L. A. Esson Is Elected President at Sixteenth Annual Session at Silverton.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Silverton, Or., July 11.-The sixteenth eral notches. annual reunion of the Stevens family, pioneers of Oregon, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Mount in home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Mount in this city yesterday. There were 35 members present.

The forenoon was spent in a social way and at the noon hour a bountiful repast was served. In the afternoon a program was rendered consisting of musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, recitations, etc. Dr. Hugh Mount of Oregon City entertained the family for some time in giving a description of his recent trip to Honoluiu.

At the close of the program the following officers were elected. L. A. Esson, president, Gervais, Or.; Mrs. Eva Mascher, vice-president, Silverton, Or.; Mrs. Dollie Smith, secretary and treasurer, Silverton, Or. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R.

for the second time within the past 15 months, when she married William E. Wilbur of Reno last evening.

When scarcely 18 years old, Miss Ada McCubbin married George Howell in Kentucky, her native state. Her happiness was short lived and at the end of two weeks her husband disappeared after having secured possession of her large estate and transforming it into cash. She came to Reno last October and instituted divorce proceedings.

While awaiting trial she fell in love with young Wilbur, son of a wealthy lumberman, and their troth was plighted. A decree of divorce was granted a week ago yesterday and within a fortinght she was again a bride.

Half past seven. See tomorrow night's Journal.

BENNETT'S FINE

GOES TO CREDITORS

Chairman Wittenberg of the city school board has decided to let the $2,000 fine assessed against Contractor Bennett go to the creditors of the latter. When the board decided on this action-Monday night the chairman was opposed to it and said he would take the matter into the court to enjoin the district from giving the money to the creditors.

TODAY'S MARKETS

RASPBERRIES ARE

"Raspberries are not coming 4 nearly so fast as a few days days. I have just had a report d from the country that production is falling off. Demand is better on account of improvement in quality, the fruit being Honey Dew and Lice Both much better today than usual." -John Koskey of McEwen &

The hop damage news lately printed by The Journal is being more fully con-firmed every day as various dealers visit the fields of the valley. McKinley Mitchell, who has just returned from a several days' visit to the hop fields, several days' visit to the hop fields, says:

"I drove from Woodburn to Gervais and to Brooks, Fairfield and St. Louis, and nowhere did I find the hop yauds looking any better than a year ago. Not a single yard that I saw will likely produce as good a crop as a year ago, while nine out of ten yards will show a decrease in production. There are some very good yards and some awfully poor ones. I believe that the production in general will be decreased from 10 to 15 per cent from last year.

Today's market features: Hop damage is confirmed, Another car "cants" arrives, Eggs are weak and lower, Poultry market continues firm.

Still a famine in veal.
Watermelons have good sale.
Tomato market going to pieces.
Dried fruits are very high.
Peppers coming from The Dalles.

Mop Damage Is Confirmed.

"Honey dew and Lice.

"Honey dew and lice have appeared in the large gards, and but few of the growers will spray this season, because price prospects are so low. In the uplands where the vines are thin the heat is killing the vermin, but it likewise is burning the arms. Where it does good it likewise does injury. It is in the low lands where honey dew and lice show up greatest.

"The yards are just coming into bloom, and I think that picking will be about as early as a year ago. Krebs' big yard at Brooks is not looking very well, the condition there being very bad. To show you the don't care nature of the growers this season, I have only to say that in some yards the vines. This is an unheard of occurrence for this time of season."

An assistant of Mr. Mitchell's who traveled over the west side to see how the crop looked, said this morning that the yards were very light and thin, and that the sun was beginning to burn the small arms. He said that nowhere did he see yards that compared with a year All Trade in Washington.

All Trade in Washington.

A new trading is shown in the local market, but there are rumors of additional buying in Washington state at prices that range close to 6c. The latest issue of the New York Producers' Price Current says of the general outlook;

"The past week has brought little of importance in the wav of hop news. The market if anything has saged both on the coast and in New York. Hops have been sold as low as 3c, for very poor quality in Washington, and 7c for the very choicest left in Oregon. Some inferior lots of Washingtons sold on the local market at 6 and 7c. The growing crop in all sections shows good progress. With occasional rains and warm weather there can be nothing else asked for er there can be nothing size asked for. From England the much needed rains have arrived, and we hear of estimates now as low as 350.000 and as high as 400.000 hundred weight. Germany continues to report good progress in all sections."

in all lines of dried fruits the coming season. Crops have not been heavy anywhere, and this has forced dryers to pay unusually high figures. While there is but little that is new in the prune situation, many dealers are again trying to contract the coming crop with growers at good prices.

Opening prices on this year's dried peaches and apricots are quoted fully 10 per cent higher than spot prices, and the latter will have to be moved up several notches.

Brief Notes of the Trade. Eggs are weaker, with holders of eastern stock shouting with glee over the alleged poor quality of local stock. According to the trade those who are now howling poor quality were the ones to biame for this, as they induced country shippers to hold for higher values when the market and weather did not justify it.

not justify it.
Chicken supplies still very scarce. Price at top.
Cheese is fair with values stationary.
Another car of Brawley "cants" came in this morning. Price lower. Tomatoes glutting the market. Values

Green peppers arriving from The Dalles. Much better quality than California stock.

BETTER THAN USUAL FIRST HOGS IN COAST WHEAT

Breaks Fast of Over a Week-Markets Good.

Portland Union Stockyards, July 11.— Official receipts: Hogs, Cattle. Sheep.

Pew Cattle Are Coming.

So few cattle are coming to market at this time that the killers are becomat this time that the killers are becoming alarmed and are sending buyers into newer territory in order to secure their requirements. Just 100 head were reported in during the 24 hours, this comparing with none a week ago, 218 head a year ago and 80 head two years ago today. On account of the small run, cattle prices are holding well.

There was a fair run of sheep in the yards today, but the good demand for sheep in general and the light arrivals in other lines forced buyers all into sheep. Receipts were 676 head against none a week ago, 238 head a year ago and a nominal run two years ago. Market holding well at the price.

Values Hold Slightly Better-London Prices Are Higher.

New York, July 11.—Stocks held better today. American stocks in London were quite bullish about parity. The general market in London is heavy and inclined to sell off. Bank of England rate remains at 4 per cent. St. Paul gross earnings for the last fiscal year saw increase of 10 per cent, which is entirely absorbed by higher operation expenses. Steel trade authority says orders are satisfactory for this time of the year. Producers believe copper price reduction will not extend further. Thirty-one million dollars in gold went abroad today, making $28,080,000 on present movement. Indianapolis reports the volume of freight traffic still New York, July 11.—Government New York, July 11 .- Stocks held betports the volume of freight traffic still continues good, and especially on the southern lines.

CHICAGO WHEAT VALUES July 11. July 10. Loss. May.....101

Pacific coast wheat is now being graded on the Chicago market, thus early in the season, doing away with the agitation started two years ago when shipments from here were made to that market.

Every one in the trade anticipates the best season in recent years for Oregon, Idaho and Washington wheat with a probable yield in three states of 60,000,000 bushels. This season the Pacific northwest will have considerable wheat to offer.

Hast to Take Wheat.

East to Take Wheat. That the east will take considerable of the crop is believed by all at this time. The wheat crop in Europe will cause larger exports than usual, and taking everything into consideration prospects for good prices could hardly be better.

MOTHER TRIED FOR AVENGING DAUGHTER

(Journal Special Service.)

Laplata, Md., July 11.—Mra. Mollie Bowie, who with her son is charged with the murder of Hubert Posey, accused of betraying Pricilia Bowie, Mollie's daughter, took the stand this morning to defend herself under a plea of unwritten law. The first 12 veniremen qualified as jurors. Unwritten law is the defense's only plea. Posey refused to marry the girl after all wedding grrangements had been completed.
Henry, Mrs. Bowie's son, took the stand, and was asked:
"Who killed Posey?"
"I and mother," he said; "I determined to kill him when he refused to marry
my sister."

Prisellia was recalled and told the story of her betrayal and how Posey had threatened to kill her if she in misted on a marriage. Laplata, Md., July 11 .- Mrs. Mollie

NOTHING TO BE HOPED FROM BRITISH ACTION

Recruiting in Ireland for England's Army Not What It Once Was-Patriotic Organizations a Power-Irish Girls Taboo the Uniform,

(Journal Special Service.) Dublin, July 10 .- "Ireland sober is reland free" is an old saying quoted by Cardinal Logue at the recent meeting of the Father Mathew Temperance union at Armagh. The cardinal declared that while he would not stint the praise due to the parliamentary party and the other national public organizations for the good work they had done, he thought the real regeneration of Ireland would come from the temperance movement. He declared that the drink bill of Ireland last year was over $65,000,000 and that the consumption of alcohol in the country was greater now than it was in 1840, when the population was twice as large. Voluntary effort, he declared, was the only cure for the evil, for while so much of the British revenue was derived from the tax on alcohol, little could be hoped for in the way of legislation to check it. He urged the school teachers, the medical men, and the clergy of the country to work unceasingly in teaching the people, both young and old, the evil of drink.

Search for Imperial Yeomes. the good work they had done, he thought

Search for Imperial Youmen

Recent debates in parliament on the reorganization of the British army, which by the way is sadly in need of it, have revealed some surprising things to Irishmen. One of the revelations has been the existence of the south of Irishand Imperial Yeomanry, about whose fate much solicitude was shown by Captain Craig, one of the Orange memland Imperial Yeomanry, about whose fate much solicitude was shown by Captain Craig, one of the Orange members from Ulster. None of the members from the South of Ireland had ever heard of the existence of that band of doughty warriors and they begged Captain Craig to tell them where its head quarters were and when it was organized. The gallant captain however, did not grant the desired information and Irishmen are now scouring the country with a fine tooth comb to find a South of Ireland Imperial Yeoman.

As a matter of fact the Yeomanry, which is a useful branch of the militia organization in England, is practically non-existent in Ireland. There are a few scattered companies among the Orange farmers in the North, who delight to turn out in gaudy uniforms, mounted on their plough horses, and go through mysterious evolutions at the command of an officer who is usually one of the sons of their landlord. In the south, however, the farmers are too patriotic to wear England's uniform even for the purposes of recreation.
