

IF YOU IMAGINE that the "Want Ads" do not concern you personally, Read Them Today

The Weather—Sunday, fair and warmer; northwest winds.

Oregon Daily Journal

Journal Circulation Yesterday Was 28,675

VOL. VI. NO. 75. PORTLAND, OREGON, SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 1, 1907—TWO SECTIONS—18 PAGES. PRICE TWO CENTS. ON TRAINS AND NEWS STANDS, FIVE CENTS

STRAW VOTES INDICATE LANE'S ELECTION

RABBI WISE URGES ELECTION OF LANE

Interests of Good Government Demand Mayor's Reelection. Welfare of Portland at Stake. Set New Standard

The following is a personal letter received by a friend from the Rev. Stephen S. Wise, formerly rabbi of Congregation Beth Israel: "New York, May 22.—I am deeply interested, I need hardly say, in the coming mayoralty election. I rejoiced to learn that Mayor Lane had been renominated at the primaries without lifting a finger in his own behalf. I hope with all my heart that Mayor Lane may be triumphantly reelected. I am thinking not at all of Mayor Lane; I am thinking altogether of the best interests of the city of Portland and of the opportunity which the citizenship of Portland faces at the coming election to demonstrate that good government is not to be an experiment, but is to be permanently established.

"The defeat of Mayor Lane at this time would be a grave setback to the cause of municipal government in America. Mayor Lane has rendered noteworthy service to the city of Portland throughout the last two years. He has not been a Democratic mayor, but the mayor of a whole city, and I daresay that not even the most partisan Republican will venture to doubt for a moment that Mayor Lane's administration has set a new standard in the conduct of municipal affairs for future incumbents of the mayoral office.

"In all the years of my manhood I do not know of a mayor who has served the welfare of his city with larger devotion and wisdom than has Mayor Lane. If I were a citizen of Portland I would labor earnestly for his reelection, although, as you know, I am a Roosevelt Republican, Lane is a Roosevelt Democrat.

"I have no fear that Mayor Lane will fail of election. The electorate of Portland is too independent and discerning to fail to reward a faithful public servant. His defeat, which is unthinkable, would be tantamount to an invitation to partisanship to resume its domination of municipal affairs in Portland. We are fast reaching the time when men will be as little concerned about the national political affiliations of a candidate for municipal office as they are in the cut of his coat. I rejoice to think that Portland has already led the way.

"Time and again since I have come to New York I have spoken at public meetings of the almost unique political independence and integrity of the voters of Portland and Oregon. I know Portland so well and I love Portland so well that I feel assured that Mayor Lane will be reelected to the office the duties of which he has for two years discharged with fidelity, impartiality and integrity.

"STEPHEN S. WISE."

RABBI STEPHEN S. WISE.

HAWTHORNE IS FIRST IN RELAY RACE

Hundreds of Spectators Line Fourth Street and Cheer Runners as They Make the Final Sprint in Race From Oregon City.

Roy Flaherty, First Man in, Aids Team Mates in Lowering Record for Course by Three Minutes—Route Was Muddy.

- Winner—Hawthorne.
- Start—Oregon City.
- Finish—Y. M. C. A. building.
- Distance—13 miles.
- Time—One hour 19 minutes 29 seconds.

Six husky grammar school lads, each bearing a message to be relayed through the 13 miles of the race from the Oregon City bridge to the Y. M. C. A. building, dashed down the road at the crack of the pistol this morning at 11:30 o'clock. A few seconds past 12:27 o'clock Roy Flaherty carried the first message into the Y. M. C. A. rooms and with it the honors of the race for the Hawthorne school.

For four blocks up Fourth street hundreds of persons watched the painting runners as they completed the home stretch and it was with difficulty that the competing racers forced their way through the dense crowd that congregated at the finish.

The race this year was over the same course as that run last season when North Central was given the cup, but was completed in three minutes' better time. Last year's relay was finished in 1 hour 21 minutes and 24 seconds, but was run over a muddy course.

Start at Oregon City. Mayor Caulfield of Oregon City delivered the pastboard rolls bearing the messages to the waiting youngsters at the bridge this morning and a moment afterward six runners were stretching their necks in an effort to be first in completing the first relay. The starters were Hussey, Mount Taber; Hale, Hawthorne; Ashbaugh, Shattuck; Gandy, Higginson; Lincoln, Ainsworth; Penson, Atkinson.

Down the road for the first half mile a neck to neck race was in progress, then the breaths began to come faster and faster and the gaps between the various racers increased perceptibly. Ashbaugh won the first relay in six minutes but during the 12 relays following Hawthorne runners maintained first place until the race was completed. This was due to the long period of spring training which the latter have carried on in anticipation of the event.

Hawthorne Takes Lead.

The second relay was also completed in six minutes up a long steady grade and Hawthorne took first place. After

(Continued on Page Two.)

TEACHER WHO WAS LOST IN WOODS

BRENT A. LINDSAY.

FAIRFAX HONORS YOUNG MAN WHO SAVED CHILD

School Teacher and Pupil Braved Many Dangers While Lost in Woods—Neither Is Hysterical When Found and Boy Jovially Greets Rescuers.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, June 1.—Fairfax, the mining town in the foothills of the Cascades, 35 miles southeast of Tacoma, has had a jubilation since the finding day before yesterday of Brent A. Lindsay and Lawrence Mack, the school teacher and 11-year-old boy, who were lost in the woods six days. It was Lindsay's generosity and heroism that saved the life of the child, who time and again during the days they wandered starving over the terribly rough ridges and canyons, fell in faints and required resuscitation. Lindsay was a student at the University of Washington. He was one of the brightest in his classes when he quit the institution a year ago. In addition to being superior intellectually, he is of a very generous and warm-hearted disposition, and it spoke a

(Continued on Page Two.)

LANE 164, DEVLIN 117 IS RESULT

Poll Taken in Four Different Sections of West Side—Passers-by Asked How They Will Vote Without Regard to Party.

Tenderloin District Almost Solid for Devlin—Front Street Region Strong for Lane—East Side Admitted by Republicans for Mayor.

Straw votes taken this morning demonstrate conclusively the overwhelming sentiment in favor of Lane in the mayoralty contest. It is conceded on all hands that Lane will carry the East Side and Devlin's supporters build all their hopes on the West Side vote. The canvass made this morning was therefore confined to localities on the west side of the river. Outside of the North End and Chinatown, the ballots showed in every instance a decisive majority for Lane. In all, 281 voters (including those from the North End and Chinatown) expressed their views and 164 declared themselves for Lane, while 117 were for Devlin.

With one exception the straw vote was taken by members of The Journal staff, who were instructed to question voters on the street, taking every man as he came and without inquiry as to his party politics. The one ballot not taken by The Journal was at the large wholesale house of Bell & Co., 115 Front street, where the employees of the firm improvised a ballot box and voted secretly, each man writing the name of his candidate on a slip of paper and placing it in the box. This independent canvass gave even more surprising results than the straw ballots taken on the street, the votes when counted showing 55 for Lane and only 11 for Devlin.

Everybody Asked. The Journal's men started out early this morning at an hour when business men, clerks and working men are on their way down town to their offices or places of employment. In some cases voters refused to divulge their choice, but as a rule they did not hesitate to

(Continued on Page Two.)

WINGS AN ESCAPE AT 200 YARDS

Rock Pile Engineer Brings Down Prisoner Who Tries to Take French Leave.

James O. Fagan, sentenced to serve a year on the rockpile, was shot through the right hip with a revolver while making a daring attempt to escape from the Kelly butte quarry yesterday afternoon. Fagan was brought to the city last night for treatment. According to the story told by Fagan at the county jail this morning, he attempted to escape as the prisoners were lining up to go to dinner.

(Continued on Page Two.)

DEVLIN COIN IS QUICKLY COVERED

As Far as Money Is Concerned, Candidate Is Bet Off the Board.

All over town betting men are hunting for Devlin money. As fast as it appears it is eagerly taken and it is generally expected that before the polls open Monday morning Lane men will be forced to give odds. For the third time in two days Schiller's cigar stand, where most of the bets have been placed, is without Devlin money, and at 1 o'clock an offer to bet $200 even on Lane was posted without takers. Fritz, the proprietor of the notorious north end resort and one of the most active workers for Devlin, put up several thousand dollars on Devlin yesterday and this morning but all of it was taken by Lane enthusiasts who clamored for more. Over $4,000 of Devlin money at Schiller's was covered this morning in addition to $5,000 taken yesterday and at noon Lane men were making the rounds of the cigar stands and saloons in the hope of finding more.

SHUMAN SHED COPIOUS TEARS

Man Who Pleaded Guilty to Sending an Obscene Letter Through Mails to Female Horsethief Breaks Down When Sentenced to Five Months in Jail.

Eighteen days and nights without sleep was the direct cause of William Shuman shedding copious tears when he pleaded guilty before Judge Charles E. Wolverton in the United States district court this morning of sending an obscene letter through the mail to Annie Walker, the famous Montana girl horsethief. A possible sentence of five years at McNeil's island and a possible fine of $5,000 were only secondary circumstances that caused Shuman to overflow. He was sentenced to serve five months in the county jail. Shuman put up a piece full of heart-rending, lachrymose statements, in which he told of the wrongs perpetrated upon him by the strenuous Annie. Especially did he dwell upon the attempt of Annie to kill him. Five cartridges whistled about and through his body before he could put bullet distance between himself and the fair Amazon. In court Shuman pointed wildly at his arm and hand, where some of the girl's bullets plowed their way. "Why didn't you sever your relations with the girl?" asked the court.

"I did try to, but she loved me so, I could not break away," was the reply. Shuman told between his sobs how he met Miss Walker in Tacoma, fell in love with her and she with him, and then how he tried to live apart from her when he learned of her past reputation, and from all that has been said of Annie she has a past that reflects credit upon Shuman's decision to refuse to have anything to do with her. He went to Seattle. Annie followed him and when she had him cornered, whipped out a sixshooter resembling a piece of small field artillery and commenced firing with rapid-fire practice. Shuman disliked the idea of being a target and played the part of the flying crowd. Out of a possible five, Annie made two hits, one in the target's right hand and one in the left arm. Experts say the shooting was remarkably well executed, considering circumstances and climatic conditions. Shuman started in this morning with a very clear statement of his crime

(Continued on Page Two.)

In Sunday's Journal

"Why I left the stage to wed," by Edna May, the actress. Electric currents for music—most marvelous of inventions. Critics of Missions find many surprises in faraway China. How the Boers are coming into their own once more. Free tickets for the circus—Today Hamilton tells about it. Insects keep slaves and use tools like human beings.

and Much More

Happy Hooligan off at last—but he comes back. Jimmy—He runs for the janitor. Mr. Batch saves her life—but regrets it. Poor Buck—in trouble again. What the 400 are wearing. When ankles turn in low shoes. New health slogan for women. Where fig leaf gowns are stive. Stories for children and grown up.

All the News of the Day

The full leased wire reports of two great press associations and specials from all over the world.

MAYOR ANSWERS ANDERSON

Lane Appeals to the People to Help Him Kick From His Heels Snarling Curs Who Seek to Divert Public Attention From Real and Vital Interests.

Mayor Lane has issued the following: "There was published today by Mr. J. H. Anderson of Sixth and Everett streets the statement that he had made complaint to me in relation to the existence of houses of ill repute near his place of business from which he received no relief, etc., etc. If the statements made by Mr. Anderson were true I would be culpable and not deserving of the respect or further confidence of the people of this community, but inasmuch as they depart from the truth, and as I here relate, I leave it to the people to form their own opinion of the same. Some time ago complaint was made by Mr. Anderson against some certain houses of that character which were located near his place of business, and acting upon his complaint such houses were ordered closed, and were closed. Immediately following this the charge was made by the woman who kept such a house that Mr. Anderson had been for some time engaged in an attempt to force her and others who had business connections with her to purchase his place of business, presumably to be used for the same kind of business. Following this she or some other woman reopened one of the houses which the police had ordered closed, and this time she was arrested and was again closed, and at no time since, so far as I know, has it been opened.

'Thought Matter Closed.

I heard nothing further in relation to the matter and considered the incident closed until about a week ago, and since this campaign opened Mr. Anderson met me on the city hall steps and stated that he intended to make public the statement that I was favoring friends of mine in the conduct of such places, evidently with the intention of injuring me in the eyes of the people at this time.

This I resented, but I did not apply to him the epithet which he says I did. I did say, however, that he would be telling a lie if he made such statement. At this time I also invited Mr. Anderson to come to the mayor's office and state his case, and a few days later he did so, at which time he complained against all the places which he men-

(Continued on Page Two.)

SMOKING PUTS HAYWOOD IN BED

Boise Murder Trial Is Postponed Until Doctors Can Cure Defendant.

(Journal Special Service.) Boise, Ida., June 1.—Haywood's illness this morning caused the postponement of the trial until this afternoon. He passed a restless night, suffering from an attack of the heart, caused by excessive smoking, and this morning was seized with an attack of neuralgia in the head, caused by toxic poisoning, and suffered such pain that he was unable to stand. Doctors were called and hurriedly worked over him for several hours, being compelled to administer a heavy dose of morphine to allay the pain. The court and lawyers for the defense announced that if Haywood was not able to appear this afternoon the trial will go over until Monday. Haywood's condition, according to the doctor, is due entirely to lack of exercise.

Beautiful Women

Sunday The Journal prints photographs of winners of beauty contests in other states. Cut them out and save them and you will have a collection of the most beautiful women in America.

On Sunday, June 15, announcement will be made of the winners of The Journal's beauty quest and the pictures of the most beautiful women in Oregon published.

Watch for Them

GOOD CITIZENS

If you go to the polls and vote next Monday, Lane's election is assured. There will be no stay-at-homes among Devlin's supporters, for the machine is thoroughly organized and prepared to get out all its votes. If you favor Lane's election

DON'T FAIL to VOTE

GOULD BOATSWAIN LOST JOB BECAUSE OF HIS WHISKERS

(Journal Special Service.) New York, June 1.—Statements in Howard Gould's behalf continue to come from unnamed "close personal friends." One published accuses Mrs. Gould of gross extravagance, that she spent money as if there was no limit to her husband's income, and this irritated him. One story about her caprices and whims is that she took dislike to the whiskers worn by a boatswain on Gould's yacht Niagara. He shaved them off to please her and then she liked his face even less

CHICAGO TEACHERS HURL DEFIANCE AT NON-UNION ORDERS

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, June 1.—Miss Margaret Haley, business manager of the Teachers' Federation, has hurled defiance at Otto C. Schneider, the new president of the school board, who yesterday warned the teachers that they must quit labor unions and labor union practices in the schools. He said the schools were not to be transformed into training places for slugs and thugs, but that children of labor and capital were to have an equal chance, learning something besides throwing stones and yelling "scab."

MISS HALEY IS HIGHLY INDIGNANT. SHE SAYS ANY ATTEMPT TO INTERFERE WITH THE FEDERATION WOULD BE VIGOROUSLY COMBATTED AND INTIMATED THAT "RUSSIAN AUTOCRACY" INSTEAD OF "POPULAR RULE" IS TRYING TO BE ENFORCED.

The "long hairs" summarily dismissed from the board by Mayor Busse, are still busy scheming how to overthrow him and regain their seats. Meanwhile the public is watching the reclamation of the schools from labor and other domination and it is certain Mayor Busse will win in his sensational fight.