

OKLAHOMA GETS LEMON

Portland Citizen Relieved of Gall Stones

Roosevelt Refuses to Say That He Will Do the Fair Thing by Democrats in Passing Upon Proposed State Constitution.

Removed in Twenty-Four Hours, Without Operation by the Fer-Don Medical Experts.

One of the Many Wonderful Cures Performed by the Experts, as Related by the Person Benefited.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal) Washington, June 11.—Apparently, the Republican delegation from the new proposed state of Oklahoma has gained its point, and the administration here purposes in no manner to clear away the doubt as to the attitude the president will assume toward the new constitution. Half a dozen members of the constitutional convention Democrats have labored over the situation in Washington, and as far as is known none remain on the ground. Efforts were made to obtain from the president or attorney-general some intimation to offset the positive claims which were made by the Republican delegation that the president intended to disapprove the constitution. These repeated efforts during the time the experts making frequent visits to the White House that the constitution was doomed, and Tamm Bixby, commissioner to the five civilized tribes, informed your correspondent that in his opinion the constitution would be killed.

Give no Intimation.
"I desire to see the doctors at once," said a gentleman who yesterday entered the offices of the Fer-Don Medical Experts at 252½ Washington street. "My name is E. D. Landon and I live at 288 Sacramento street," continued the man, "and I told the doctor I would come back and tell him if the medicine he gave me did me any good. You see I have suffered for a long time with pains in the kidneys and stomach and never was able to find out just what my trouble was. When one of the Medical Experts told me I was suffering from gall stones and that they could be removed without the use of a knife, I'll admit I was skeptical. But I believe him now, for with just three doses of medicine and in less than a day, my system was relieved of several of the gall stones and I expect to get well now."

"It is certainly a relief after several years of this suffering and I am glad to say the Fer-Don Medical Experts have kept their promise."

Mr. Landon is a teamster employed here in Portland. His case is only one of many who have been cured, not only of gall stones, but of many chronic diseases, many cases among them having been pronounced incurable by other physicians. Sciatic rheumatism, appendicitis—when case is taken before pus begins to form in the veriform appendix—are cured by treatments with the "Syarthgil," which was introduced into our city by these experts. Tumors and cancers are removed without operation, without drawing blood or causing pain.

The offices, in the Grand theatre building, are daily crowded with people from far and near who have heard the reports of marvelous cures which have been made and who are coming to be cured of a great variety of ailments.

At the free show grounds at Williams avenue and Mott street, starting demonstrations are being nightly performed in plain sight of the thousands who attend. The preparations of the Medical Experts are here used to show how quickly they bring relief.

Mr. C. H. Swanahan, a wholesale merchant of Hood River, was relieved of deafness after one application.

One demonstration made Mr. Auld of 1214 Mallory avenue hear after a deafness of 25 years.

WALKED WITHOUT CRUTCHES.

Captain W. T. Smith, an old-time steamboat captain who lives on Eugene street, Portland, and is a well-known citizen, was assisted upon Fer-Don's platform Saturday night. For four or five years he has been a sufferer from rheumatism and had difficulty in getting around even on crutches. When he received one application of this preparation he found he was so greatly benefited that he could walk without the aid of a crutch.

These demonstrations will continue nightly. The audiences which nightly enjoy the excellent band concerts and witness the demonstrations number into thousands of people, which seems to testify to the Great Fer-Don's popularity in Portland.

Belle of Richmond.
That a man without arms can handle a rifle like a sharpshooter, tools like a carpenter and musical instruments in hand to believe, but Clarence Lutz demonstrates that it is possible. The Lutz brothers are the added features on the program at the Grand this week.

Belle of Richmond.
As delightful a performance as has ever been given on the stage at the Star theatre is "The Belle of Richmond," which the stock company is presenting this week. It had its premier performance in Portland last night, and was warmly received by a large and appreciative audience.

Makes a Great Hit.
"All the Comforts of Home," in which the Allen stock company at the Lyric is appearing this week is the greatest hit ever scored by that popular organization. The play is one of the most amusing comedies seen in Portland this year, and the company is at its very best.

Rose Matinee at Baker.
Tomorrow afternoon a most unique feature will be a special "rose matinee" given by little Ollie Cooper and the Baker theatre company. Every child carrying a bunch of roses, at least a dozen roses will be admitted free, and a prize will be given for the one who has the loveliest bouquet.

Musical Comedy Coming.
Baker patrons who think that popular place of amusement will be closed after "Prince Charming" ends are mistaken. Next Sunday matinee the Zinn company opens for a summer run. "Sweet Sixteen Dancing Chorus" is a feature that is bound to create a real sensation.

Last Time of Otis Skinner.
The distinguished actor Otis Skinner will give his last performance at the around $2,000 worth of food.

The editor of a paper out in Oklahoma said: "Yes, it is true when I got hold of Grape-Nuts food it was worth more than a $2,000 doctor bill to me, for it made me a well man. I have gained 5 pounds in weight since I began to eat it. In fact, my brain power has been given back to me, and that is an absolute essential for I am an editor and have been for 35 years."

"My pen shall always be ready to meet the good work that this food does for me. I had, of course, often read the advertisements regarding Grape-Nuts, but never thought to apply the food to my own use, until, in my extremity and sickness the thought came to me that it might fit my case."

The statement in regard to the food are absolutely correct, as I have lived in my own case. One very fortunate thing about the food is that while it is the most scientifically made and highly nourishing, concentrated food I have ever known, it has so delicious a taste that it wins and holds friends." There's a reason. Read "The Road to Wall-ville," in page.
