

LITTLE FOLKS CLEVER ACTORS

Rehearsals of "House That Jack Built" Bringing Out Some Unusual Talent.

Some of the little people who are to appear in "The House That Jack Built" are pushing the principals hard for honors in the rehearsal. The airs and graces of "Mary Mary," "Gusie Con-Charly," "The Old Bachelor," "The Soubrette," while "Little Bo-Peep" in as sweetly demure as the childhood's favorite should be. Winifred Lewis plays this part and her singing will delight her hearers.

The Three Crowns are portrayed in all their uncanny humor by David Corning, James Beary and Fred Smith. The tragic music which accompanies the plotting of these mischief-makers at the instigation of the King of Hearts is decidedly creepy.

Roland Geary plays "The Crooked Man," Shirley Fiske represents the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, and has much difficulty managing her wayward children. Jack and Gill are played by Ronald Strong and Elizabeth Melvin who do some pretty dancing. Mrtle Martin as Mother Hubbard, with her real live dog, is a decided attraction, and so is Tom, the Piper's Son, with a truly pig—whereby hangs a quirky tale.

It appears that nowhere in town could be found a real live porker of portable size and with the vocal accomplishments necessary to so distinguished a company. Finally the Union Meat company sent a man to Troutdale to get a pig with which Tom could run away, and the pig is now in the hands of the performance. The soubriquet of the pig could not be learned at the time of going to press, but Tom is played by Ernest Critchfield.

The Three Blind Mice are said to be quite harmless, although they do give the audience a scare, and little Miss Muffitt with her spider are worth going to see. The dear little maiden who plays this part and who sings so charmingly is Gretchen Smith.

Other clever children are the bowl bearer to Old King Cole, Harold Brisson, the page to the King, Edith Olds, and the queen's page, Nan Russell; while Jack Goose, son of the estimable old lady is done by the musician and with decided ability by Wayne Coe.

The performance runs smoothly from start to finish and the prospects are that capacity houses will greet every performance. Seats are selling rapidly. Those who wish boxes or logs for such performance of the kind as the Jack Built will please see or telephone Mrs. H. D. Green at the Nortonia.

SUBURBAN DEAL OF MAGNITUDE

Jacobs-Stine Company Purchases Rossmore Addition for Quarter Million.

A suburban realty deal of considerable magnitude and importance was closed this morning, when the Jacobs-Stine company became the owner of Rossmore, an addition recently put on the market by the Title Guarantee & Trust company. The sale was negotiated directly between Mr. Jacobs and the Title Guarantee & Trust company and involved a consideration of nearly $250,000.

Rossmore is considered one of the most desirable tracts around Portland. It is a continuation of the elevated ground of which the Holladay Park addition is a part and lies just east of the city beyond this addition. A large amount of improvement work has already been done in Rossmore. Six thousand feet of six-foot cement sidewalks have been laid, with contracts let to lay about 36,000 additional feet. Streets are being graded throughout the tract, and water mains laid.

This is the fourth large suburban addition that the Jacobs-Stine company has handled since coming to Portland six months ago. Belle Crest was put on the market and sold in 60 days; then Berkeley, containing 1,300 lots, was sold clear in two weeks, and the company is now selling North Belle Crest, while Rossmore will be offered to the public in a few days.
