TODAY'S MARKETS

Hop Crop Is Very Badly Mixed at Present-Conditions Were Never Jumbled So Much as Is Case During This Season

Packers Have All Oversold Expected Pack—Fishing May Be Abolished.

Front street markets: Packers have no salmon to offer. Many prices rule on loganberries. Chicken demand continues. Creamery butter holding steady.
Weakness again apparent in eggs.
Peach market ruling lower.
Tomato market will drop fast.
Washington hops at low price.

Maye no Salmon to Offer. Columbia river packers have no canned salmon to offer at any time this season They have all sold their expected pack, nost of them receiving orders for sev eral times the amount they will likely can. Reports from the lower river say that the run is fractionally increased, but it remains very disappointing to all hands. The fresh fish market suffers perhaps most on account of the shortage, for with the very small catch packers and cold storage men are willing to pay the best values.

New Movement to Help Fish. A new movement to Melp Fish.

A new movement is being started by fish men in some quarters to help the salmon industry. It is no other than to prohibit the catching of salmon at any time by wheel and the prohibiting of fishing within five miles of the mouth of the Columbia river. This, say some fish men, while very strong will be a wonderful help to the salmon industry in a few years and will do more than any other thing to hatch plenty of fish. According to fish men it will do more than a thousand hatcheries could or will do. It solves the problem en-MRS. SHAVER, SPIRITUAL READER.

more than a thousand hatcheries could or will do. It solves the problem entirely, but is not likely to be carried into effect for some time because of the severe opposition of the Astoria people whose nets cover the river and bar from a long distance out in the ocean to as far up the river as they can go.

While sales of loganberries were made Saturday as high as $1.26 a crate it took an exceptional fancy berry to bring that figure and few arrivals were shown of that quality. So great were the supplies during the past 60 hours that a large per cent of the fruit has been sold to the canneries at very low figures. Sales of both Saturday and today were made as low as 60c a crate and no one was asking over $1 this morning. This latter was for the exceptional. morning.

COW PRICES TO LAWSON DOES BE VERY CHEAP

Portland Union Stockyards, July 8.— Official receipts: Hogs. Cattle, Sheep.

Cows are going to sell very to this show large advances in the season according to the present indications for every one season to be shipping. tions for every one seems to be shipping | mated Copper, St. Paul and all all their old, dry stuff to market at one time. While this is affecting to some extent, the entire cattle market there is no trouble at this time in getting $4 for best fat steers. How-ever, packers are quite bearish in their views but as arrivals are not even liberal they are forced at this time to keep the market within its present

Hogs Are Scarce. While packers continue very bullish in their tactics in the hog market they are not able at this time to force the market down. The secret of this is that raisers have discovered that hows are really scarce, both here and in the east; the latter's values holding up because packers cannot buy for less.

Good Bun of Sheep. Quite a good run of sheep showed up in the yards during .ne past 48 hours. For a Monday today's run of 750 head is considered liberal. This compares with 250 head last Monday 194 head a year ago and none two years ago today. A year ago today cattle were weak and the price lost 25c; others firm and unchanged. Official livestock prices:

Hogs—Best eastern Oregon, $6.50; stockers and feeders, $6.00@6.25; China fats, $6.25@6.50.

Cattle—Best eastern Oregon steers, $4.00; best cows and heifers, $3.25; buils, $2.00.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., July 3.—Deleory Lameller, a Spaniard, aged 22 years, was struck and instantly killed by an east-bound train near Hermiston yesterday morning. Lameller and Thomas Bell left Portland July 3, with Pendleton as their destination, beating their way on trains. They had gone as far as Hermiston and were waiting on the track for another train. They fell asleep and before Lameller could get up the train struck him, cutting off his head, one arm and a leg. His father is in the cattle business in Arisona. Bell was seriously injured.

Anchor was dropped during the night and it took only about 10 hours to make the run up the river.

This is the second visit here of the Strathnairn with cement, her first visit having been made last fall, when she brought a full cargo of cement from Europe. She sailed on November 7 for Tacoma and took a cargo of wheat for a return cargo to the old continent. Then she leaded cement again. Captain McCleay was chief officer at that time. "We encountered very stormy weather between the west side of Magellan strait and Coronel," said Captain McCleay, "and shipped considerable seas, although they rolled right off without damage. From Port Los Angeles to Columbia river fine weather was encountered and we sighted the lightship off the mouth of the river yesterday morning."

Steamers Alliance and Costa Rica Bring Many Passengers.

The steamers Alliance and Costa Rica arrived in the harbor last might from Coos bay and San Francisco, re-spectively, Both brought full lists of passengers and considerable freight. The feature of the Alliance's cargo was a carload of lumber products for the cast. The Costa Rica brought the usual quantity of merchandise. The officers of both steamers report having encountered fine weather most of the way. Off Cape Blanco the Costa Rica ran into a pretty heavy sea and took some spray over her bow, but not

South American Coast From Strait of Magellan to the Coaling Port of Coronel—New Captain.

It was so stormy off the South American coast when the British steamer ican coast when the scalp according to the customs of their ancestors of centuries past and as a result several of the coolles reached Portland this morning wearing locks that would put a gridiron enthusiast to shame. One has a crown of hair reaching nearly to his shoulders and he also sported a fine moustach and goatee. He could not shave and now he hates to part with the glossy crop.

Officers of the steamer say the Chinese were shipped in England whence the Straithnairn came out to this port of the world with a cargo of cement consigned to Balfour, Guthrie & Co. Ten thousand barrels were discharged at Port Los Angeles last week and unent the Straithnairn started for this port with the remainder of 25,000 barrels, which will be discharged at Mersey dock without delay. Captain adceleay says he has not received consiferanties of the report that the vessel is engaged to load lumber for outward cargo from this port. He expects instructions during the next day or two in this regard. The Btrathnairn arrived here at noon today with Filot Turner on the bridge.
