Los Angeles, July 8.—Pitcher Carnes was a puzzle to the Beaver batters yesterday and none but Carson and Atherton hit him safe, Carson doing the trick twice. The Angels landed heavily on Groom, lining out 10 hits, four of them being for more than two bases. Though the score of 5 to 0 looks one-sided, it was a beautiful exhibition of the national game from start to finish. Cravath shone bright at individual work, lining out two singles and a double, three stolen bases, five putouts and one assist.

BIG JIM JEFFRIES BELIEVES TOMMY BURNS CAN BEAT HIM

Nothing could be more funny to the friends of Jim Jeffries than that he believes Tommy Burns can beat him if ever they are to meet. Those that know the inner heart of the big fellow, however, say that this is so. It will raise a big grin on the face of the fight fan when this is mentioned. They will not believe that the Burkanter takes himself so cheaply. Nevertheless, his cronies say it is true, as is their allegation that Jim never entered the ring for a contest without believing that he was about to get the licking of his life.

VEGETARIAN THEORIES TURNED TOPSY-TURVY

Alfred Shrubbs, Greatest Distance Runner in World, Eats Meat Regularly.
(Journal Special Service.)
New York, July 8.—Alfred Shrubbs, the world's champion distance runner, has dropped a bomb in the midst of Yale's flesh-abstainers. The fleet and untiring Englishman has exploded all their theories about vegetarianism being essential to endurance tests.
The experiment proved that the non-flesh eaters had far greater endurance than those who are accustomed to the ordinary American diet. In the absence of why certain mechanical method of measuring endurance, three simple endurance tests were employed—first, holding the arms horizontally as long as possible; second, deep knee-bending; third, leg-raising, with the subject lying on his back. Only 2 of the 15 flesh-eaters succeeded in their hold-out over a quarter of an hour, whereas, 22 of the 32 abstainers surpassed that limit. None of the flesh-eaters resined him an hour, but 15 out of the 32 abstainers exceeded that limit. Of these, nine exceeded an hour, four exceeded two hours, and one exceeded three hours. In the other tests the flesh-eaters were defeated in about the same proportion.

I Have the Largest Practice Because I Invariably Fulfill My Promises
Success isn't attained at a bound. It is made up of many little triumphs. A large medical practice doesn't wait the young physician at the college door. He must prove himself. He must work toward success day after day, doing well each day's tasks.
It has always been my rule to promise nothing that I am not absolutely certain of accomplishing. Realizing that no one physician can successfully undertake to cure all diseases, I entered special courses of study in preparation for my present work. For 16 years I have been proving my ability and building my success. I have mastered, first the simpler diseases, then the serious complex and stubborn ones that others neither cure nor comprehend. I have confined my efforts to diseases of men exclusively and there is no ailment belonging to this class that I cannot fully conquer. I make broad and definite claims. I tell men that I can cure them, even though others have failed. Jealous doctors have charged me with claiming too much. But, I ask, wherein have I failed to fulfill a promise? My practice is now fully twice that of any other specialist upon the Pacific coast treating men's diseases. It has grown to these dimensions because I have made promises and fulfilled them. Each cure I have effected is a triumph and a manifestation of skill that has had its part in the making of my success. Each day new cures are completed, and my present growth of practice is more rapid than ever before.

"WEAKNESS"
To produce temporary activity of the functions in cases of so-called weakness is a simple matter, but to permanently restore strength and vigor is a problem that but few physicians have solved. I never treat for temporary effects. Under my system of treatment every bit of improvement is a part of a permanent cure. Though other physicians have, through my success in effecting permanent cures, been convinced of the fact that prematureness, loss of power, etc., are but symptoms resulting from chronic inflammation or congestion in the prostate gland, none have as yet been able to duplicate my cures. My kind of cure is simple and is the only effective means yet known for restoring the prostate to its normal state, which always results in full and complete return of strength and vigor. Such a cure is absolutely permanent, because the condition responsible for the functional disorder is entirely removed. It is a simple kind of cure, a real cure, and is the only kind of cure that will treat for.

Consultation is free. If you are afflicted, consult me. You can rely upon what I tell you, and if I accept your case you can rest assured that a complete and permanent cure will follow my treatment.
All necessary X-Ray examinations are absolutely free to patients. My equipment for X-Ray work is the finest and most complete ever produced, and equally perfect results are not possible with an inferior apparatus.
All medicines are prepared from standardized drugs in my own private laboratory and are supplied to patients at actual cost.
