

FOR DREDGING IN COAST HARBORS

Government Will Build Hydraulic Dredge of the Columbia Type at Once.

ENGINEER ENGAGED TO DESIGN PROPOSED CRAFT

J. B. C. Lockwood Will Have Plans Ready Within Next Two Months, When Colonel Rosser, United States Engineer, Will Invite Bids.

The government will build a large section dredge of the same type as the Port of Portland dredge Columbia for use in the Oregon and Washington coast harbors.

The government is planning many improvements in the harbors along the coast of the Pacific northwest states and for this reason the dredge will be necessary.

In addition to this sea-going dredge will be built by the government for use at Astoria in place of the dredge W. S. Lead, which is about worn out.

BELIEVES MEN LOST

Captain of Steamer Hyndford Has No Hope for Volunteers.

Captain Horne of the British steamer Hyndford fears that the five men who left his vessel off Cape Horn September 11 in one of the steamer's lifeboats for the purpose of getting assistance to tow the disabled steamer into port lost their lives.

"I am afraid Chief Officer McLean and the four sailors who with him volunteered to endeavor to go to Punta Arenas for assistance found graves in the ocean," said Captain Horne this morning. "The Hyndford had been drifting about helplessly for days without a propeller, and one afternoon Chief McLean and four sailors volunteered to set out in a boat for assistance. They left us September 11, 37 miles off the entrance to the Straits of Magellan under fair weather conditions and thought they would make Punta Arenas without much trouble. A storm sprang up that afternoon and we never heard from the men. A few days later we spoke the German ship Emilie, from Portland for Copenhagen, and Captain Wilma kindly put into Frankland islands and reported us. A tug came out and towed the Hyndford into port."

BLAZE ON DREDGE

Fire Shoots Forth From Stack on the Portland.

Fire nearly destroyed the Port of Portland dredge Columbia late Monday night, according to a report filed by Superintendent Groves. No alarm was given because the crew of the boat hastened to extinguish the flames and they soon had the fire under control.

The fire was of peculiar origin and no one yet knows exactly how it started. The dredge was working as usual between the Morrison and Madison bridges pumping gravel from the river bottom into the east side mud flats, when suddenly a tongue of flame, fully 40 feet in length, leaped skyward.

SNAKE RIVER FALLING

Local Weather in Mountains Affects Height of Water.

The Snake river is now falling but the Columbia is rising slowly all along the line. Cooler weather has prevailed for several days in the mountains where the rivers secure their supply and this has had a tendency to check the melting of the snow.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

The steamer Alliance sails tonight for Coos Bay. The steamer Roanoke arrived from San Pedro and way ports this morning with 144 cabin and 45 storage passengers.

The Chinese junk Whang Ho is on the way up the river and will be in the local harbor tomorrow morning. She

CORPORATIONS PICKED COMMITTEE OF SEVEN

Rudolph Spreckels Gives His Reasons for Refusing to Recognize Business Men.

San Francisco, May 22.—That the "committee of seven" appointed by Mayor Schmitz, which he and Honey refused to recognize, was really selected by the corporate interests, though without the knowledge of the men themselves, is the opinion of Rudolph Spreckels as given out in an interview last night.

A MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

Gains 12 Pounds on Change of Food.

When a change in food can rebuild a man 77 years of age, it is evidence that there is some value in a knowledge that can discriminate in the selection of proper food to rebuild the body. A few months ago the physician attending a man 77 years old, told him that death from old age would soon claim him. He suffered from general weakness and debility.

An old lady advised him to quit coffee, drink Postum Food Coffee and eat Grape-Nuts food every morning. He took the advice and has gained 12 pounds, says he is as well as he ever was, and can take long trips in the mountains, which he had been unable to do for a long time.

There is a reason for this. In the first place, coffee acts as a direct nerve destroyer on many highly organized people, both young and old, and many people haven't the knowledge to select nourishing, healthful, rebuilding food.

Both Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts food are made from selected parts of the hard grains that contain delicate particles of phosphate of potash and albumen. These two elements combine in the human body to quickly rebuild the gray matter in the brain and in the nerve centers throughout the body.

Direct, sure and certain results come from their use and can be proven by any person that cares to make the trial. "There's a Reason for It." "The Road to Wellville," in packages.

WILD WITH DELIGHT

Large Audience Sees the Great Fer-Don Demonstrate His Remedies Again Last Night.

Fer-Don's Medical Experts Open Offices in Grand Theatre Building, Introducing New Treatments for Chronic Diseases.

MORE DEMONSTRATIONS TONIGHT

Wild with delight, a large audience at Twentieth and Washington streets last night saw the Great Fer-Don demonstrate again his marvelous remedies against the vanquishing of deafness and pain. Having heard reports of Monday night's work in this line, the people of our city turned out by hundreds to see the vanquisher of Fer-Don and what he was doing.

Before 8 o'clock when Fer-Don arrived at his free show grounds in his car, he witnessed the vanquishing of deafness. During his discourse he called for those persons suffering from deafness, rheumatism and other aches or pains to come upon his platform and find relief. So many came that it was found impossible to accommodate all, but enough remained to enjoy the results.

The demonstration in proof of the most skeptical-minded that Fer-Don possesses truly wonderful secrets. Jas. Cochran, address Rhineland hotel, Portland, addressed the vanquisher of deafness, the result of three days of neuralgia. Any one who has experienced the pangs of neuralgia can imagine Mr. Cochran's pleasure when the application of Fer-Don's Magic Relief entirely relieved the pain, and that in less than thirty minutes.

J. E. Weber, 1922 Kelly street, told in his own way how this medicine had helped him. One application brought relief. He had been suffering for twenty years with neuralgia. In fact, when the man stepped upon the platform he could not hear a sound on the other side of the building. He was rubbed with the oil Fer-Don stepped out from the stage about thirty feet. "Can you hear me?" he asked Mr. Weber, who had his other ear covered with his hand. A smile of joy illumined his face as he found he could, and his relief was quickly brought about, as was that of the others, and he stepped back into the audience a happier man than he had been for years, rejoicing in the fullness of this new-found benefit.

Others there were, and in every case success was met with. Can Fer-Don's remedies keep up the good work? He claims they can, and as the proof of the pudding lies in the eating thereof, our people will have ample opportunity for seeing for themselves, as Fer-Don promises these startling demonstrations nightly.

At 553 Washington street, in the Grand Theatre building, offices have been opened for the Fer-Don medical experts. These men having with them to Portland a number of new treatments for chronic diseases. They have made it their business to study in all parts of the country by their system of bloodless surgery, removing tumors, cancers, etc., without drawing blood. They have cured many cases of appendicitis without the use of a knife, and they claim it will positively cure any case where the pus has not formed in the hours. The work of this treatment will, without doubt, be watched with extreme interest. If any case where the reports have made it elsewhere, it will prove itself a marvelous improvement over old methods.
