

NEW PLANTS AT COOS BAY

Three Millionaires Back of the Phenomenal Building Activity—One of Largest Sawmills in State Being Erected.

Three millionaires—C. A. Smith of Minneapolis, Henry Hewitt of Tacoma, and Louis J. Simpson of North Bend—are doing things for Coos Bay. A lumber mill with a daily capacity of 250,000 feet, said to be the largest in Oregon, is being built by Smith at Marshfield. A new gas and electric light plant and electric railroad is to be built by Hewitt and Simpson at North Bend and Marshfield, where Simpson is already largely interested in various industries.

J. E. Oren, general manager at Marshfield for C. A. Smith, is a Portland visitor today, and registered at the Portland hotel. He said work on the new lumber mill is being pushed, and the mill plant will be completed as rapidly as the extensive plan will permit. There will be a sawmill, a planing mill and a box factory.

Employ Four Hundred Men.
The piling for the sites is being driven, and the framing for the buildings is being sawed out. A foundation for the office structure is being laid. When the plant is completed it will give employment to about 400 men. C. A. Smith is expected to arrive next week from Minneapolis to inspect progress of the work.

Improve Steamship Service.
"As soon as these matters are shaped up we will commence work on gas, light, and electric railway plants," Mr. Simpson said. A strong movement is on foot in the bay towns to improve transportation conditions. Large sums have been subscribed toward building an electric road between Roseburg and Coos Bay. A petition is now before the Oregon railway commission for reduction of rates on the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern railroad. The merchants of the bay are cooperating in an endeavor to improve and add to steamship service between Portland and coast points. The people are anxiously awaiting some sign of revival of the Harriman project to build an extension from Drain to Coos bay.

Indiana School Teacher Will Wed Mongolian Lover Whom She Met at College.

(Journal Special Service.)
Anderson, Ind., June 19.—Miss Elizabeth Burton, a school teacher of this city, has resigned and gone to her parents' home at Terre Haute to prepare for a voyage to Tokyo by way of Seattle. Immediately on arrival at Tokyo she will be married to Kiere Ichinomya and they will reside there. She has invited her friends to visit her during the world's fair in Tokyo in 1912.

BIG RAILROAD MEN ARE HOLDING SESSION
(Journal Special Service.)
Denver, Colo., June 19.—The leading railroad systems of the United States and Canada are represented at the sixteenth annual meeting of the Freight Claim association, which opened in this city today. Robert Kirkland of Chicago is the president of the association and W. F. Taylor of Richmond, Va. is the secretary-treasurer.

The main and practically only object of the association is to facilitate the settlement of interline freight claims as between the carriers themselves, and not between carriers and claimants. The main work of the convention consists of the discussion of the reports of the various standing committees, the subject matter of which is of purely a technical nature and of little interest to the general public. The convention will be in session several days.

Tomorrow positively the last day to receive discount on east side gas bills.

WELLS FARGO TO DIVIDE PROFITS

Capitalists Trying to Pick Up Loose Stock to Realize Big Benefits.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, June 19.—Efforts of persons supposed to represent dominant stockholders in Wells Fargo & Co. to purchase minority holdings of stock, coupled with the 200 per cent extra dividend of the Adams Express company, gave rise to the report that the Wells Fargo management was contemplating similar distribution of assets.

It is known that agents have canvassed the country from Maine to California in search of any lots, however small, of Wells Fargo stock, offering to pay $200, the current market price. Since there is no contest for control, it was argued that the only reason for this action was the decision of the management to make a special distribution to stockholders.

A financial statement made by the Wells Fargo management last year, when the contest of control was on, showed that $11,674,000 of the total assets, amounting to $23,371,000, was in demand loans, and contesting stockholders complained that this large amount of loans was for the personal convenience of Edward H. Harriman. It is believed that since then these demand loans have been changed to security investments.

HARRY THAW IS TO SELECT NEW LAWYER
(Journal Special Service.)
New York, June 19.—Harry K. Thaw will select counsel this week to represent him during the second trial for the killing of Stanford White on the Madison Square roof garden on June 25, 1906. Thaw will not have D. M. Delmas as leading counsel. It is said that he will be represented at the next trial by one of the leading members of the New York bar, who has made a local reputation in big criminal cases. The identity of the lawyer will be made known only after he has been retained. Thaw has a copy of all the testimony taken during his trial and this he has been examining carefully. It is said that he thinks he has found many weak spots in the case presented by District Attorney Jerome.

Tomorrow positively the last day to receive discount on east side gas bills.
