LINEMAN BAILEY IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Two Persons Injured Yesterday by Falling From Steps of Swiftly

Two persons were seriously injured last night by cars of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company's lines. H. E. Bailey, a lineman of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, while returning from the Oaks at midnight, in some manner fell from one of the rapidly moving cars and sustained injuries that may result in his death. The injured man was removed to the Good Samaritan hospital and was attended by Dr. Rockey. Upon examination it was found that Balley was suffering from two fractured ribs and internal injuries. The surgeon holds out but little hope for Balley's recovery.

Julia Skahilljerud, of 489 Rodney avenue, while attempting to alight from a moving St. Johns car at Williams avenue and Russel street, at 11 o'clock last night, missed her footing and fell to the pavement. Patrolman Tennant, who happened to be in the vicinity, carried the woman to a nearby drug store and Dr. Alexander Reed was summoned. Miss Skahilljerud was subsequently removed to St. Vincent's hospital, where it was found that she had sustained a dislocated hip and a number of painful bruises.

After looking carefully into the matter, Coroner Finley has decided no inquest necessary in the case of Martin D. Jones, who died from the effects of being run down by a streetcar on North being run down by a streetcar on North street the other night. Witnesses examined by Coroner Finley agree that the car crew were not to be censured because to them it appeared as if Mr. Jones absent-mindedly stepped in front of the car as it came along slowly. He was knocked aside by the car and thrown heavily on the paralleling track. Death was due to a fracture of the skull.

Deceased was 64 years of age and lived with his wife at 1049 Macadam street. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock from Finley's chapel. Interment at Lone Fir.

EUGENE HOLDS WARM SCHOOL ELECTION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., June 17.-Eugene is holding its annual election for school director today. The voting is lively, as the campaign during the past week has been waged warmly. The opposing candidates are W. C. He protested vehemently against the arrest, but succeeded in raising the money as he was about to be lodged in the city juil. He arrived in Portiand several weeks ago and was a guest at the Portland hotel. He made a pretentious "front" and is said to have created the impression of a considerable swell. He was from San Francisco, where he resided at 1868 Buchanan street.

During his visit in this city he decided he needed another suit of clothing. Accordingly he visited the shop of W. P. Kramer & Co., and ordered a suit costing $42. In lieu of payment he is said to have told of his important position with the banking firm and was readily granted credit.

The credit continued longer than the tailors intended, however, and their efforts to collect the sum were in vain. Finally they placed the bill in the hands of a firm of attorneys are alleged to have learned of Wilson's intention to leave the city for San Francisco Friday night and to prevent his departure, a writ of arrest was secured from Justice Fred Closn, of the east side court. The writ was served by Constable Mautz Friday and having Wilson in custody, he visited many business houses in the city where the banker thought he might raise the money. During their travels Judge Olson and Judge Cameron, of the municipal court, are said to have engaged in a lively discussion over the telephone as to the law in such cases.

Wilson finally succeeded in raising the amount of his indebtedness and is said to have left the city.

Wyoming's 225 delegates will vote for Pinchot's scalp.

NOT BE DIPPED

Judge Charles E. Wolverton issued a hools. President E. D. Ressler of the temporary restraining order this afternoon against the Oregon sheep com-mission for requiring members of the Wenaha Sheepgrowers' association of noon against the Oregon sheep commission for requiring members of the Wensha Sheepgrowers' association of Washington to dip their sheep or from quarantining them after entering the state on the way to the Wensha forest reserve for summer pasturage.

This is in the nature of a compromise verdict, for Judge Wolverton made the ruling on the showing made in the present cases instituted by the Washington sheepmen and did not rule against the state law respecting dipping and quarantining where a careful inspection would show the sheep infected with disease. In other words, Washington sheep will have to be handled exactly as Oregon sheep.

It is probable that Attorneys Bryson and Cain of Walla Walla, representing the Washington sheepmen, will move to make the injunction permanent on the ground that an answer was filed to the complaint. The suit will probably be appealed and carried to the supreme court.
