Joseph Smith of Salt Lake Is in Portland on a Visit-Is Accompanied by the High Dignitaries of the Church.

Joseph Smith, president of the Church of Latter Day Saints, is in Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Smith and a ober of traveling companions. At the Oregon hetel, where the party is putting up, it is given out that the trip is merely incidental, a matter of pleasure and of no significance, President Smith, himself is too busy dug the sights of the city and taking the rose carnival to talk; in fact, he not want to talk and said he did desire to discuss his plans.

HAROLD LONG'S BOAT PICKED UP

The boat in which Harold Long startd to row from Washougal to Portland Tuesday night was found this morning at the head of Sauvies Island by State Lighthouse Tender Ogden. The coat, hat and shoes of young Long were in the bottom of the boat. A small puncture was discovered in the bottom of the boat, indicating that it had run into

As a strong tide was running up the Willamette Tuesday night it is believed that young Long was allowing his boat to drift up stream and perhaps had fallen asleep, when his craft struck a sing and the young man fell overboard and was drowned.

Harold Long was the only son of Mrs. Henry Patterson of 445 East Ash street. A reward of $400 has been offered for the recovery of the body.

Estate of Captain Brown.

The estate of Captain John A. Brown. of the firm of Brown & McCabe, who died recently, is valued at $154,000. A report placing the value of the property at that figure was filed in the county court this morning by the appraisers, James Watts, A. B. Hedges, and Matthew Troy.

will replace the structure of brain and nerve centers as rapidly as they are used up each day.

Chemical analysis of the particles thrown ou through the pores of the body shows that after continued brain work, a large portion of excreta contains phosphate of potash. It is known that when this element is furnished by the food in proper quantities, the system unites it with albumen and from that compound makes the gray matter that fills the nerve centers of the brain.

This is an especial feature of the food known as Grape-Nuts, a delicious, ready-cooked and predigested breakfast food.

A definite and well understood gain in brain power and ph sical strength will set in after Grape-Nuts has been used eight or ten days, and sustained and continued brain work can be carried on if a reliance is placed upon this food in connection with the ordinary food of the deap.

The complaint alleges that the railroad was negligent in keeping its right of wav clear from debris, consisting of logs, trees, old ties and grass. Further, the complaint sets forth that the debris was set on fire by passing trains and spread into the forest, burning 13,161,000 feet of timber.

According to the complaint there were two fires, both in the western end of the reserve. One was at Berry in August, and the other in the Sardine mountains in July, 1906.

The suit was brought in pursuance of the government's policy of compelling railroad companies to keep their rights of way clean and free from all inflammable debris. The complaint filed thus morning recites that the Corvaillis & Eastern was notified to clean its right of way April 24, 1906, and failed to do so.

That similar suits will be brought against railways in Oregon that have been responsible for causing the destruction of vast areas of timber is probable. Mr. Cole stated today that it was only by great effort on the part

Having in mind the unfortunate clash between several petty officers of the United States steamship Chicago and Patrolmen Kienlin and Isakson last year, which resulted in the dismissal of the latter from the police department and the fining of Kienlin, Chief Gritzmacher has issued an order to all patrolmen to deal leniently with the crews of the two warships now in the harbor.

The chief calls upon the men of his command to be careful and not give cause to any of the seamen of the vessels new in port to complain of any antagonism on the part of the police. The officers are instructed to treat the lockles with a very courteer and in the jackles with every courtesy and in the event of any of the bluejackets violat-ing the city ordinances to take the names of the offenders instead of making arrests.

All reports of disorder on the part of the seamen will be transmitted to Admiral Swinburn for adjudication. Chief Gritzmacher hopes by this method to entirely eliminate all danger of difficulty between the patrolmen and man o' warsmen

CAUSES MURDER

Suicide After Wounding Sidney Dundas.

KIND ON SALOONMAN

William Jones Shoots Proprietor Ordered Out of Resort, Wounds Bystander and Finally Blows Hole in Own Head.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., June 20 .- William Jones, a waiter and book solicitor, shot Sidney L. Dundas, proprietor of the Nevada saloon and most prominent saloon man in Tacoma, last night. Then after shooting Gifford Westcott, a chauffeur, shot himself.

Dundas was struck in the head, the bullet entering the back of his ear and imbedding in his brain. He was still alive this morning but the physicians say he will die. Westcott was struck in the calf of his leg and his injuries at the most will no more than cause him to lose the limb. In shooting himself Jones did a good job, the bullet going through his head and death resulting almost immediately.

The shooting was the result of wine and women, coupled with an impoly The shooting was the result of wine and women, coupled with an inholy passion on the part of Jones, who was a married man, for Lillian Jacobs, a pretty 16-year-old girl. Jones and the girl had been associating with one another and were recently arrested together, when he was fined $50 and given a short term in jall and she was sent home.

Is Driven Wild.

Separation from the girl drove Jones wild. Obtaining his liberty he began drinking heavily. Entering Dundas' resort last night in a drunken state he drinking heavily. Entering Dundas' resort last night in a drunken state he demanded explanations relative to the girl. Dundas ordered him out of the saloon. Instead of complying he suddenly drew a revolver and shot Dundas. Waving the weapon in his hand he started out to the street, producing scatterment among a number of loungers about the saloon. Harry Nicholson, a barber, tried to step him at the sidewalk, when whirling the weapon Jones fired. Nicholson ducked and the bullet struck Westcott. This shot held back a number who were ready to grapple with Jones and the man continued down the street half a block. There with a crowd rapidly gathering he suddenly turned the weapon on himself, putting a bullet through his head, and staggering back fell dead in the entrance of the Berlin building.

Dundas was the victim of a somewhat similar attack a year ago when Albert Elliott, a cook shot him through the body because Dundas ordered him out of his saloon. Elliott served a year in prison for the assault.

BAND MANAGER

Ruzzi Finds He Cannot Get Graduating Exercises of the Musicians and Council Releases Him.

Soft and harmonious will be the atmosphere hereafter when the park board meets to talk music, for the annual wrangle of the band leaders will be relagated to memory and "who is who" among the Portland directors will be determined by the civil service commis-

This morning L. Ruzzi, manager of the D'Urbano band, which had been awarded the contract to furnish the city park with music during the summer, informed the park board that he had violated the union rules in offering gratuitous Sunday programs and as a consequence was unable to secure playiers. He asked that he be released from his obligation and as the board was disposed to be lenient it not only released him but returned his certified check for faithful performance of his contract.

When this action was taken the board as considered a plan submitted by J. R. Tomilinson, one of the band leaders of the city, asking that the plan followed in eastern cities of hiring a band manager to look after the concerts be adoptived. The suggestion proved a timely sone and after some discussion as to whether or not the city is service would sanction the putting of musicians on the payroll it was decided that such could be done, provided a request was made of the commission. Secretary Mc-phersbn informed the board that upon request a manager and 30 musicians would be appointed from month to month until examinations could be held. The matter of appointing a manager will be taken up at the next meeting.

Mr. Tomilinson is after the job and will make a strong bid to land it.

Concerts in the city park will commence the first Sunday in July and will be appointed from month to make a strong bid to land it.

COMMISSION KEEPS CLOSE TAB ON ROADS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June '20. — The Oregon state railway commission yesterday made an order requiring every railroad operating in the state to keep an accurate book of accounts and records of the movement of traffic in the same general manner and detail prescribed by the interstate commerce commission by carriers which are under its jurisdiction. The order becomes effective July 1, 1907. Such books of account and records show in detail the movement of all traffic within Oregon and the receiving and expenditures of each railroad within or assignable to Oregon.

Will hold a reception at the Golden Eagle tomorrow from 4 to 5 o'clock. Bring the children.

WIFE DECLINED TO COME WEST WITH HIM

John C. Poucher this morning filed suit for divorce from Clara Poucher in the circuit court, charging desertion because his wife refused to move to Oregon. Poucher says that they were married at Burr Oak, Michigan, in May, 1872, and that he came to the coast in March, 1898. He wrote numerous letters to his wife, he alleges, asking her to come to Oregon and Join him, but she refused. They have seven children. Suit for divorce from Sam Stein was filed in the circuit court this morning by Mrs. Mary Stein, who charges desertion in June, 1904. They were married in this city in March, 1993. Mrs. Stein has three minor children by a former husband.
