Street to Close Sundays.

It has been the custom in the wholesale district for the produce houses to remain open Sunday morning, but with Sunday closing agitation in all other lines and changed conditions Front street merchants have in the main decided to close on that day. It is stated that those who will not close Sunday
will be prosecuted under the state law.
According to the general trade, it is now useless to keep open Sunday, because all groceries are closed on that day and the only purchases are by peddiers who use that day to buy cheap goods. The commission trade contends that if the houses were closed on the first day of the week it would force
these people to pay the regular market value for their goods, the same as other buyers. The following opinions regarding Sunday closing were given by the most reliable dealers in the produce trade:

Mark Leyn & Co-We believe in Sun-

cause others have sold goods on that day.

Davenport-Thompson company — Our firm is certainly in favor of such a move. No use in keeping open shop on Sunday. If every one would close on that day it would put all on an equal footing. People who usually trade on Sunday would buy on other days.

Bell & Co.—Decidedly in favor of Sunday closing of commission houses. We have been in favor of such a move for some time.

have been in favor of such a move for some time.

Levy & Spiegl—Close them up tight—that's the way we would like to see commission houses on Sunday. There is not a single excuse for keeping open on that day.

McEwen & Koskey—We never open our store on Sunday, and firmly believe that all should close on that day.

Sherk & Graham company—You bet we are in favor of Sunday closing. We don't believe in keeping open on that day. It doesn't pay from any point of view.

Templeton Bros.—We don't even come down to our store on Sunday. Certainly in favor of such a move.

Davenport Bros.—Never have sold a dollar's worth of goods on Sunday, and don't intend to. This system of keeping open every day of the week was all right 50 years ago; it's out of dats now.

Gaze & Co.—We do not keep open on Sunday.

Sunday.

Page & Son—We are in favor of Sunday closing if all others close. Heretofore it has been the custom of the peddlers to get most of their supplies on that day.

W. B. Glafke company—We are always closed Sunday, and are certainly in favor of general observance of that day on the street.

According to a prominent handler of eastern eggs, who has the situation at his finger tips, there are due at this time a number of cars of eastern eggs which were bought at a very low figure. The firms about to receive these are the loudest in their boosting of the local product, in order to get producers to hold back shipments and allow them to sell their low-priced eastern stock at a Still Manipulating Egg Market, their low-priced eastern stock at a figure. It is stated that these sell their low high figure. eastern eggs now coming are in fine

Just a small amount of livestock came into the local yards during the past 24 hours, and as a result the market is holding its former tone and prices.

The loss of 25c in the battle yesterday, which put the price to $4 flat, left that line in quite good shape, and it will take very liberal arrivals, according to the trade, to bring the price below that figure in the near future.

Hogs are quite scarce again, and that market is steady to firm, with former values quite easily maintained.

Sheep failed to come today, and steady to firm tone is shown in that line.

A year ago all markets were easy but unchanged in value.

Bad Bank Statement Adds to the General Dullness of Session. A bad bank statement was the principal bearish feature on the New York market today. The control of Chicago & Alton has now passed to the Rock Island with the consent of the Union Pacific. Though the recall of the government's funds from the banks was bearish, bankers in general are of the opinion that it will have but little effect upon the money market.

Inspector of Police Is Forced to Resign for Asking a Farmer for Postage.

(Journal Special Service.)

Manchester, June 14 .-- After an honorable service of nine years in the police force of Monmouthshire, during which he has risen from the position of constable to that of inspector, George Groves has just been forced to resign and finds ...s official career at an end, and the cause of it all is a penny and the cause of it all is a penny stamp.

Ex-Inspector Groves joined the Monmouthshire police in 1896, and for the last four years has been stationed at Abercarn, a mining district, which is by no means easily managed. By tact and courtesy, however, Groves won the whole-hearted confidence and esteem of the inhabitants, and feeling among them is intense over his degradation for what is regarded as a trifling matter.

for what is regarded as a trifling matter.

The penny stamp which made all the trouble was used by the inspector in posting a swine-fever license to one.
Stuart Heaton of Hall Farm, Worsley, near Manchester. This Heaton asked for to enable him to remove a pig to Blackwood, and as there was no stamped envelope inclosed in his letter Groves asked, in forwarding the order, that the farmer should return a stamp
to cover the postage, as he (Groves) had no other means of recovering the cost.

Receives Letter.

Shortly afterward he received a letter from Heaton, saying that the chief constable was legally bound to defray all expenses of that kind, and that he was forwarding the letter to the board of agriculture. A little later Groves was asked to explain on whose authority and by what order he had his name printed on the departmental paper, and why he had asked for the return of the stamp. He explained that the paper had been printed six years ago and that he did not know it was wrong to have his name and rank thereon. He also stated that he was under the impression that he could not charge the postage to the county under the circumstances.

On Friday of last week he was ordered to attend Superintendent Porter's office at Risca, and was then told that the chief constable gave him the option of resigning, but if he declined he would be dismissed and, in either case, his uniform must be sent in to the chief constable's office that day. He sent in his resignation.

At a protest meeting held at Abercarn it was stated that Inspector Groves had to leave his house at once, and the meeting unanimously decided to provide him with another house to live in.
