The Week's Advertising Record

For the week ending June 2 the advertising showing for the three daily papers of Portland was as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Journal, Oregonian, Telegram. Rows: Local, Foreign, Classified and Real Estate.

The people of Oregon give The Journal generous support and the live advertiser knows The Journal to be the paper through which to reach the people. Early in August The Journal will more than double its press facilities, thus enabling it to meet every call and demand for the paper, the facilities being taxed beyond their capacity at the present time, and The Journal's circulation is held down to approximately 29,000 in consequence.

PLANS FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF SHELDON ARE COMPLETE

Arrangements for the entertainment of Governor Sheldon of Nebraska and a body of business men representing all the larger mercantile enterprises of Omaha were completed at the Commercial club this afternoon by a committee representing the commercial bodies of this city. Eighty-eight persons left Omaha on the western excursion yesterday and will arrive in Portland Sunday morning, June 9. Each of the large Omaha families, the banking and manufacturing interests is represented by at least one person and several large jobbing houses and other mercantile firms are represented by more than one member.

Nebraska's Governor and Party to Arrive Sunday Morning—Will Be Shown the Rose City on Three Special Cars and Given a Reception.

Excursion cars having been engaged for this purpose, a reception and dinner will be given the party at the Commercial club, the excursionists leaving for the south at 3:30 o'clock. It was planned first to offer the Omaha party a breakfast Sunday morning, but that favor was declined by the party because of the strenuous week preceding. The reception committee will keep in telegraphic communication with the excursion party, so that none of the big plans for its reception will be forestalled on account of delays.
