LOWELL DROPS OUT OLDFIELD WILL OF SENATORIAL RACE APPEAR AT BAR

Pendleton Candidate for Republican Nomination in Pri- Green Dragon Speed Maniac maries a Year Ago Believes Senator Fulton Will Be Reelected-May Aspire for Toga in the Future.

Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton, canfidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator in the primaries a year ago, has eliminated him-self from the race which will be run for that office at the general election next June. At the same time he gives it as his belief that Senator Fulton will be reelected through the same causes which are keeping him out of Judge Lowell states, however, that he would enter the contest for the nom-imation if it were possible for him to have the field against Senator Fulton and believes he could land the prize, but he contends that a divided field, such as seems certain at this time, will undoubtedly result in the renomi-nation and reelection of the present senior senator.

"Politics in eastern Oregon have not as yet begun to bud, let alone to

"While it is probable that I will at "While it is probable that I will at some future time again be a candidate for the United States senatorship." I will not enter the contest at this time," the speaker continued in answer to a question as to the possibility of his candidacy. "I would be a candidate provided I could have the field against senator Fulton and I believe I could win in that event, but in my belief a divided field mean; the nomination and consequent election of Senator Fulton. I have had some experiences with divided fields," and the judge smiled at the Marquam yesterday.

Of the party. I do not believe that a Republican legislature would elect a Democratic United States senator nor would a Democratic candidate for United States senator win more votes at the general election than the Republican candidate I do not believe the legislature, if Republican, would ratify the vote."

Judge Lowell will leave for his home at Pendleton this evening, having delivered the Fourth of July oration at the Marquam yesterday.

"From what I hear," continued Mr.
Lowell, "H. M. Cake and Fred W.
Mulkey are practically sure to be in the contest. It is also common political talk that W. S. U'Ren intends to become a candidate, while on some sides it is rumored that Ex-State Senator Coe of Portland will seek the nomination. This
I think means the certain nomination

Senator Fulton's Strength.

"Senator Fulton is a strong candidate and has a positive strength. He has been long in politics and has a wide sequaintance. There is much that is good that can be said concerning him and little that is otherwise. It is also true that the argument made against him that he is not close to the administration is to a large event counterbalanced. that he is not close to the administration is to a large extent counterbalanced by the impression that he has not been fairly treated at all times in Washington and I believe that he will receive much support because of this belief. He also has done much for the state, even under his handicap; he is capable and if continued in office will make a strong representative. While one opponent might defeat him for the nomination I believe that two or more will make his success practically certain.

"The Republican nomination I think Lowell. "Statement No. I will not be of obtaining money under false prestenses in having connived with his manager, Moross, in a fake racing program at the Irvington track. Oldfield is now under $500 bail to appear in court.

The charge grows out of the automobile races scheduled to be held at the Irvington track July 3, but which meet was a fizzle and was abandoned after a few races had been run on account of the sudden heavy rain which swept over the city on that afternoon. It is alleged by those back of the suit that Oldfield and Moross, his manager, entered into a conspiracy to defraud the people who attended the races and by means of this conspiracy was able to get away with between $1,500 and $4,000 taken at the gate.

According to the allegations of the prosecutors the two racing men advertised a long list of automobile races few of which had been authorized by owners of machines entered and that as a result of this deception none of the events advertised were pulled off. Oldfield on his part contends that he entered into no conspiracy and is not guilty of any fraud. He states that he carried out his part of the program to the best of his ability by going an exhibition mile in $7 seconds on a heavy track, which record he contends will be the track record for all time.

The racer also maintains that if there was any laxity in the management the people who attended the races and the proper was able to get away with between $1,500 and $4,000 taken at the gate.
