NO CLOSED SEASON FOR TROUT FISHING

NO PROTECTION FOR GAME FISH EXCEPT IN THE UMPQUA RIVER

GAME LAW REVOKED BY AMENDMENT

Last Legislature Amended Closed Season Statute So That It Only Applies to Umpqua River and Its Tributaries.

There is no longer a closed season for trout fishing in the state of Oregon except in the Umpqua river and its tributaries, and anglers may fish for trout at any time of the year in any river or creek in the state except in the Umpqua river and its tributaries.

REPRESENTATIVE JACKSON OF DOUGLAS COUNTY, AUTHOR OF AMENDMENT TO FISHING LAW WHICH NULLIFIES CLOSED SEASON STATUTE.

Law Reads as Follows.—It shall be unlawful for any person to take, catch, kill or have in possession any trout except in the Umpqua river and its tributaries, during the months of December, January and February of any year taken from the waters of the Umpqua river or its tributaries, or at any time to take, catch, kill, or have in possession any trout, char or salmon less than five inches in length, or to take, catch or kill the same by any means whatever except with hook and line, commonly called angling.

It is held that the closed season provision of this amendment of the old law applies only to the Umpqua river and its tributaries, leaving no law whatever providing a closed season for trout fishing in any other stream in the state. This bill was introduced by Representative Jackson of Roseburg, and was passed without change. The amendment is found on page 14 of the 1907 session laws.

PRETTY WOMAN LOSES CLOTHES

Chicago Professor Goes Fishing With Trunk Full of Female Apparel.

Chicago, June 28.—When Professor Herman Churchill of Northwestern university opens what he supposes to be his trunk at whatever place he has gone to for his summer vacation he will find the following mysterious articles: Two white silk waists, three white skirts, two pairs of high-heeled French shoes, one satchel bag, two pairs 12-button kid gloves, two pairs each of black hats, white silk and tan linen hose, and a miscellaneous assortment of women's lingerie, hats, perfume bottles, belts, etc. In the meantime Miss Claudine M. Wilkinson, a Freshman at Stanford university, is wondering how she is going to be able to use, instead of her missing garments, the following mysterious things: One pair of white duck trousers, two pairs boxing gloves, one pair calfskin boots, a rod and fishing tackle, pipes, six packages of smoking tobacco, one razor, a strip and shaving mug, and a 38-caliber gun.

SCHOOL DISTRICT TO LOSE MONEY

Inadequate Census Taken by Clerk Allen Will Cost District Many Thousands.

Portland Independent School District No. 1 will lose between $30,000 and $50,000 if the census of the school population taken under the direction of School Clerk Allen is permitted to go to the county school superintendent for apportionment. Practically every school official in the city believes the census taken last February falls short between 3,000 and 5,000 of the real population of school age and from expressions made this morning a recount of the children will be asked for at once.

The increase in enrollment in the city schools is about 160 per cent greater than the increase in the school population as shown by Clark Allen's census. School authorities are agreed that under normal circumstances the increase in school attendance should be but 70 per cent of the increase in school population.

WED LOVER OF YOUTH AFTER FIFTY YEARS

Though the winters of almost half a century have passed over them since they saw each other, a romance of the long ago has been revived, and in a few days Mrs. H. M. Stevens, 751 Vancouver avenue, this city, will leave for Texas, where she is to marry the sweetheart of her childhood days, J. N. Hopper, now an old man.

Mrs. Stevens, or Mrs. Pierce, as she is more generally known in Portland, has resided here since 1851. She has been prominently identified with church work on the east side and with women's clubs of this city. The venerable groom is a prosperous merchant of Gilmer, Texas. He is 68 years of age; his bride-to-be five years his junior.

Going to Have a Big Time---Have You Helped?

EVERY loyal Portlander loves his country and believes that making children happy is good for the heart, wants a big Fourth of July celebration, and what is more, is going to have one, for the "kids" and grown-ups of Portland. There will be a parade, speech-making, fireworks and all that goes to make the day a noisy success.

GEE!

YOU remember when you were a "kid," don't you? And how you looked forward to the glorious Fourth and its accompaniment of glorious noises, explosions, red-lights, rockets, Roman candles and glare? Well, there are other "kids" now, your own among them, who look forward just as eagerly and just as anxiously as you ever did to what is coming, and you must help to make the coming Fourth a red-letter day in the lives of thousands of small boys and maids.

OSWALD WEST PLAYING COWBOY

State Railroad Commissioner Dons Disguise and Rides in a Cattle Car.

Albany, Or., June 28.—Disguised as a cowpuncher, State Railroad Commissioner Oswald West passed through Albany en route to Portland yesterday, riding in a cattle car. Commissioner West's identity was unknown to the railroad officials and employes, and he was doing the regular work of a cowman to avoid detection, his purpose being to make a first-hand investigation of shipping conditions.

It is the determination of the state railroad commission to bring about a change in the methods of the Southern Pacific in handling large consignments of livestock. The idea of having a member of the state commission make a trip incognito to learn conditions as they really exist was hit upon, and Commissioner West undertook the task.

Far out in the distance Mount Hood, Mount Adams and Mount St. Helens will shine like giant beacons in the night, dispelling the darkness for miles around. Arrangements for the most spectacular Fourth of July celebration ever seen on this coast are about completed.
