

STEAMER RUNS DOWN ROWBOAT

Seven Boys Narrowly Escape Drowning in Willamette River.

FAIL TO HEED WARNING TO GET OUT OF WAY

Two of Occupants Rescued in Nick of Time by Men Employed on Pile Drivers Working on the Northern Pacific Bridge.

Seven boys narrowly escaped drowning Saturday afternoon a short distance below the foot of Swan island, when the steamer Harvest Queen, towing the schooner Expansion, ran over their rowboat.

The Harvest Queen struck the boat full broadside and turned it over like a chip of wood, spilling the occupants into the water.

The schooner Expansion was lumber laden bound down the river from the mills of the Portland Lumber company.

BALFOUR PREDICTS HARCOURT'S SUCCESS

Believes He Will Be Liberal Prime Minister of England—Rulers Are Alarmed by the Frequent Fits of Princess Victoria.

(Journal Special Service.) London, June 3.—The members of the Prince of Wales household are much amused at the accounts which have been received from various sources of the doings of the prince's eldest son, Little Prince Edward, or "David," as he is called at home, at the Osborne college for naval cadets.

The little boy, who, like Prince "David" was entering college for the first time, had been laid up with the measles, and so the young prince had several weeks' start of him.

At she entered the long, bare apartment she witnessed a terrific struggle. A rather fat boy was pummeling another on the floor. The "under boy" was purple in the face with rage and making determined efforts to get up and "do" for the boy.

Among the American hostesses who will be especially honored by the king this season is Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, nee Burns, whose husband, Mr. Balfour, secretary pro tempore at a dinner party the other night, will one day be a Liberal prime minister of England.

Mr. Harcourt has obtained a promise from the king to pay a "week-end" visit to Nuneham, the magnificent old seat of the Harcourt family. No date has yet been fixed, but the visit probably will take place after the Ascot races.

There was no question about the bridegroom, who is a popular and charming man of much culture, but unhappily he is a certain amount of an Arch-angel, that terrible southern port in Russia, where the czar's political offenders are compelled to live a life of absolute boredom through terrible winters.
