

SIX KILLED BY CHICAGO HEAT

Many Prostrated in Windy City and Eleven More Expected to Succumb.

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, June 18.—Chicago yesterday experienced its first real summer day with the result that six persons are dead and many prostrated. Of the latter physicians say perhaps 11 will die, making the death toll for the first week 16.

A temperature of 90 degrees was recorded at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The sudden change from the long period of cool weather caught the residents unawares, and there was intense suffering all over the city, more especially in the badly congested Ghetto and other foreign quarters. In the Ghetto scores of children were reported prostrated and there were many calls for the ambulances all day.

Physicians say the sudden appearance of summer heat will produce many deaths and much sickness.

causes us to pay exorbitant prices for plumbing.

"Received. That we as a body of Portland residents urge upon the city council the necessity of repealing the ordinance providing for such business and that the office of plumbing inspector be made self-supporting by the issuance of plumbing permits upon which a nominal charge shall be made, and that the council take such steps as are necessary to enable any competent plumber to work at or engage in the plumbing business in this reported prostrated area."

"FRANCIS CAPELL, CHAS. F. FERRILL, E. A. AUSTIN, Committee."

Willis Will Present to Council. Councilman Willis now has the resolutions in charge and will present them at the council meeting tomorrow afternoon, when he will urge that some remedial action be taken.

While it is not expected that a repeal of any of the present laws will break the combine existing between plumbing firms in the city or annihilate entirely the "overcharge" and "bonus" graft of the trust members when they secure jobs, it is believed that with the way open for independent plumbers, present prices will necessarily be reduced.

If the wholesale houses of Portland refuse to sell to these outsiders when they engage in business, plumbing material will be purchased in the east and shipped here. It was shown last night that from the eastern centers material could be purchased and laid down in Portland, provided eastern wholesalers could be made to sell, at a figure far below local prices.

killed for his personal revenge, the defense will depend upon Max Malch of Globeville and Denver and Eugene Engley of Cripple Creek, Colorado. Engley is here; Malch is not. The prosecution insists that Malch did not enter this state. It would appear as if Colorado is still safer than Idaho for individuals who have been prominent in Colorado affairs. The case of Globeville received unpleasant notoriety since this trial began. Engley is a remnant of the days of Waite, a silent, brooding man.

CHINESE WINES TO BE MARKETED SOON

Ten Years' Experiments on Shores of Gulf of Chili Have Been Very Satisfactory.

(Journal Special Service.) London, June 18.—From a publication just issued by the foreign office it is learned that China is about to enter the world's wine market for the first time. Cultivation of grapes for wines has been going on experimentally for ten years on the shores of the Gulf of Chili, where acres are planted with black and white grapes from every wine-growing country of the world. Results have been satisfactory, despite some attacks of phylloxera, and cellars belonging to vineyards are now stored with thousands of cases of wine duly inscribed with description and date. None has yet been marketed, nor will any be sold until the autumn of 1907.

A British official who visited the vineyards and reported to the foreign office tasted both the red and white wines, which, he says, are excellent. The enterprise was started by wealthy Chinese residing in the straits settlements under the direction of Baron Von Babo, an Austrian expert.

ARREST IS CAUSED BY MIZNER'S LAUGH

Former Husband of Mrs. Yerkes Is Brought Into Police Court for Sneering.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, June 18.—As Dr. De Forest, police surgeon, stepped from a Broadway car last night an automobile went speeding so close to him that he had to jump back on the car to save himself. Someone in the machine made remarks about the surgeon that caused him to get out of the car and have a general police alarm sent out for the automobile. The police learned that the machine was owned by Wilson Mizner, former husband of Mrs. Yerkes, and Mizner and the auto were found on Broadway and the chauffeur taken to the police station, where Mizner made further uncomplimentary remarks about the doctor. The police lieutenant said he would lock Mizner up for using indecent language if the surgeon would make a complaint, but the doctor would not do so. The chauffeur was charged with excessive speeding and Mizner bailed him out.

possible for the state to prosecute any person for selling liquor to minors or for keeping women in saloons. The charter of the district attorney, was never intended to abrogate the state law and could not repeal a statute by implication as was contended by Mr. Wood. Both the state and city laws should stand together, the district attorney argued.

Mr. Haney followed the same line of argument. His charters recognize the ultimate power of the state law and are subservient to the power of the state statutes. He contended that the exemption language in the charter upon the defense hung its case referred to the state statute passed in 1903 providing for the control and licensing of saloons in Multnomah county and not to the state laws providing for Sunday closing. It applied only to exemption from county license and not to state prohibitions. At the conclusion of the arguments the court took the question under advisement and will render his opinion during the next few days.

WASHINGTON SHINGLE MILLS MAY CLOSE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., June 18.—Due to the weakened condition of the shingle market a movement is on foot among the manufacturers by which a wholesale closing of shingle mills in western Washington may be effected. The manufacturers lay the blame for the condition of the market upon the wholesalers, who are anxious to cover orders when some time ago at prices lower than those prevailing at present. The mills will probably close July 1.

the protection of irrigation throughout the west justifies the forest policy. He denies that the government was trying to acquire the public lands.

The conference promises important results. The committee entrusted with the work of formulating a program includes among its members, Senators Perkins of California, Heppburn of Idaho, Carter of Montana, Nixon of Nevada, Fulton of Oregon, Kittredge of South Dakota, Piles of Washington, Clark of Wyoming and Teller of Colorado. This committee has outlined the following questions to be discussed by the conference:

Program Formulated.

Has the United States the right to hold the public lands in a new state under municipal sovereignty without the consent of the state?

When the new states were admitted did not the government include the right to acquire the public lands?

The withdrawal of public lands having been urged, does such a public necessity exist in fact as would warrant the large withdrawal of land?

Has the United States capacity to engage in merchandising timber and

AMERICANS UNABLE TO LIVE IN LONDON

(Journal Special Service.) London, June 18.—The incursion of pleasure-seeking Americans this season continues at such a rate that sleeping accommodations for visitors in London are hard to find. All first-class hotels have long been filled from ground floor to roof, and their rooms are fully engaged until September.

The Cecil, Savoy, Carlton, Ritz and other hotels receive continual pleadings by cable and by would-be guests in person, but find it impossible to accommodate them. The overflow has taken refuge in the smaller commercial, family and temperance hotels and boarding houses. All of these are able to dictate their terms, and they do not miss the opportunity.

Government's Rights.

The land convention's first question to be discussed was: Has the United States government a constitutional right to hold public lands within the borders of a new state and perpetual ownership under municipal law without the consent of the state?

Pinchot and Newell were especial targets of the delegates, most of whom opposed the withdrawal of public lands for forestry reserves. Secretary Garfield said: "We are here to defend the administration's policy, which must be followed, and to get new ideas for the president."
