

CONFEDERATES AT RICHMOND

Three Big Events Combined Today to Make Memorable Opening of Reunion.

OLD SOLDIERS GIVEN GOOD TIME BY CITIZENS

Grand Parade Leads Up to Crowning Feature of Day When Statue of General Stuart is Unveiled by His Grandchildren.

(Journal Special Service.) Richmond, Va., May 30.—Three big events combined to make memorable the opening of the seventeenth national reunion of the United Confederate veterans in this city. The first was the formal opening of the reunion this morning, the session being devoted to addresses by prominent veterans, the appointment of the necessary committees, and other business of a routine character.

The second event was a grand parade of veterans and military, leading up to the crowning feature of the day's program, the unveiling of the monument to General J. E. B. Stuart, the dashing cavalry leader of the Army of Northern Virginia.

The day began with the city filled with the largest crowd of visitors ever entertained in Richmond. During the whole of yesterday, last night and the early hours of this morning special and regular trains arrived at frequent intervals bringing to the city thousands of the men who wore the gray, together with their families, friends and other visitors. The crash of bands was to be heard in almost every street as the veterans were escorted to the quarters assigned to them.

The visitors have found the arrangements for their reception and entertainment of the most elaborate and perfect character. Hotels and boarding-houses are filled and scores of private homes have been thrown open for the accommodation of the veterans. The city is a mass of color, the decorations of flags and bunting being most elaborate throughout the business section.

General John W. Gordon was the chief marshal of the parade, which was the feature of the early afternoon. In the line were the survivors of the Veteran Cavalry Association of the Army of Northern Virginia, gray-headed veterans from every state of the south, members of the Sons of Veterans, the Confederate Monument association, the United Daughters of the Confederacy and various other organizations. The music of the bands, the waving of the torn and tattered battle flags, the rattle and clatter of the horses and the loud peals of the many marching veterans served to tint the procession with just enough martial color to make it form a fitting preliminary to the unveiling of the handsome bronze monument to the illustrious cavalry leader. The exercises of unveiling were opened with prayer by the Rev. Walter Q. Hullahen of Staunton, Virginia, who was a member of General Stuart's staff. The oration of the day was delivered by General Theodore E. Garnett, also a member of General Stuart's staff, and who was introduced to the assembled thousands by Major A. R. Venable Jr., another of General Stuart's staff, and who was with the general when he received his death wound. The unveiling ceremony was performed by Miss Virginia Stuart Water, escorted by Master J. E. B. Stuart, both grandchildren of General Stuart. Mayor McCarthy received the statue on behalf of the city of Richmond.

SPOKANE'S RATE BRIEF PREPARED

Alleges Combine of Coast Cities to Get Spokane's Business From Her.

HENCE GREAT NATURAL RESOURCES NULLIFIED

Asks Order to Compel Obedience to Law, Establish Rates Low as the Coast's, Equalize New York With Chicago and Preserve Ratio.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., May 30.—Spokane's attorneys have submitted a brief in their case before the interstate commerce commission. The substance of the document follows: The complainants, by their evidence, have proved that all interstate freight rates from points east to Spokane are in excess of the rates from the same points to Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and other western terminals, and that said rates should be reduced to such an extent that rates upon all commodities and all class rates will not exceed the same rates from any particular point east of Spokane to the cities of Portland, Tacoma and Seattle and other western terminal points. The brief says New York makes the same rate as Chicago to coast points, but that this rule does not always apply to shipments from New York to Spokane; on many commodities Chicago takes a lower rate than New York on shipments to Spokane. Coast Combine Alleged. Pacific coast merchants, it claims, get the same rate from New York as from Chicago in many instances, while Spokane is compelled to pay a consider-

KING EDWARD'S NEW YACHT IS LAUNCHED

(Journal Special Service.) Glasgow, May 30.—In the presence of an immense crowd of spectators the turbine yacht Alexandra, built for King Edward, was successfully launched today at the shipyards of A. & J. Inglis. The christening ceremony was performed by the Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll. The Alexandra is a steel craft of about 2,000 tons displacement and 4,500 indicated horsepower. She is 300 feet in length, 40 feet in breadth, and 38 feet in depth. The vessel is designed more with a view to comfort than to speed or show. It will contain a handsome pavilion room, smoking room, dining room and commodious quarters for the officers and attendants of the king. A novel feature will be two small tea houses which will have a clear view ahead and astern and over each side. An elegant stairway gives access to the bridge deck.

HONOR MEMORY OF PATRICK HENRY TODAY

(Journal Special Service.) Norfolk, Va., May 30.—Patrick Henry day was observed at the Jamestown exposition today and it proved the most successful of the special feature days celebrated at the exposition to date. The day was appropriately chosen for the celebration, it being the anniversary of the passage of Patrick Henry's famous resolution on the stamp act by the House of Burgesses. The exercises began at 11 o'clock this morning in Convention hall, which was filled to overflowing. The chief orators were ex-Governor W. E. Cameron and Hon. William J. Bryan. Governor Cameron spoke on "Patrick Henry: His Life and His Work for His Country," while the subject of Mr. Bryan's address was "Taxation Without Representation is Tyranny."
