

Oregon Daily Journal

Journal Circulation
Yesterday Was 28,648

ARE YOU GOING AWAY? Have
The Journal follow you to give you all the news from home.

The Weather—Showers tonight and Saturday; south to west winds.

VOL. VI. NO. 92.

PORTLAND, OREGON, FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1907.—TWENTY PAGES.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

ON TRAINS AND NEWS
STANDS, FIVE CENTS

ROSES OF ROSE WREATHED CARS IN PROCESSION

Bewildering Display of Floral Beauty Marks First Rose Carnival Parade in Portland

DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE DISCUSSES PLANS FOR ADVERTISING OREGON

Governor Chamberlain Welcomes Delegates From Many Towns in the State and Pleads for United Action in Development.

President Smith Speaks for Protection of Waterways, Reclamation of Arid Regions and Preparation for the Future.

E. L. SMITH, PRESIDENT OF DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE.

Classed all publications in two categories, one published for the reader and one for the publisher. Advertise in the publication that is read, was his advice.

Tom Richardson announced that he would retire from his public work on January 1, 1908. In the meanwhile he said that he would put forth every effort to bring 25,000 people to Oregon next fall.

(Continued on Page Five.)

STARTLING STORY TOLD AT INQUEST

Mrs. Reynolds Declares She Had Planned to Run Away With the Man Her Husband Killed at Her Home in Her Presence.

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict That Professor Herbert Came to His Death From Gunshot Wound Inflicted by Reynolds.

Startling testimony given voluntarily by Mrs. Lulu M. Reynolds, wife of C. H. Reynolds, at the coroner's inquest this morning laid bare the story of the wife's unfaithfulness, of the alleged sin of Professor George Herbert of Walla Walla and disclosed the cause behind the action of Reynolds in shooting down the musician when he found him with Mrs. Reynolds two days ago.

Mrs. Reynolds came forward at the coroner's inquest and confessed her sin with the dead man, and told in detail with her own tongue and in her own words the story of her unfaithfulness to her husband, and of the prearrangement of their meeting in Portland just prior to the shooting.

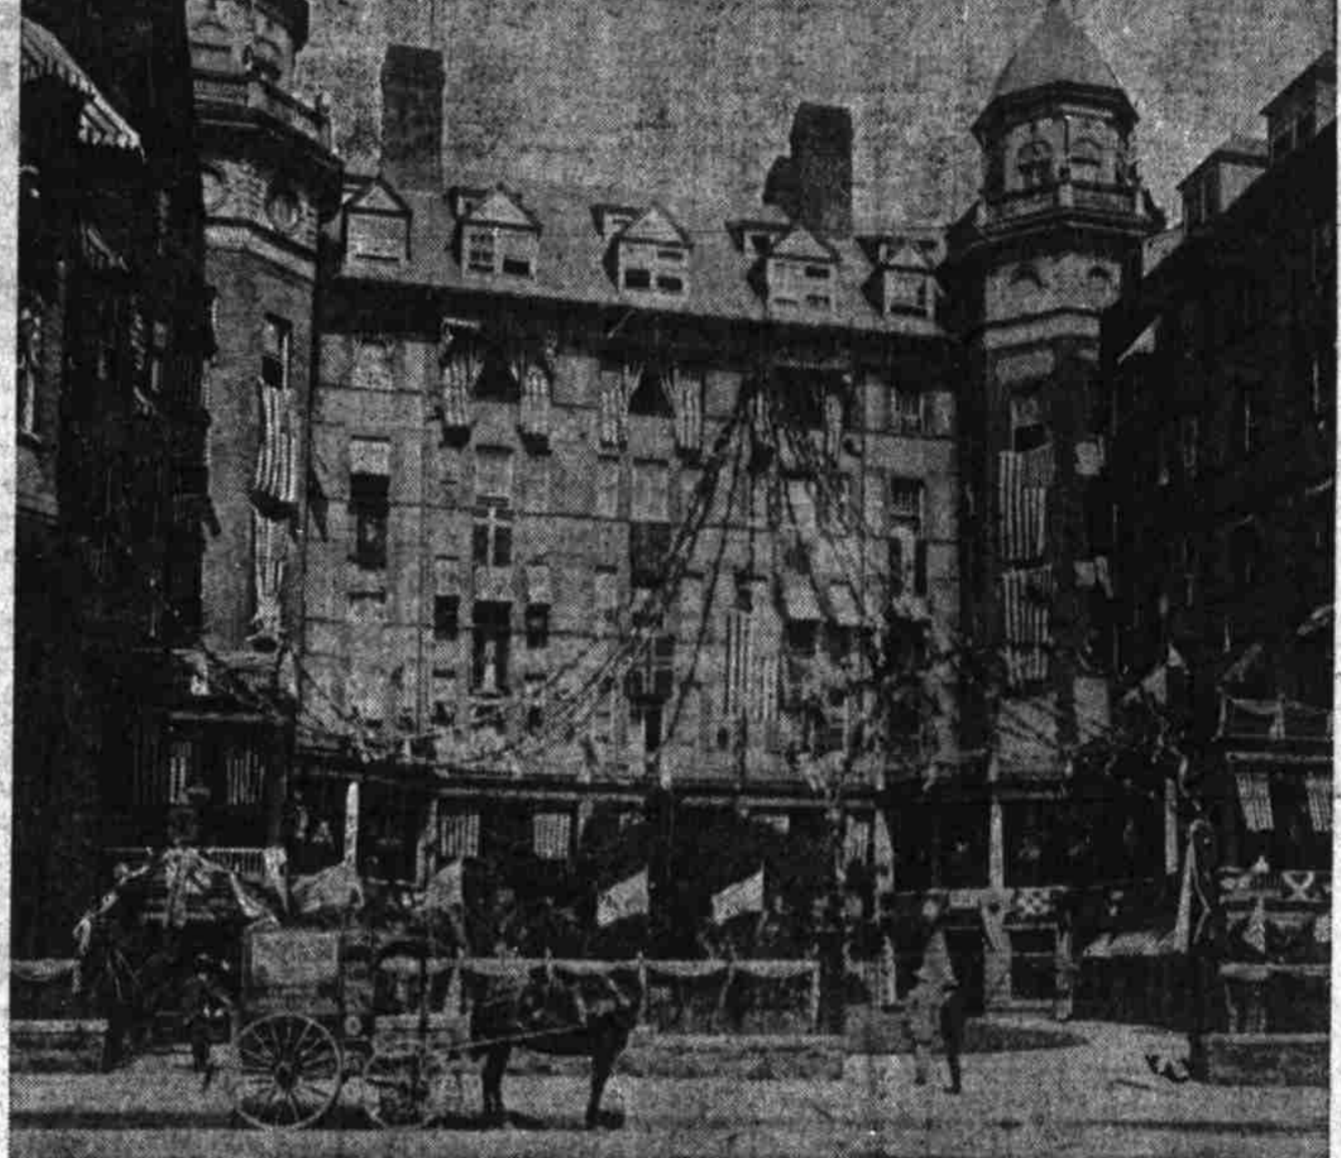

What the effect of the testimony will be is uncertain. Its very truth is suspected by some. It being thought that the story is a concocted one rehearsed to gain favor and possible freedom for Reynolds, who has from the first claimed that he shot Herbert because she was the despoiler of his home.

Following these witnesses Charles Schnabel, attorney for Reynolds, said that Mrs. Reynolds was there and would make a statement. Mrs. Reynolds then came forward ready to testify, but both the coroner and the district attorney were adverse to her making any statement, it being explained to her that under the law she was not compelled to give testimony which might influence the jury against her husband.

Each Wrote Many Letters. Mrs. Reynolds, in her statement, said that she had met Professor Herbert quite a time ago and that from the first they had been attracted toward each other.

(Continued on Page Fifteen.)

FIESTA DECORATIONS PORTLAND HOTEL COURT

MILLIONS OF FLOWERS IN DECORATIONS

Vast Crowds Throng Streets to View Beautiful Floats as They Wend Their Way Through Brilliantly Decorated Streets.

Autos So Heavily Banked With Blossoms That No Part of Cars Is Seen—Gayest Sight Ever Seen on Portland's Streets.

- Saturday's Fiesta Program.
- 3:30—Automobile parade, consisting of a large presentation of decorated automobiles.
- 3:00—Baseball game between lawyers-bankers against doctors teams.
- 9:00—Grand fire department race on Yamhill street to Multnomah field, illuminated by red fire.
- 4:30—Baseball game by electric light by double teams from Spokane and Portland railroad men.
- Midnight—Railroad men's finish at Commercial club banquet.

The Goddess of Roses is swaying the scepter in Portland today and all inhabitants, from the oldest tottering on his cane to the youngest crowing in his pipe, acknowledge her dominion. Miles of rose-wreathed cars and cabs crawling at procession pace through the streets lined with thousands of rose-bedeked celebrators; roses showered as greetings from friend to friend, and to crown all, the vast rugged aisles of the Forestry building softened and banked with tons of bloom.

(Continued on Page Two.)

STATE RESTS IN HAYWOOD CASE

FRENCH TROOPS JOIN REBELS

Soldiers Desert From Army Rather Than Fire Upon Winegrowers.

Paris, June 21.—The cabinet went into secret session at noon today to discuss the report that the troops refused to fire on the rebel winegrowers.

LANDSLIDE KILLS AMERICAN SERGEANT

London, June 21.—An American sergeant of marines was killed and heavy damage done to the American naval barracks by a landslide at Pagopago on the southeast coast of the island of Tutuila, Samoa, today.

LITTLE EVIDENCE AGAINST PRISONER

Total of Damaging Matter Consists of Orchard Story and One Letter.

Boise, Idaho, June 21.—At half past 10 o'clock this morning James H. Hawley of counsel for the prosecution announced that "the state rested" in its case against William D. Haywood for the murder of Frank Steunenberg, one time governor of Idaho.

FORESTRY BUILDING JAMMED

Immense Crowds This Morning Pack Lower Hall and Balcony While Viewing Exquisite Exhibit of Portland's Floral Beauties—Final Awards Are Made.

At the Forestry building today a crowd of eager visitors, three-fold greater than yesterday, viewed the roses which form a solid bank from one end of the immense building to the other.

(Continued on Page Two.)

JUDGE CLELAND IN CIRCUIT COURT TO HAND DOWN DECREE ON SUNDAY CLOSING.

Presiding Judge Cleland in circuit court tomorrow morning will announce his decision in the case involving the Sunday closing of saloons in the city of Portland, passing upon the question whether the state law, providing that saloons must be closed on Sunday, is set aside in this city by a provision of the city charter.

(Continued on Page Two.)

PRETTY GIRLS THROUGH BOOTHS

Vie With the Blooms to Attract the Attention of Visitors to the Show at the Forestry Building—Variety of Roses Shown by Railroad Men.

Yesterday roses and pretty girls vied with each other in drawing the attention of the throng of visitors at the Forestry building. During the afternoon and evening business was rushing and the whole scene was one of great animation.

The old-fashioned well where lemonade and punch were served was much admired. Another attractive booth was the soda fountain where the decorations in marguerites, blueets and lupines were particularly tasteful.

ELOPES WITH MANIAC FROM COUNTY PRISON

San Bernardino, Cal., June 21.—A genuine elopement from the county jail occurred yesterday. Bert Taylor, serving six months for forgery, eloped with Miss Jane Juanita Costello. The lovers took advantage of privileges given Taylor as trustee for frequent meetings in the jailer's office. Yesterday morning Taylor disappeared and was caught a block away in his home. General Agent Sechrist of the New York Cen-

GAILY DECORATED FIRE ENGINE IN FLORAL PARADE.

STENOGRAPHER WINS HEART OF EMPLOYER

Chicago, June 21.—The girl did her work well. When her employer asked to take her out for an auto ride, she said, "No." When rich men flattered her and evasive acquaintances, said things that are so hard for a girl to hear and endure, she said nothing but kept on working at her typewriter. And today she is mistress of a $25,000 home in Oak Park, with servants to do her bidding and a husband who adores her.