

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY BIG PUBLICITY AGENT

As a Result of Various Livestock Shows Held at Different Expositions Pacific Northwest Has Received Wide Notoriety and Prominence of Lasting Benefit.

Through the medium of the livestock industry Portland, Oregon and the Pacific northwest have received more striking, effective, substantial and lasting advertisement and prominence than through any other single avenue.

The parades, music, elaborate decorations, surging throngs, speeches and displays of the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition have either been forgotten or are but a vague memory, but the livestock show at that fair not only lives in memory as the chief success of the exposition, but it has resulted in adding both fame and wealth to this state and the northwestern portion of the United States. It has added thoroughbred horses, cattle and sheep to such a degree that no one features of the business men's trip through eastern Oregon and western Idaho was more appreciated than the showing of thoroughbred horses at many stations. The grade animals in all lines of livestock have improved—in fact, the livestock show was the beneficial and lasting feature of that most successful of similar shows held in the United States.

As a result of their exhibits at the St. Louis exposition, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and California, have become better known, and as a result of that fair the correspondence of each and every one of the commercial and industrial bodies of the Pacific coast has been increased enormously. To Oregon the greatest result of that exposition was the fact that it proved to the world in the 107 days' contest in milk cows that Loretta D., queen of the world's milkers, the leader in the aristocracy of the entire cowdom of the world, made her home in Oregon.

No one branch of advancement that has come to Portland and Oregon has excited more concern and been exploited as a greater argument in behalf of the future of this city and state than the fact that Swift & Co. and Armour & Co., the largest packers in the world, have bought several hundred acres of land on which to locate stockyards and packeries to supply the markets of Alaska, the orient, British Columbia and the Pacific northwest from the great port located at the confluence of the Willamette and Columbia rivers.

That Portland will be the great central point in the packing industry of the Pacific coast is assured and no one of the great industrial enterprises of the country adds more to the advancement of the city in which it is located, or is more directly beneficial to the growth and prosperity of the country surrounding that city, and market, than are packeries.

This has been proven in the building up and the advancement of Chicago, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Omaha, St. Louis and many other cities, but no less, the location of Swift's and Armour's packeries in the southwest at Fort Worth, where in two years the population of the city was doubled.

Portland has the livestock impulse, she sent the world's greatest milk cow to the St. Louis exposition, to carry off the blue ribbon in competition with the very best milk cows the world could produce. Then Swift and Armour bought their land and the packeries will follow, and now to make assurance doubly sure the Portland Country club and livestock association has been organized with a capital of $150,000, and its incorporators are men who insure its success.

Next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock there will be a meeting in the parlors of the Portland Commercial club of the subscription committee to represent the different trades, professions and property interests of Portland, and it will be the duty of this committee to solicit subscriptions to the stock of the Commercial and Livestock association, and it is the intention to make this canvass in one day and close it up somewhat similar to the subscriptions secured for the Lewis and Clark exposition.

Eighty acres have been secured at $250 an acre. This will be the home of the Driving association and the Hunt club, and entertainments of different kinds will be given there so that the grounds may become thoroughly popularized, but the substantial and far-reaching idea of this movement in the advancement and development of the livestock industry of the Pacific northwest, and in this great field of industry there are opportunities offered by few sections of the world. The entire state of Oregon and all this portion of the United States is as much interested in the complete success of this movement as though they resided in the city limits of the city of Portland.

As thrilling as any subject pertaining to conditions in the empire of the czar always is, "Darkest Russia," a melodrama presented at the Star yesterday, made a profound impression. It abounds in thrilling situations and in heart interest that is strongly appealing.

Yesterday's performance was witnessed by a large audience which was thoroughly pleased. Miss Margaret Pitt, the new leading woman of the Star company, and Mr. Raymond Whittaker, the new leading man, appear to unusually good advantage as do other members of the company.

The play deals with the cruelty of the aristocrats towards the peasants and the continual plotting and counterplotting of officials. It is sure to please those who are fond of melodrama.

At the Lyric. The Allen stock company is presenting at the Lyric this week, "The Sins of the Fathers," a thrilling comedy-drama, which pleased large audiences yesterday. The Allen company, which has so many successes to its credit, will undoubtedly score another with this production.

It is a clean, wholesome play with a lesson that all should learn. Members of the Allen company who are seen advantageously in the production are Miss Verna Felton, Marie Thompson, Charlotte Mundoff, Forrest Seabury, Irving Kennedy, Ralph Belmont, Harry Blanchard, Charles Ayers and H. N. Dudgeon. The play is original in plot and has been wonderfully successful wherever produced.

At the Grand. There is a bill at the Grand this week which contains a variety of attractions. The bill was offered for the first time yesterday and will continue all week.

Honors are fairly evenly divided this week, for there is no particular feature that overshadows the others. A comedy act entitled, "When Caesar Sees Her," is scheduled as the top-line feature, but the audience seems to take as much interest in the other attractions as it does in that.

"The Walking Delegate" is a comedy sketch which was received with a reception and Miller and McCauley are blackfaced singers and dancers who make good with the audience. Altogether the bill is of real merit and will likely prove popular during the entire week.

IDENTITY OF DEAD MAN A MYSTERY
Brother of Thomas Quick Declares He Doesn't Know the Victim of the Steam Shovel.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., June 4.—It now transpires that it was not Thomas Quick of Tillamook, who was scalded to death by the overturning of the steam shovel of the A. & C. railroad at Clifton last week. D. B. Quick, a brother, arrived in Astoria yesterday to take charge of the body, but as soon as he saw it he declared it was not his brother's body. The reason that the dead man was believed to be Quick was that receipts for I. O. O. F. lodge dues were found on his person. The man signed with the A. & C. railroad as Thomas Gallagher and is known to have received credit under the name of Quick. Who he is, or where he came from is now a complete mystery. The real Thomas Quick, when he is heard from, may throw light on the matter.

ILL FROM OVERWORK

NERVOUS PROSTRATION CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

By Toning Up the Blood and Nerves Patient Recovered Weight, Strength and Good Spirits.

When the nervous system is broken down from overwork, or whatever cause, life loses its joys. Not only is the nervous victim a sufferer himself but he is usually a trial to the whole family. Nervous breakdown is often gradual, appearing at first to be merely an unusual fretfulness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills tone up the nerves in the most direct way and not only cure minor troubles but serious disorders as well.

Mr. W. W. Munroe of 16 Hazel Park, Everett, Mass., says: "About four years ago this September I became all run down from overwork and from confinement to bed during warm weather. For two months I grew steadily worse. I lost in weight and strength and had no appetite. My memory failed me quite rapidly and I became in a very low state, both physically and mentally. I took no interest in life, neither in business nor recreation. I was a foreman in a large manufacturing chemist's establishment in Boston, a good memory is absolutely essential to success because of the immense amount of detail that must be carried in the head."

"I grew very despairing, could not bear to have people meet me and my friends remarked on my condition. About the middle of December a friend told me one day that he had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and found them reliable. I commenced taking them and at the end of two weeks the change for the better was remarked by friends. I continued using the pills until I was thoroughly recovered. I regard them as a fine remedy and make this statement voluntarily in gratitude for the benefit I received from them."

These pills actually make new blood and have cured such diseases as rheumatism, nervous and general debility, indigestion, nervous headache, neuralgia and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. As a tonic for the blood and nerves they are unequalled.

If you are a sufferer from any disorder of the blood and nerves write for proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have accomplished in cases similar to yours. Every testimonial issued by this company is carefully investigated before being published and is authentic.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of ten cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

RUSH FOR DOUKHOBOR LAND STARTS FIGHT

After Sleeping on Steps of Land Office Claimants Are Forced From the Line.

(Journal Special Service.) Prince Albert, Canada, June 4.—The rush for Doukhobor homesteads developed into a fight outside the land office yesterday. From early Saturday and all through the night a group of 30 men sat on the cold stone steps and morning found them weak and weary and unable to resist the rush of a party who had slept and eaten and forced them from their position.

In the struggle some of those who had slept on the steps went through the glass panes of the door, and others fought until the mounted police restored order. When the office should have opened the steps were held by city policemen and members of the mounted police, who used their flats and batons to keep the steps clear. Women were thrown down without ceremony.

Ten homesteads were available in the first townsite opened. A dozen men crowded through in a moment and the police had another trial of strength in shutting out the rest.

A Thirty-Day Sensation.

A sale which, according to Manager Charles F. Ferguson, has become a sensational in Portland, is scheduled to open tomorrow morning, June 5, at 53-55 First street and will continue for 30 days. In making arrangements with The Journal for a full page "ad" to appear in tomorrow evening's issue, Mr. Ferguson said for this enormous sum will open tomorrow morning at First and Pine streets is a $100,000 stock of men's and women's ready-to-wear apparel of a prominent San Francisco dealer who has been forced by his bank to raise $30,000 in 30 days. With $100,000 in ready-to-wear apparel, unless the money was promptly raised, this dealer immediately shipped $100,000 worth of the finest of his stock to Portland, and it's up to me to clean up $30,000 for him before the first of July. Necessity knows no law, and as I am looking for this enormous sum to meet the bank's demand, I realize I must make a noise like a big sale. I mean to make this the greatest selling event Portland has ever known, and my page of bargains to appear in The Journal this evening will show of my determination. Former prices have been totally disregarded—it's a case of sell the goods for what they'll bring. I speak for the sale now—tomorrow it will speak for itself."

Fishing Outfit Identified.

Astoria, Or., June 4.—The fish boat and net that were picked up by Andrew Anderson on Chinook beach last Saturday, belonged to Henry Remy of North Shore. The outfit had broken from its moorings and drifted down the river.

"Girofle-Girofle" Scores Big Hit. "Girofle-Girofle" scored a tremendous hit last night at the Margman, where it was sung by the St. Francis orchestra. It is the first time in years that the famous old opera has been heard in this city. It is a standard and there are few of the more modern comic operas. The play is being offered at the Baker this week for the first time in the northwest. It is the last week of the Baker company this season and all old Baker
