TODAY'S MARKETS

Front Street Is Enjoying Half Holiday Today on Account of the Rose Festival —Grocers Will Also Close for Show.

FORMER PRICES UNBELIEVABLE

Values Ten Years Ago Look Funny When Compared to Those Ruling Today.

Today's market features:
Marked change in values.
Salt prices to advance.
Cabbage prices are lower.
New potatoes coming faster.
Another car naval oranges.
Chicken market going to pieces.
Turkeys selling very low.
Larger receipts of loganberries.
Eggs are holding just steady.
Small supplies of fish in market.
Cheese market to drop soon.
Nothing doing in hop market.

Marked Change in Produce Values.

Few people realize the marked changes that have occurred in produce prices during the past few years. The change within 10 years is so much that former values look almost impossible. As given by Davenport Bros. from a cash book they show:

	1897.	1907.
Potatoes, new	$ .50	$4.50
Blackberries	.35	2.50
Peaches	.50	1.25
Apples, new	.40	1.25
Currants	.60	2.40
Raspberries	.35	2.60

In the above table it will be noted that potatoes sold about this time in 1897 at 50c a sack. A sack of potatoes weighs about 110 pounds on an average; some going higher and others a fraction less. Today new potatoes are selling at $4.50 per hundred pounds. In these days when blackberries are selling around $2.50 a crate for 24s, it is refreshing for the trade to know that once upon a time they were cheap; values in 1897 about this time ranging around 35c a crate for 24 boxes. It is very seldom these days that peaches go below the dollar mark for good fruit. Just now they are selling from $1.10 to $1.25 a box, but in 1897 about this date dealers were very eager to dispose of them at 50c a box. Currants have not been cheap for several years, but this year they are unusually high. In 1897 about this time they sold at 60c a crate, while today many times that sum is obtained. Raspberries move readily today in the local market at $2.50 a crate for 24s but in 1897 the Front street dealers were very eager to clean up their stocks at 35c a crate.

Loganberries Are Coming Faster.

A material increase is shown in arrivals of loganberries in the local market today. Liberal consignments from the combine at Brooks have arrived; likewise some from southern Oregon. Prices are therefore lower.

The car of Brawley cantaloupes reported in yesterday was unloaded this morning. Selling at $4 a crate.

Strawberries are very firm with most sales today at $2. Small arrivals.

Cherry market is very badly mixed, owing to the large amount of poor fruit coming.

Cabbage prices are lower with the larger local receipts. Quality of California stuff generally poor.

Still another car of naval oranges was reported in this morning by Dryer, Bollam & Co. Very fine shape.

New Potatoes Coming Faster.

For new potatoes the local market is easier. Receipts from California are increasing. Another car came in this morning but it cost more money than the last one. Local new potatoes are coming in much better shape and are finding a fair sale at quoted figures.

Another car of Minnesota potatoes is due tonight and another Saturday. Market for old stock very firm with a wide range in prices according to quality.

California onions are now being sold by the sack instead of by the pound as formerly. Market steady.

Salt Prices to Advance.

Probably this afternoon and probably tomorrow there will likely be an advance of 50c a ton in both coarse and fine grades of salt. This advance has been made by the salt manufacturers and local values are almost sure to follow. This confirms the statements made by The Journal some time ago that salt values would show a still higher range.

Eggs Are Holding Steady.

Conditions in the egg market remain quite badly mixed. Many sales are being made by receivers at 22c a dozen and in a few instances as high as 22½c is obtained. In isolated instances even higher prices are obtained by those that do not receive big shipments.

Chicken market is very weak and prices are lower and a still lower range is expected by the trade. There is hardly any demand for turkeys and some recent arrivals were sold as low as 11c a pound. Quotations in that line nominal. Nothing doing in geese.

Cheese market shows an easier tone all the way through. Receipts are increasing but thus far the trade has not received its requirements. Lower prices soon.

Creamery butter market holding well with the output showing but little increase. Demand steady at printed values.

Brief Notes of the Trade.

Front street houses and wholesale grocers closed at noon on account of the rose festival. Legal holiday.

No new trading is reported in the hop market but the trade expects something to turn up in the near future. Local crop reports are mixed.

But small supplies of fish are shown in the local markets. "I guess that we will be forced to send to Astoria for shad," says C. J. B. Malarkey, "because fishing on the Willamette slough has been stopped. It looks as if all laws regarding fishing were made for the exclusive benefit of Astoria and against the rest of the state."

HEAVY SALMON RUN IN COLUMBIA RIVER

Special Dispatch to The Journal.

Astoria, Or., June 21.—The run of fish the last two days shows a heavy increase and cannery men and fishermen generally are feeling jubilant over the now expected heavy run.

CHICKENS IN STEW, SAYS JOHN KOSKEY

"We have been having an awful time in trying to get rid of poultry during the past week. No one seems to want to buy—what few sales reported being at low figures. I have been offering springs down to 15c, but the buyer said he could buy them for less. It looks at this time as if the market was going to pieces. The market is not only weak with us but others tell me the same thing."
—John M. Koskey of McEwen & Koskey.

CATTLE TONE GROWS WEAKER

General Market for the Best Steers Is Not Over Four Dollars.

Portland Union Stockyards, June 21.—Livestock receipts:

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep.
Today	.....	825	127
Week ago	100	700	...
Year ago	...	...	...
Prev. year	45	78	50

There is a weaker tone in cattle with arrivals liberal during the past 24 hours. Run was 825 head as against 700 head a week ago, none a year ago and 78 head this day in 1906. While today's market for cattle was at about yesterday's range, still a smaller per cent of arrivals are being made above $4 for best steers. Four and a quarter steers are getting scarcer every day and although once in awhile as high as that sum is obtained for something out of the ordinary in quality, the general market may truthfully be said to be top at $4.

Hogs Depend Upon East.

With Pacific coast packers securing the major part of their supplies from the east, the local market is quiet but steady. Thus far there has been no break in eastern values and as this market is at present a follower instead of a leader, the changes there are instantly reflected here. The trade is still of the opinion that hogs will soon go to $6. No receipts for the 24 hours. This compared with 100 head a week ago, none this day a year ago and 45 head in 1905.

A year ago today hogs were steady.

Steadier in Sheep.

A steadier tone is noted today in the sheep market as a result of the continued light run. At this period a year ago the run was likewise light. Then, sheep were firm in consequence. Today 50 horses arrived.

Official livestock prices:

Hogs—Best eastern Oregon, $6.75; stockers and feeders, $6.50; China fats, $6.25@6.50.

Cattle—BeSat eastern Oregon steers, $4.00¾4.25; best cows and heifers, $3.25@3.50; bulls, $2.00.

Sheep—Wethers, $4.50@4.75; lambs $5.50@5.75.

EASTERN MARKETS STEADY

Hogs, Cattle and Sheep Hold Well in Chicago.

Chicago, June 21.—Official receipts:

	Hogs.	Cattle	Sheep.
Chicago	20,000	2,000	6,000
Kansas City	12,000	$5,000	2,000
Omaha	9,000	2,000	3,000

Hogs are steady with 2,000 left over. Receipts a year ago were 24,000. Mixed, $6.95@6.35; rough, $5.90@6.50; heavy, $6.10¾6.32½; light, $6.00@6.05.

Sheep steady.

Cattle steady.

HEAVINESS ABROAD CREATES SENTIMENT

New York Stock Market Is Slow—Bad Bank Statement Is Expected.

New York, June 21.—The stock market held very steady today. A bad bank statement is expected tomorrow. Probably the chief factor that created more ore less sentiment here today was the heaviness of foreign markets. Big professionals offered stocks down at the opening, and continued to sell moderately of active issues, catching some small stop orders. Sales today were 206,000 shares.

CONDITION OF RUSSSIAN CROP

Czar's Government Gives Winter Wheat at Sixty-Six Per Cent.

Russian Crop Report.

Condition of winter wheat crop as estimated by Russian government up to June 15 shows 66 per cent against a condition of 64 per cent May 15, 1907, 84 per cent June 15, 1906. Spring wheat is 80 per cent. Oats show 82 per cent against 80 per cent May 15, and 84 per cent June 15, 1906.

Chicago, June 21.—Considering the selling of wheat all day long on the theory that the telegraphers would strike, the market showed remarkable strength. A strike would tie up all the market wires and this scared some long holders into selling. Liverpool was lower for the day and closed easier.

The Ontario crop is now promised at about half a crop.

The Record-Herald says: A wire from Winnipeg says crop conditions in the Canadian northwest were favorable, but two weeks late. Manitoba wired wheat is three weeks late and must get favorable growing weather to make up the loss before frost. Secretary Smiley of the Kansas grain dealers, who was in Kansas City, issued a public statement and says: The conditions of wheat in Sumner county is 30 to 35 per cent, Stafford 40 per cent, Smith 25 to 30 per cent, Sedgwick 60 per cent, Russell 80 per cent, Pawnee 25 to 30 per cent Crowely 35 per cent. Estimates of the Kansas wheat crop as given out yesterday by prominent Kansas citizens and grain houses ranged from 45,000,000 to 55,000,000 bushels.

Texas is buying oats in St. Louis, something that has heretofore been unheard of in June.

Turner, Hudnut & Co., an elevator firm, says: "Our senior member was down in Mason county yesterday, and says he did not see a field of oats that would pay for the seed."

PLAN TO HAVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL BEATEN

The proposition of building a union school for Gresham, Troutdale and Districts No. 5 and 26 was defeated at the election held last Monday. Had it carried Multnomah county would have had the first high school in the state provided under the union act passed by the last legislature.

The really happy vacationer is the one who goes where he can't find out anything that is going on, and doesn't want to.

TAHOE LAKE IS RAPIDLY RISING

Forty Thousand Dollars' Damage Has Been Done—More Is Feared.

(Journal Special Service.)

Reno, Nev., June 21.—The waters of Lake Tahoe have risen rapidly on account of the warm rains during the past week and already damage amounting to about $40,000 has been done by the washing away of wharves at several places on the shore. Property owners along the lake are anxiously awaiting to see what the effect will be on the big dam near Tahoe City. Never before have the waters been so turbulent, having risen almost two feet within a week. Much damage has been done at Tahoe Tavern and Tahoe City by the washing away of tracks. At Brokway, Tallac and MacKinneys the wharves are gone and it is feared that an east wind will wash away the postoffice and store at the latter place.

The dam is being guarded night and day for fear the property owners would blow it out to protect their holdings. Should a large body of water escape it would play havoc with railroad bridges of the transportation companies and also cause damage along the Truckee river, which is running high.

HOMESEEKERS TO HUNTLEY PROJECT

Congestion at Billings, Montana, Crowds Town to Capacity—Easterners Swarming There.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Billings, Mont., June 21.—With the cheap excursion rates going into effect from Missouri river and other eastern points, an influx of homeseekers flooded the city today, all anxious to register for the lands of the Huntley project. It is estimated that more than 1,000 persons arrived today and reports are that fully as many more will reach Billings tomorrow. As a result the registration list rose rapidly throughout the day and will aggregate approximately 2,500 this evening. All of the hotels and rooming houses are crowded to their capacity and it is believed if those who are now on the ground remain until the drawing, tents and other temporary quarters will have to be erected to take care of those who come during the remaining days.

GOOD PRICES ARE PROMISED PRUNES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Springfield, Or., June 21.—R. L. Gile, a prune buyer for a well-known Salem association and manager of the Umpqua Valley Prune association at Roseburg, while here stated that the price for prunes would be high this season and that he was making contracts now at 4 and 5 cents. The reason for these values is that the prune crop in France, which is a great factor, is very poor. The crop in California is also only about 60 per cent. While the Oregon crop is a little short, 80 per cent probably, the prunes will be much larger and under the old scale would bring the grower much better money, for the reason that the expense in handling it would be very much less and the grades better.

Lane county is not a great factor in prune raising, because the orchards are rarely over five acres in extent. The fruit, however, grows well here, but other products are so much more profitable that few trees were ever set out.

STARTLING STORY

came to Portland, Mrs. Reynolds said he had written to her telling of his intended visit and asking her to find him a convenient room. She had complied with the request and had rented room 30 in the Lincoln hotel, choosing that room because it was close to her own residence and convenient for them both.

Herbert had reached Portland on Friday, June 14, Mrs. Reynolds said, and had gone to the room at the hotel. She had met him there and they had been together every afternoon and evening from that time until the time of the shooting.

Visited Herbert's Room.

Mrs. Reynolds stated that she had been at his room quite a number of times and had remained with him there for extended periods of time. He had also been at her residence for longer or shorter periods, though he was adverse to going there for fear of running into Reynolds.

According to Mrs. Reynolds' story Herbert had telephoned to her at her residence as soon as he reached Portland on Friday and had asked her to come to him at the Lincoln stating that he did not like to come to her for fear of meeting Reynolds at the house. Afterwards, however, he had been at the Reynolds residence a number of times.

On the day of the shooting, Mrs. Reynolds said she and Herbert had arranged to spend the afternoon in the park. Herbert had called for her about 2 o'clock but she was not ready to go so she prevailed upon him to wait for a short time.

In the meantime she had telephoned to her husband that she could not be down to the bath establishment to relieve him until 5 o'clock, stating that she was going out to the park for the afternoon and would not be back in time to keep an appointment she had made with Reynolds at 4:30. She had then gone to prepare for the trip but before she had finished Reynolds had come home and the shooting resulted.

In Love With Herbert.

At this juncture Schnabel asked Mrs. Reynolds if she was in love with Herbert and the woman replied that she was. She then proceeded with her story and said that she and Herbert had come to an understanding by which Herbert was to take her to Chicago in a short time where they were to live together until she could get a divorce from Reynolds, after which she and Herbert were to be married. She stated that Herbert had pleaded with her to marry him, and to run away with him and that it had been arranged for this fall.

Mrs. Reynolds stated that she carried a key to Herbert's room from the time she engaged it and that she had used many times before the shooting. After Herbert had died, the woman said, she had gone to the hotel with Attorney Schnabel and had searched the room, finding a lot of letters she had written to Herbert and a number of hairpins which had been dropped at different times on the floor during her visits there.

Mrs. Reynolds said she had taken these away with her. She had also taken two letters which Herbert had had in his pocket at the time he was shot and had them all in her possession. She had wanted the letters because they explained how matters stood between them and did not want them to be found by outsiders.

Children Told of Visits.

The witness stated in closing that the visits of Herbert had been told of by the children of Reynolds. Schnabel asked Mrs. Reynolds is she had made a statement to the district attorney contrary to the statement she made before the jury, and she stated that she had done so. She also said that the first statement was false and she had made it because she had been told at the office of the district attorney that Herbert was not badly hurt and would recover.

She had not wanted to tell of her guilt if it was possible for Herbert to get well. She also said that she had two photographs of Herbert in the house. The woman also said that she had attempted to prevent the shooting, but it had been ispossible as she was overpowered by Reynolds.
