into the street. He thought he heard iron striking iron but could not locate the sound, so he walked down the street and rapped a few times on every window, thinking to frighten any burglars who might be within. He succeeded. The burglars fled after having drilled five inches into the safe. Two inches more and they would have secured nearly $1,400.

NEW FIRE STATION FOR HOLLADAY AVENUE

A permit was granted this afternoon to the construction of a $7,200 two-story frame engine house on the corner of Grand and Multnomah avenues on the east side, and the contractors, Velguth & Piers, began work today. The new structure will be the headquarters for Station Chief Holladay, and will be the home of an engine company and a hose company. It will be completed within 90 days.

Chemical company No. 3, on Union avenue, will be disbanded upon the completion of the new engine house. The truck company on Holladay avenue between Union and Grand will then be moved to the house of engine company No. 7, on the corner of Third and East Pine. A new truck company will be stationed at the house of engine company No. 3, on Russell and Williams avenues, and the house of engine company No. 4, located at Highland, can be converted into an engine house, the fire fighting force across the river will number seven engines and two truck companies. Chemical company No. 4 will be moved to the volunteer fire house on Mississippi avenue.

Chief Campbell states that the district has grown too large to place so much dependence on the small chemical, hence the proposed changes.

LEBO FIRES FURILLADE OF QUESTIONS AT SECRETARY OF THE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

Laying of Cornerstone of Moughlin Institute Made Notable Event.

War is on in the ranks of the Union Labor party over the action of E. E. Lebo in refusing to file the Union Labor ticket on Saturday, thus throwing the party out of a chance to appear on the official ballot. Radding has come to the front with an explanation of his course of action, taking the ground that he refused to sign and file the petition because there were less than 100 people at the nominating convention.

Radding says that T. M. Lebo took charge of the nominating petition and acted in a mysterious manner in attempting to secure signatures. Radding also states that he has been an exponent of real labor ticket for a long time, but that the "self-styled leaders" have taken the matter into their own hands.

As another explanation, Radding states he took the question of the convention to the Building Trades Alliance and that the latter organization would take action against him for perjury should he certify to the ticket and place it on file.

Lebo makes answer to the statements of Radding and practically reads the names of the labor union ranks. Further investigation is being made of the case and action perhaps taken at a future meeting of the Union Labor party's central committee. The statement of Mr. Lebo, secretary of the committee, is as follows:

"I do not know that it is necessary to make an extended explanation regarding this matter, as the central committee of the labor party will no doubt make a thorough investigation. So far as Radding's statement is concerned, I have never asked for anything from the labor ranks and the position I now hold has been tendered voluntarily and unanimously.

"So far as this man Radding is concerned, I haven't the time or inclination to take him or his mouthings seriously. He has no standing in the bona-fide labor ranks of this city and his malice is a questionable quantity and quality ever since the Lewis & Clark fair. But we will let this pass.

GREAT DAY AT THE FALLS CITY HIS WIFE'S FACE

Enraged Husband of Mrs. Sadie Hengeveld Disfigures Her for Life.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, May 20.—Yesterday was the day that has long been looked for by the members of the St. John's church, as well as the citizens of the entire vicinity for some time past. The event was the laying of the cornerstone of the new Moughlin institute. Although the weather was somewhat cloudy and threatening rain a large crowd was present.

The services of the day began at an early hour, the first service being early mass, which a large number attended. At 10 o'clock second mass was held and those who attended had the fortune to hear Archbishop Christie, who delivered the sermon, and Father Sherman who delivered a short address. At about 11 o'clock the crowd began to gather about the platform constructed near the place of the corner-stone laying on which the speakers of the day were seated.

Father Hillebrand was the first to address the gathering and as he did so he spoke of the work that was now nearly completed and of how the thoughts of a short time ago had been brought to a realization. He spoke further of the speakers who were to deliver the addresses of the day and how it had given him great pleasure to ask these prominent men of Oregon to join in the services which were about to take place.

The first speaker introduced by Father Hillebrand was Mayor C. W. Caulfield of this city, who, he said, was the first person he became acquainted with when he came to this city some 19 years ago.

Other speakers were Grant Dimick, Judge McBride, Senator Geary, Father Sherman and Archbishop Christie.

STOP DISCRIMINATION AGAINST JEWISH RACE

Agitation Begun on Account of Actions of Hotel Management.

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, D. C., May 20.—Simon Wolf of Washington, one of the most prominent Jews in this country, has organized an agitation against hotels which discriminate against persons of Jewish faith or blood. Wolf is conducting his propaganda, as chairman of the board of directors of civil rights of the union of American Hebrew congregations. The board has members in all principal cities.

Wolf and other Jews have been aroused over the report that accommodations at the Marlborough-Blenheim hotel, at Atlantic City, for her two nieces, were refused to Mrs. Bertha Rayner, Frank of Baltimore, sister of Senator Isador Rayner, of Maryland, on the ground that they were Hebrews. Other information of alleged discrimination against Jews by hotel managers had been given to Wolf prior to the incident in which Mrs. Frank figured, and his letter to the board of directors asking action against this proscription was written several days prior to that. It was prompted by the advertisement of the Grand-Lodge hotel at Lake Sunapee, containing statements: "Hebrew patronage not solicited," and "Hebrews will not be received as guests."

LID LIKELY TO GO ON SPOKANE ANY MINUTE

Reform Administration First Wants to Be Sure It Has a Lid That Will Fit.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., May 20.—The first order from the reform mayor came Saturday night and was for all the varnishes and parasites to move on. The police were instructed to see that the order was enforced strictly.

About 9 o'clock Saturday evening Mayor Moore and Chief Rice, accompanied by Detectives Herndon and Briley, went through the two principal blocks populated from the underworld and visited the variety theatres and several other resorts, including certain saloons and noodle joints.

So far the saloons have not taken steps to remodel their methods of operation. They claim they will wait for the actual enforcement of the reform orders. Last night they had their women liquor bellies at work as usual.

The new officials, in order to determine where saloons are producing, codifying the laws and ordinances that speak to the matters deemed to be in need of reform. There are plenty of laws, among them enactments prohibiting the selling of liquor to minors, the keeping of women in saloons to sell liquor, prohibiting bootlegging, prohibiting the selling of liquor between the hours of 2 and 5 a. m., and to cap the whole thing, there is an ordinance giving the mayor the power to give any orders necessary to the peaceful welfare and safety of the people and city.

WHISTLING ALL RIGHT IN CHURCH, BAD IN CHAPEL

Ungodly Students Adopt Trick of Evangelist Who Scores Sunday Papers.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., May 20.—The Williamette university authorities would not tolerate Evangelist Hausenschild's methods of singing when introduced at chapel exercises this morning. Hausenschild is conducting revival services at the First Methodist Episcopal church and last night introduced whistling during the singing of the gospel hymns. Certain students believing it to be a good form to whistle at church it would be equally good at university chapel exercises, attempted it this morning but were requested to abstain, which they did. Hausenschild, although orthodox in his preaching, has resorted to dramatic gestures and attitudes to attract attention.

Last night he attacked Sunday newspapers and scored church members who read them.
