REMARKABLE ROSE GARDEN AND ITS FAIR GUARDIANS

There Are Over Seven Hundred Varieties in W. A. Storey's Collection.

One of the enthusiastic rosegrowers of the city and one who is justly proud of his fine garden is W. A. Storey, whose home at Twenty-first and Vaughn streets is surrounded by fine grounds, of which the rosebushes are the chief decorative feature.

Mr. Storey has carefully eliminated all the poorer sorts and now has nearly 750 bushes, all of them bearing roses which are of more than usual beauty. A display of them was made at Woodard & Clarke's which caused much favorable comment, and on rose day, during the fiesta, he had another exhibition at the chamber of commerce which was truly remarkable, since all of the roses shown were cut from this one garden. Mr. Storey never sells his roses, for he believes that roses and commercialism do not go together, but he gives away daily armfuls of them, and, as far as possible, to those who have none.

Mr. Storey makes, moreover, this offer to all who wish to increase their knowledge of roses and to add to the beauty of their gardens. When he trims his bushes in the fall—generally from the first to the fifth of October, there are thousands of cuttings of these choice roses for distribution to those who ask for them. This is worth remembering. Out of the 200 or more varieties which he has under cultivation Mr. Storey has made this list for the guidance of those who desire better acquaintance with our most hardy and satisfactory sorts:

Madame Caroline Testout, Ulrich Brunner, pink and white La France, General Jacqueminot, Kaiserine Augusta Victoria, Gloire Lyonaise, Melville de Lyon, Frau Karl Druschki, Mildred Grant, Mrs. John Lang, pink and white Maman Cochet, Katherine Guillot, Duchess of Fort, Duchess of Portland, Duke of Edinburg, Baroness Rothschild, Catherine Mermet, Marchioness of Londonderry, Countess of Oxford, Earl of Pembroke, Florence Pemberton, Liberty, Jubilee, Papa Gontier, Prince de Bulgaria, Rose of Killarney, Star of France (Etoile de France), Jean Le Baud, King of Sweden, Cloth of Gold, Rainbow, Madame De St. Joseph, Homer, Madame Gabriel Luizet. Of the climbers he recommends the following: Fortune's Yellow, Copper Rambler, Crimson Rambler, William Allen Richardson, La Marque, Madame Alfred Carriere, Marie Henriette, Kaiserine Augusta Victoria.

A reception was given at the home of Rev. S. K. Chan, 262 Clay street, Saturday evening a week ago in honor of his daughter, Ida, who was recently graduated from the Shattuck school, and his son-in-law, from the University of Oregon law department. The sixty people present voted the Chinese hospitable entertainers. An interesting musical program was arranged by Miss Bertie Chan, followed by games and refreshments. Miss Anita Pearcy gave a reading and was heartily applauded. William Lai sang and his songs were well received. Seid Back Jr. also sang with good effect. Melvin Everts, pianist, contributed several numbers. The Chinese male quartet was very good. Late in the evening Ida Chan was given a beautiful gold necklace by her brother-in-law, Seid Back Jr. Mrs. Ed Everts acted as chairman and a cordial vote of thanks was tendered her.

WEDDINGS

Miss Queen Johnson and Stanley F. Werschkul were married Friday evening a week ago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Werschkul, 315 East Burnside street. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson. Rev. C. E. Jordan read the ceremony. Miss Blanche Johnson and Milton Werschkul were the attendants. The decorations of the home were pretty, combining ivy, Virginia creeper and crimson rambler. The bride was handsomely gowned in brocaded white taffeta, with touches of pale pink and lavender, and trimmings of Irish point. She carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid wore flowered net over taffeta. Mrs. J. H. Johnson Jr. played the wedding march and Miss Zerene Hamilton sang several numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Werschkul have gone to Ocean Park for two months and after September 1 will be at home at Vancouver, Wash.

A pleasant evening was spent with the members and pupils of Professor E. A. Smith's orchestra at his studio Thursday. The piano solos by Miss Beulah Morin were well played. Fred Weber's violin solo was performed with masterly skill, the bowing being particularly good. The mandolin and guitar trio was well received. Mrs. Macrum, a daughter of Professor Smith, gave a banjeaurine solo. Master Lloyd Fracks played well and he promises to be a clever performer. Miss Harriet Leach played brilliantly. The horn and cornet parts were well received. After the program the guests were invited to remain for a social time and partake of refreshments.

★ ★

A most interesting recital was that given Monday afternoon at Muriark hall by Miss Antoinette Olsen, assisted by Miss Delta Watson and Miss Irene Flynn. Miss Olsen, a girl of 15 years, made a splendid impression. She played her entire program without notes and displayed technic and a keen sense of tone and rythm for one so young. She is a pupil of Helen Flynn, whose work for so young a teacher is gaining much recognition. Miss Delta Watson and Miss Irene Flynn delighted all and were forced to respond to encores. The recital was attended by many society people.

★ ★

The annual class recital given by the students of the Oregon Conservatory of Music Monday evening was a complete success. Quartets, trios, duets and solo numbers in piano, voice and violin were all excellently received. The many students who did not take part in the three recitals will be presented in a monthly series, beginning with September. Miss Marie Gingrich, one of the advanced piano students and a favorite in the school, did particularly good work.
