Ira Kahn, with J. Barth & Co., stock brokers of San Francisco, and well known financially in the Bay City, says that Portland has a very great future.

that Portland has a very great future.

"It is substantial, clean and well-regulated," he says. "There is a great deal of building going on and everything at this time promises to make Portland a big city."

Mr. Kahn has not been in Portland for two years and was very much surprised at its growth. He is just returning from an extended vacation in the east, and after seeing Seattle says it cannot be even compared to Portland. He and his family are visiting L. Coblints at 141 North Twenty-second street.

KING HOLDS GARDEN PARTY AT WINDSOR

London, June 22.—One of the most brilliant functions of its kind ever given by King Edward since he ascended the throne was the garden party today at Windsor Castle. From Paddington station the guests were taken to the royal borough by special trains. The guests were nearly 6,000 in number, and included many well-known Americans.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra, assisted by other members of the royal family, received the guests on the beautiful lawn below the east terrace. Military bands were placed in different parts of the castle grounds, and the refreshments were served in a number of large marquees erected on the lawn.

UNVEIL STATUE OF LATE THOMAS BAYARD

Former President Grover Cleveland Delivers Oration at the

(Journal Special Service.) Wilmington, Del., June 22 .- A bronze statue of Thomas F. Bayard, former

United States senator, former secretary of state, and first ambassador of the United States to the court of St. James, was unveiled today with interesting but modest ceremonies. Ex-President Grover Cleveland, in whose cabinet Mr. Bayard was secretary of state and who ap-pointed him ambassador to Great Britwas secretary of state and who appointed him ambassador to Great Britain, delivered the oration.

The statue is located at Woodlawn and Shallcross avenues, at the entrance to Rockford Park, and it was here that the ceremonies of the day were held n the presence of a large gathering that included state and city officials and other invited guests. Judge George Gray presided, and after a prayer by Bishop Coleman, the oration was delivered by Mr. Cleveland. The ex-President spoke eloquently of the life and character of Mr. Bayard and dwelt especially upon his distinguished services as a statesman and diplomatist.

The memorial statue was modelled by Miss Effic Stillman (now Mrs. William Ritchie), of London, and was cast at a bronze foundry in England. It is about seven feet in height and represents Mr. Bayard in a characteristic pose, with a cloak thrown over one arm and a roll of paper in the other hand.

LEWIS AND CHEHALIS NEVER SO WELL OFF

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chehalis, Wash., June 22 .- The great increase in the business done by the Chehalis banks, the postoffice, the depot and by merchants generally is no greater in proportion than that done by the county auditor's office. County Auditor's office county auditor's fixerns' records show that from Juna, 1904, to June, 1905, 2,196 instruments were filed for record, and from June, 1905, to June, 1906, 3,872. From June, 1906, to June, 1907, the total jumped to 5,711, an increase in two years of about 125 per cent. One very satisfactory feature of this business is that the proportion of mortgages filed is not very great. There was never a time in the history of Lewis county and the city of Chehalis when people generally were so prosperous as they are now. Chehalis banks, the postoffice, the depot
