DIVIDES WAGES; ESCAPES ROCKS

Teamster Wood Prefers Taking Care of Wife to Breaking Rocks for City.

By agreeing to pay his wife $30 a month out of a $60 salary, C. E. Wood, a teamster, this morning escaped being sent to the rock pile at Kelly Butte under the new law for failing to support his family. Mrs. Theresa Wood had lodged the complaint against her husband, and this morning he was taken before Judge Webster in the county court for a hearing. Wood and his wife had consulted together, and Mrs. Wood said she would not press the case if she were paid $30 a month. Judge Webster thought $30 not enough, but when Mrs. Wood said it would be satisfactory to her, the judge allowed Wood to go on probation. Mrs. Wood said that her husband had given her only $45 in the past six months, and that she had paid $15 of that amount for his lodge dues, leaving only $30 that he had contributed to her support. She depends upon her 15-year-old son, Wesley, who is employed as a fireman by the Southern Pacific, and receives $1.50 a day. The youth turns over his salary checks to his mother. Wood has been employed as a teamster since last December. Before that time he was in the fire department as a lieutenant and engineer. He gave a personal recognition for $380, and was allowed to go back to work with the indigent hanging over him. Should he at any time fail to pay the $30 per month he will be haled before the court and tried. Wood paid his wife $10 yesterday.

AT THE STOCK THEATRES

"Belle of Richmond" at the Star. "The Belle of Richmond," as presented by the reorganized stock company at the Star this week, is a success. It was presented to a large audience yesterday, which was highly pleased with the production. The play deals with the south, has southern characters, scenes and surroundings, but, unlike most southern plays, has no reference to the civil war. It is a wholesome love story, the story of the efforts of two aspiring southern youths for the heart of a southern belle. The duplicity and crime of a bank president and his efforts to throw the blame for the robbery of the bank upon an innocent young man furnish the plot of the play. William Diehl has been assigned to the part of the bank president and gives a meritorious interpretation of the character. Raymond Whitaker, as the innocent young man upon whom the president tries to throw the blame, appears to excellent advantage.

as does Miss Margaret Pitt, the new leading woman of the Star company. Other individual players appear to good advantage in the piece, which is admirably staged and produced. "The Belle of Richmond" will be the bill at the Star for the entire week with the usual matinees.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATRES

Harding and Ah Sid, the famous clown and Chinaman, in an original pantomimic sketch entitled, "Fun in a Chinese Laundry," is the headline feature of the Grand's program this week, and the pair came up to expectations yesterday. The act is a laugh from start to finish. There are a number of other good features on the bill this week, enough to keep the bill up to the Grand's usual standard of excellence in vaudeville. The Lutz Brothers, described on the bills as the twentieth century marvels, are the special added feature of the bill. It is a first-class act and deserves the liberal enthusiasm it arouses. Clarence Lutz, an armless wonder, swam the Willamette river four years ago, on the afternoon of the collapse of the old Morrison street bridge. "The Country School" is a ludicrous act by the four Masons which gets all kinds of laughs. Mlle. Olive is a juggler with a continental as well as an American reputation, and George Evers is a minstrel who aids considerably in amusing the audience. There are many other good features on the bill and the audience yesterday seemed to be highly pleased.

"All the Comforts of Home" at Lyric. "All the Comforts of Home," William Gillette's famous comedy, was given its first presentation in Portland yesterday at the Lyric theatre by the Allen stock company. The play was an instant success and this will likely be a red-letter week at the Lyric. The play is a comedy of modern hotel life and for many years has been a great favorite with the public. The Allen company's presentation is up to the standard of that company and everything has been done by the management in the way of costuming and scenery to make the production a complete one. A feature of the production is the appearance of Mrs. Clara Allen, who has returned to the company in one of the character parts to which she is so well suited. The regular members of the company appear to unusually good advantage.

TAX COMMISSION'S VISIT TO SPOKANE
 (Special Despatch to The Journal.)
 Olympia, Wash., June 11.—The members of the state tax commission are in Spokane, where they will investigate the public service corporations of that section. The object of the inquiry is to put a valuation on public franchises for purposes of taxation, as provided by act of the legislature, giving additional powers to the tax commission. After completing the inquiry at Spokane the commission may also visit Walla Walla. Considerable work has already been done by the commission at Seattle and Tacoma.
