AUTOMATIC WAGON BRAKE Horses in Stopping Automatically Put on the Brake.

A wagon brake which operates automatically has been recently patented by a Mississippi man. The ordinary arrangement of attaching a foot lever beneath the driver's seat, connecting with the brake, is entirely dispensed with. The driver is not required to handle the brake in any way, the simple halting of the horses only being necessary. As shown in the illustration, the brake is pivoted so as to come in contact with the rim of the rear wheel. On the extreme outer end of the shafts is a vertical pivoted lever, one end of which connects with a rod extending to the brake. The upper end of this lever is connected by strap or chain to the harness on the horse. As shown, the top of this lever is normally in advance of the lever end. Obviously, a pulling pressure exerted by a backward movement of the horses in stopping will force the brake against the rear wheel. The driver in stopping his horse in this way automatically throws on the brake.

BARBER'S REGISTER

Unique Method of Automatically Registering the Day's Work. An exceedingly unique device for use in barber shops as a check on the barbers is the recent invention of a Texas man. In all modern, up-to-date barber shops it is customary to give each customer procuring a shave an application of bay rum, witch hazel or other facial tonic. Such being the case, the inventor has arranged the mechanism of his device whereby each time a bottle is removed and an application is given the fact is automatically registered on a dial. Obviously the register indicates the number of customers procuring a shave, etc. In using this invention three bottles for containing different tonics are employed—one for bay rum, one for hair tonic and probably one for a shampoo tonic—used, respectively, after shaving, haircutting and shampooing. A separate register is provided for each bottle, in order that an accurate indication will be made of the day's work. The owner of the barber shop can thus readily ascertain the number of customers accommodated during his absence and the amount each spent.

Wisconsin's Largest Elm. "I believe that Appleton has the largest elm tree in Wisconsin," writes an observer. "About five feet from the ground the body of the tree measures 158 inches in circumference; about six feet above the ground the body of the tree branches and forms two large trunks, both of which are the same height, branching in all directions. "The branches spread and slightly droop and extend over a space of 78 feet in diameter, making a 144-foot circle. The area covered by the shade of the leaves of this mammoth tree is 477 square feet. Allowing two and one quarter square feet to a man, 2,128 men could stand in the shade of this tree if the sun shone directly from the zenith. No limbs have been trimmed from its trunk and it seems to be sound to the center. "No house has ever been built on the lot, for the tree stands just where a house would naturally be erected. When its foliage is full grown there is perhaps no tree in existence that has a greater breathing and absorbing capacity than this stately elm of our city."

Welcoming Church Bells. Curious scenes occurred at the village of St. Keverne (Cornwall) on the arrival of a new peal of bells for the parish church. A large procession of villagers, headed by the local band, marched out to meet the bells, which were drawn by horses on four wagons. Men, women and children carried flags and wreaths and wild flowers were laid on the bells.

STRONG NERVES THE SECRET OF GOOD HEALTH More ailments are due to weak nerves than to any other cause. You know the nerves are little wires that lead from the spinal cord to all parts of the body, intended by Nature to convey the power which runs the human machine. Every artery, every vein—no matter how insignificant it may appear to be—every gland and tissue of the human body are each supplied with a delicate network of nerve wires which give them power to act. This power, sometimes called nerve force, is nothing but electricity. To prove that the nerves convey the motive power of the body, just sever a nerve of the stomach and that organ will become paralyzed. Human electricity comes from the food you eat. The digestive juices of the stomach burn the food and produce the power which is forced through the nerves to all parts of the body. The reason any part of your body becomes weak or debilitated is because it does not get enough electricity. When one part fails to do its work properly, other complications arise, causing sickness and disease. Then you get busy and dope your stomach with drugs which weaken the nerves and decrease the supply of electric energy. Your condition becomes chronic, and after a while drugging gets to be a habit. Help Nature cure by restoring your nerve force electric energy. The man with strong nerves is always a healthy man, for he has plenty of nerve force which keeps the body healthy. If your nerves are weak and you are sick or ailing in any way, you should restore to your body the electricity it lacks. My Electro-Vigor does this while you sleep. It fills the nerves with new life—new vim, and out crops the new energy which makes health. Electro-Vigor is not an electric belt. It is a dry-cell battery and makes its own power continuously. There is no charging to do—just put it on and turn on the current. I used my Electro-Vigor just six weeks and was cured of sciatica. From my experience with this treatment I consider it just the thing for any nervous derangement. C. M. WITT, Groveland, Cal. I have not had rheumatism since I began the use of Electro-Vigor and my stomach does not bother me any more. A. F. BOYNE, Wishkah, Wash.
