

VALUATIONS OF ROADS IN STATE

Washington Commission Is Hearing Estimates Compiled by Its Experts.

REAL ESTATE MEN TO GIVE THEIR OPINIONS

Official Employees of the State Have Been Disqualified on City Property Values and Dealers Are Asked to Aid.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Olympia, Wash., June 12.—At the railroad commission hearing today to fix the valuation of railroad properties in this state, Engineer H. F. Gillette stepped aside to give way to some of the right of way experts. Nearly the entire day was taken up with the testimony of W. S. Lyons. The values placed by Mr. Lyons on railroad right of way examined and testified to by him were as follows: Northern Pacific Railway Co., west of Coquille, including terminal properties in Tacoma and Seattle $36,807,891.81; Fort Townsend Southern Railway Co., $1,979.65; Columbia River & Northern Railroad Co., 45,652.80; Iliaco Railway & Navigation Co., $2,000.00; J. M. Averill, right of way expert for the commission in the Seattle section of the state, gave the valuation of the Columbia & Puget Sound Railroad company's right of way and terminals at $4,976,488.52. H. D. McArthur, right of way expert for the commission in the northwestern Washington territory, gave the value of right of way and terminals of the Bellingham Bay & British Columbia Railroad company as $145,876.57. J. C. H. Reynolds, the fourth right of way expert in the employ of the commission, has not yet reached Olympia, but is expected tomorrow. He has done all of this line of work in eastern Washington and has had general charge of the Great Northern lines. According to advance figures compiled by the commission, the Great Northern right of way, docks, real estate and commercial properties in Seattle make a total of a little less than $20,000,000. The Tacoma Eastern right of way outside of Tacoma is worth $31,551.76 and terminals and right of way within the city limits $249,018.25, making a total of $280,570. All three of the right of way experts of the commission have been practically disqualified as experts on valuations in the cities of Tacoma and Seattle. It was announced by the commission that real estate men would be subpoenaed from those cities to testify as to the value of railroad holdings in those places.

Wouldn't This Make YOU Feel a Little "Swelled" Up?

If you had the best tailor shop in town, turned out the best work, more style, a better fit, had the finest line of fabrics to be found on the entire coast, and saved every man who placed an order with you at least a quarter of other tailors' charges, wouldn't you feel a bit proud of your trade supremacy? Well, that's the way it is here—we naturally enjoy our leadership. But we never let our vanity get the best of our modesty. You'll find us appreciative enough of your patronage to give you the very best service we know—the same service that has made this store the most popular in Portland in this line. Why not try it?

JUDGE EAKIN HEADS ALUMNI

Supreme Justice Is Elected President of Old Grads of Willamette University.

SPEND DAY PLANNING TO ADVANCE SCHOOL

Colonel Miller of Portland Acts as Toastmaster at Annual Banquet Held Last Night at Methodist Church—Good Speeches Heard.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, June 12.—It was Alumni day at Willamette university yesterday and scores of "old grads" returned to their alma mater to take part in the exercises of the day, which were fraught with enthusiasm for the "greater and new Willamette." Seldom has there been so much interest and loyalty displayed among the sons and daughters of Jason Lee than this year. The entire day was spent in planning for the advancement of the university. At the business meeting Justice Robert Eakin, '72, of the Oregon supreme court, was chosen president of the Willamette University association. Hon. L. N. Butler, '98, of Dallas, Miss. Almeta, Ohmart, '73, of Salem, were chosen vice-presidents; Miss Helte Fields, '97, of Salem, treasurer, and members of the executive committee will be Miss Lila V. Swafford, '05, and Frank L. Grannis, '04, both of Salem. Congressmen W. C. Hawley of the class of 1884 was elected member of the university board of trustees to represent the Alumni association. The association is raising a current expense fund of $1,000, the greater portion of which has been subscribed. In the evening the annual banquet was held in the parlors of the First M. E. church and enthusiastic speeches were given after an elaborate menu had been discussed. Colonel Robert A. Miller, '78, of Portland, acted as toastmaster and speeches were made by Hon. Peter J. Arcey, '85; Justice Robert Eakin; Sophia Townsend, '03; Mrs. Erma Clarke McCall, '04; A. N. Moore, '74; H. D. McArthur, '04; E. J. Putnam, Montana; Hon. N. L. Butler of Dallas; Professors J. T. Matthews and W. E. Kirk and Hon. J. E. Albert, Charles McKnight of the class of 1907.

Public Program. At the close of the banquet the old students and friends of the university repaired to the chapel where a public program of the Alumni association was rendered. The class of 1907 was initiated into the mysteries of the Alumni association and was presented by W. C. Hawley and welcomed by President L. H. Van Winkle in behalf of the "old grads" of the Willamette valley. The address of the evening was made by Judge William Galloway of the class of '68. He spoke in a happy vein and gave humorous and interesting reminiscences of the old days at Willamette. He spoke feelingly of the work of the pioneer educators of the Willamette valley. Other selections on the program were: Mrs. Field, "The Good Women"; Mrs. Marguerite Bowers, piano solo; poem by William F. Matthews, '96, and a reading by Clark Beknap.

BOARD IGNORES OPERATORS' CRY

Directors of Western Union Pay No Attention to Employees' Demands.

PRESIDENT CLOWRY TO PASS ON GRIEVANCES

Telegraphers' Officials Are Hopeful, Although Executive of the Company Has Shown Them No Favor in the Past.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, June 13.—The board of directors of the Western Union Telegraph company at a regular monthly meeting yesterday ignored the memorial of grievances of operators which had been sent to each member with the request that the board indicate whether it was willing to meet the representatives of the operators in conference. The course of the directors is regarded as leaving the matter entirely in the hands of President Clowry, general manager of the company. Clowry has manifested antagonism to the telegraphers' union and so far has not granted any of the demands of the union. Although there was much strike talk by dissatisfied operators at the headquarters of the union, the board of directors, when it became known that the board of directors had passed their statement over without reply, the officers of the union spoke hopefully. They will now ask the conciliation committee of the civic federation to bring about a conference in order to avert a strike. News of the Western Union officers would discuss the matter.

EXPRESSION SCHOOL DREW LARGE CROWD

A large audience attended the seventh annual commencement exercises of the Gillespie School of Expression at the Hotel last night. The exercises were under the direction of Mrs. Emma Wilson Gillespie. The past year has been the most successful in the history of the institution, which has achieved an enviable reputation in the northwest. The graduates were Miss Cora M. Shaver, Miss Margaret Shelley and Miss Sophia Geary Shives. Invocation was pronounced by Rev. T. B. Ford, after which Miss Minnie W. Hatfield rendered a beautiful and difficult violin solo. There were several numbers by the graduates and the entertainment was concluded with an amusing three-act comedy, "Miss Fearless and Company."

DISGRACED PRINCE IS ON HIS WAY TO EGYPT

Frederick Always Poised as Pious Man, but Indisputable Evidence Is Secured That He Has Been Rank Hypocrite.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Berlin, June 13.—The German empire is torn by the scandal following the Eulenberg exposures and the degrading and ordering out of the country of Prince Frederick Henry of Prussia by the Kaiser, his cousin, because of his extreme immorality. When indisputable evidence of the prince's guilt had been presented, the Kaiser summoned his cousin to the palace. There the charges were read to Prince Frederick. Emperor William personally tore from his relative the orders and decorations he wore, boxed his ears and ordered him to leave Germany and never return, under penalty of being thrown into prison. In tears Frederick departed and is now on his way to Egypt. The scandal is all the greater for the reason that Frederick has always posed as a pious man and was reputed to be the most moral member of the imperial family. He is a son of the late Prince Albrecht, regent of Brunswick, and inherited $7,000,000. Frederick's younger brother Prince Joachim, recently figured in a scandal, when he proposed to marry Marie Suler, a music hall singer. He was banished to Africa to prevent him from carrying out his plan. The scandal which has resulted in the social ostracism of several of the leading young men of the German semi-nobility, a couple of divorces, a suicide and the dismissal from the army of a young man whose name is famous in military history of the empire, is known to infamy as Prince Philip Zeu Eulenberg's "debauchery table." The story reveals an unparalleled condition of debauchery practiced by a clique of men whose names are the proudest in the empire.
