At the request of Professor Wheeler of the University of California Miss Nance O'Neil gave a performance of "Ingomar" at the Greek theatre last evening. Sarah Bernhardt presented "The Sorceress" at this temple of art. Miss O'Neil will present both of these plays at the Marquam Grand. Beginning Monday evening and continuing until Thursday "The Sorceress" will be presented. The latter half of the week will witness a splendid revival of "Ingomar." Of course Miss O'Neil will assume the character of Parthenia in this latter play. Seats are now on sale for the first week of the engagement at the box office of the Marquam.

Big Attraction at Marquam.

"Olive Twist" Matinee.

Children will delight in seeing little Olive Cooper as Olive in the Baker production of Dickens' famous play "Olive Twist." There will be a popular price matinee tomorrow. Tomorrow night's performance closes the season at the Baker. The acting of the principal parts, Nancy and Bill Sykes, is clever.

"The Life That Kills."

The stock company at the Star will be seen at the matinee tomorrow in "The Life That Kills," a thrilling melodrama in four acts. Every minute there is excitement and sensation and the action never pauses nor lags for an instant. It shows the stock company to advantage.

Vaudeville Supreme.

Sullivan & Considine this week are giving patrons of the Grand one of the greatest vaudeville bills this city has ever been treated to. The list includes "The High-toned Burglar," the Toledo troupe contortionists, Georgina Clark, Tom Gillen and many others of equal merit.

"A Fair Rebel" Wins Them.

A great ovation was tendered the Allen stock company yesterday because of their great performance of that famous patriotic drama, "A Fair Rebel." Tonight there will probably be a repetition of yesterday. Matinee will be given tomorrow and Sunday.

Only one fire of consequence occurred yesterday due to fireworks. Sparks from a skyrocket ignited the roof of the Women's Union home, at 510 Flinders street about 11 o'clock last night. The roof was entirely consumed and the damage is estimated between $4,000 and $5,000.

A number of small blazes kept the fire department busy most of yesterday. At 7 o'clock last night a spark ignited the moss on the roof of a house at 7th and Adams streets, burning a small hole before it was extinguished. Damage was $25. The house belonged to Mrs. Vincent McCullough.

Small roof fires occurred at 8:25 p. m. at 353 North Twenty-second street at 11:30 o'clock, and at 445 Hoigate street at 12:20 a. m.

The fire department broke no records yesterday. In fact the day was one of comparative ease for the fire lads of Portland, all things taken into consideration.

EXERCISES WERE OF LITERARY NATURE

Pioneer Town of Milwaukee Celebrated Independence Day in a Fitting Manner.

Nearly 1,000 people assembled in the pioneer town of Milwaukee yesterday to celebrate independence day. The exercises were largely of a literary nature and were presided over by Mayor Schindler, who made the opening address. Then came the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Miss Low Albee.

Miss Florence Olson, who represented the Goddess of Liberty, made a short address in which she called attention to the fact that it was in Milwaukee that Oregon's initiative and referendum law had its origin, and declared that the old pioneer town deserved the credit of securing to the people of the state the privilege of making their own laws without the aid of a legislature.

The exercises closed with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner." The afternoon was given over to various kinds of amusements and sports. A fine display of fireworks was set off in the evening on the banks of the Chickamaug river.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Ten Public Thirst Quenchers Will Be Erected in Portland This Summer—One a Gift.

W. T. Shanahan, corresponding secretary of the Oregon Humane society, announced today that 10 drinking fountains which had been ordered for Portland were under construction and would be erected this summer. Mr. Shanahan said there had been considerable unavoidable delay in securing the fountains but that work on them is now being pushed with all haste.

In regard to the fountain donated by the National Humane alliance of New York City, Mr. Shanahan has received a letter from the organization stating that the fountain would reach Portland in October. This fountain will cost about $1,000 and is of Maine granite. It is a gift made possible by the act of a wealthy resident of New York who left his fortune with the alliance which he founded to be used in buying drinking fountains.

Maria Laghan, Governor Chamberlain's ex-cook, appeared again in the municipal court today to prefer charges against Officer Robson, whom she declared assaulted her. Robson was called by Mrs. Chamberlain the other day to take Maria to the police station because she refused to "retreat" when the mistress of the governor's house told her that her services were no longer required. Maria Laghan declares Robson roughed her roughly and her arm is black and blue. Judge Cameron dismissed the charges.

WILL TALK ABOUT FIRE AND WATER

Portland Heights Residents Demand Engine-House and Reservoir.

More water and better fire protection will be the main subjects up for discussion at tonight's meeting of the Portland Heights Improvement association.

Pertinent inquiries will be made of the city water board as to why work on the new reservoir that was promised the heights district some months ago has not commenced and the fire committee of the executive board will be called upon to explain why the fire-engine house, ordered by the council, has not been built on the heights.

Residents of the heights declare that the water supply is wholly inadequate, and that in case of a fire, the two small tanks up there would be quickly exhausted, leaving the department helpless.

Some months ago, D. E. Keasey and other interested property-holders secured a site for a reservoir and a right of way for a pipe line with the promise from the water board that the reservoir would be constructed at once. Now, however, the claim is made that the water board is disposed to let the matter rest for the summer, and the money needed for the improvement in extensions elsewhere.

Heights residents also assert that the fire committee is strangely dilatory in the matter of erecting the promised engine house. Plans for the building were drawn some weeks ago and it was announced that the improvement would be made this summer; but for some unexplained reason nothing has yet been done, and the summer will soon be on the wane.

Tonight's meeting which will be held in the hall at Spring and Chapman streets, promises some very interesting developments and warm talk. "We are going to try to find out who it is that is holding up these essential improvements and why it is being done," remarked a prominent resident of the district this morning.

HILLSDALE POSTMASTER CANNOT LEAVE STORE

Postmaster A. Mercer of Hillsdale denies that he is responsible for the trouble that has arisen over carrying the mail to and from the postoffice in his store. He says that he has made every effort to comply with the law, but has been unable to get anyone to act as mail-carrier for the compensation allowed by the government—$6 per month—and that he has paid out of his own pocket $10 per month for this service since April 1.

Mr. Mercer says it is impossible for him to leave his store at all times to carry the mail to the trains. He further denies that the rural mail-carriers frequently go over their routes without mail, alleging that on but one occasion has this happened.
