MAY RECALL LAST CENSUS

School Board Will Endeavor to Have Enumeration Retaken—Believed That District Has Lost About Thirty Thousand Dollars.

Director J. V. Beach of the Portland school board will endeavor this week to determine whether or not the school census for the district submitted by School Clerk Allen to County School Superintendent Robinson for apportionment can be recalled for correction.

Chairman H. Wittenberg and Director I. N. Flaischner are both strongly in favor of a recount of the district and have made public expressions to this effect.

School Clerk Allen when seen yesterday stated that he had again looked over the figures and was confident that his five "census" takers had done good work in listing the children of school age in the district.

Allen further stated that he did not believe any action could now be taken with another census, inasmuch as the roll was already filed with the county superintendent to fix the sum of money to be allotted to the district.

When asked to explain the fact that the increase in school attendance for last year was about 140 per cent greater than the increase in the school census when it should be but 70 per cent of the increase in the census, the clerk confessed that he could assign no reason for it. He contends that the five school districts annexed during the past year did not have as great a population as was popularly believed.

Mr. Beach and the other directors contend that if there are 3,000 more children between the ages of four and twenty years in the district than is has been given credit for, then any mistake in taking the census should be rectified and the district given the $30,000 or more that it is entitled to.

The seemingly inadequate school census will be one of the interesting discussions at the next meeting of the board, and in all probability steps will be taken to see if the money can not be secured to the district.

PEARY DELAYED BY SHIP REPAIR

Commander Is Still Short of Funds, But Will Make Start in July.

(Heart News by Longest Leased Wire.) New York, June 29.—Commander Robert E. Peary, who was to have started upon his seventh trip in quest of the north pole on Monday, will be compelled to wait until the end of July at least before he will be able to leave for the north.

The delay is due to the alterations being made to his ship, the Roosevelt.

Director J. V. Beach of the Portland school board will endeavor this week to determine whether or not the school census for the district submitted by School Clerk Allen to County School Superintendent Robinson for apportionment can be recalled for correction.

which is at Shooter's island undergoing repairs and reconstruction. Commander Peary will be delayed even later than on his former voyages in arriving at his winter quarters at North Grantland.

The commander has high hopes of discovering the pole within 18 months from the date of starting, but will be prepared to be absent for years.

Captain Bob Bartlett has been re-elected as master of the Roosevelt, and his uncle, Moses Bartlett, will be in command of the steam whaler Erick, to be used as an auxiliary vessel.

It is said the fund for the expedition still falls short of the required amount.

An Unqualified Story

By Wex Jones.

An African hunter once found a large crocodile hanging in the fork of a tree about 10 feet from the ground. As the place was fully half a mile from any water, it was difficult to account for the crocodile's strange position. When questioned upon the subject, the natives explained that it was put there by an elephant. It seems that when the elephants wade into the Lake Ngami to bathe the crocodiles are in the habit of worrying them and biting their legs. Sometimes when an elephant is annoyed beyond endurance it picks up its tormentor in its trunk, puts it among the branches of a tree and leaves it there.

SPLendid INCREASE

Portland's Bank Clearings Show Gain This Month Over June Last Year of 49 Per Cent—Increase Due to Prosperity.

An increase of 49 per cent in bank clearings for June, 1907, over those of June, 1906, is Portland's record. The total figures are: June, 1907, $31,974,484.71; June, 1906, $21,508,184.08, showing a gain of $10,466,300.63 for the month just closed.

Bankers and commercial men generally agree that no extraordinary commercial activity of the past month was responsible for this very large increase, but that it was due to a widespread prosperity that has affected all classes and characters of business. When asked for an expression on the bank clearances increase last night, A. L. Mills of the First National bank, said:

"Portland's big increase in bank clearings is simply due to an enormous increase in the commerce of the Portland territory. It is general.

"The same condition prevails all over the country. We see the same steady, uniform growth from day to day and month to month in the increase of banking transactions."

"It is all simple enough when you think of it," said E. L. Thompson of Hartman & Thompson. "The business of the entire country is growing with unparalleled rapidity, and Portland is well up to the front of the procession."

TOO MANY WIVES LEADS TO DIVORCE

Emerson Wilson Becomes Affectionate Again With Former Spouse.

Mrs. Lizzie Wilson has filed suit in the circuit court for a divorce from Emerson Wilson, charging cruelty in which Wilson's divorced first wife is a conspicuous figure. Wilson married his second wife last January, according to her complaint, and immediately after the marriage began an affectionate correspondence with Clara Wilson, his divorced wife.

This affectionate correspondence with Mrs. Wilson No. 1 continued until May 8, when Wilson deserted Mrs. Wilson No. 2, took all the household furniture and moved it into a saw at the foot of Clay street which was owned and occupied by Mrs. Wilson No. 1, says the complaint. Wilson and his divorced wife lived for several weeks in the saw, and Wilson is now making his home in rooms occupied by the divorced wife, complains Mrs. Wilson No. 2.

Cruel treatment is alleged, and Mrs. Wilson No. 2 asks a divorce and the privilege of resuming her maiden name, Lizzie Emmons.

KELLY CLAN HOLDS ANNUAL REUNION

Nearly 100 descendants of Clinton Kelly gathered at the home of F. J. Kelly yesterday to celebrate the eighth annual gathering of the Kelly clan. Beside the members of the clan there were a number of honor guests, among whom were Rev. T. R. McClade and wife and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shattuck.

Mr. Kelly's home is located on Twenty-sixth street, near Holgate. The entire place, which is covered with cherries and fruit, was thrown open to the clan and guests.

The time before dinner was employed by the older members of the clan in story telling and by the young folks in eating cherries and berries and in playing games. Dinner was served on a long table under a canopy of fir boughs.

During the year the clan has lost a number of its members by death, the oldest and most well known of whom was Plympton Kelly who died some months ago at his home at Kelly's Butte.

HOLE-IN-WALL BANDITS TAKEN

Daring Officers Capture Two Almost in Their Stronghold.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Helena, Mont., June 29.—A special from Billings tells of a battle between Sheriff James T. Webb and a deputy, and two members of the noted Hole-in-the-Wall gang of cattle thieves and train robbers who for years have terrorized southern Montana and northern Wyoming. The battle resulted in the capture of the two thieves, one being wounded and the recovery of eight horses which they had stolen.

The sheriff started in pursuit of the men with a posse and picked up a guide, Charles Hancock. By cutting across the country they got ahead of the thieves, and upon their appearance commanded them to halt. Both began firing, resulting in the wounding of one man, whose name is unknown, but who is supposed to be a former convict. The other is Sam Ackerman, well known in

GORDON-LERCH CASE SETTLED

Settlement Papers Pass and All Is Over Except the Alimony.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Oregon City, June 29.—The celebrated Gordon-Lerch case has at last passed into history, the parties interested effecting a settlement at a late hour this afternoon through Attorneys Dimick & Dimick of this city. Samuel Gordon and Miss Lerch arrived in this city shortly afternoon and at once proceeded to the office of his attorneys, where he

Gordon will at once proceed to the Coos Bay country, where he will sell all the property that was allotted to the defendant, pay her outstanding indebtedness and give her the remainder realized by the transaction.

The case has been one of the most interesting ever tried in the local courts and has been watched by the citizens with great interest.

The pair left for Portland in company this evening, both feeling happy, and to the onlookers it looked more like the going away of a bridal couple than the closing incident in a divorce suit.

Policeman's Badge Over His Heart

From the Philadelphia Record.

Many persons are puzzled to know why policemen wear their badges so low on their coats instead of on the flap made for that purpose. As a matter of fact, the badge or star, as he calls it, of many a policeman is right next to his heart.

Some of the bluecoats of this city can thank their "stars" for being alive. This little metal shield has deflected the bullet of burglar or highwayman and at times, too, has stopped the knife-thrust of would-be assassins. During the last 50 or 60 years there are many cases on record showing that the little badge has been a lifesaver. Even bullets fired at close range, as a rule, cannot penetrate the shield. That's why a bluecoat always feels safer in keeping the star at a vital spot. When off duty some policemen wear their stars on
