RESENTMENT RUNS HIGH AMONG TOWN RESIDENTS

Sunnyside Citizens Positive H. E. Nicolai Who Has Been Missing Since June of Last Year Met With Foul Play at Hands of Temperance Enemies.

the enemial of H. E. Nicolai, who mysteriously disappeared from his home in Sunnyside, Washington, on the evening of Saturday, June 29, grows as each day's sun sets and no trace of the missing man is found. Members of the Good Citizens lea ue openly charge foul play and believe that Nicolai will never return to his family in the heretofore quiet little settlement of Sunnyside, in Yakima county.

H. E. Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Sunnyside in the Sunnyside in the Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Sunnyside in the Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Sunnyside in the Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Sunnyside in the Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Sunnyside in the Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Sunnyside in the Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the Nico

H. E. Nicolai came to Sunnyside in Resentment among his friends toward 9:80 o'clock. He was last seen by a friend, Dave Houston, and was in bright spirits.

Yakima county.

H. E. Nicolai came to Sunnyside in the early part of 1905, built for himself a beautiful home on Snipes mountain and engaged in horticulture. He had been attracted to the town because it was a temperance community and derivers at the citied to make the place his home largely because of this circumstance. He at once took an active part in the maintemance of temperance and in the consequent legal battles was the chief mover.

The fight between the liquor forces and the temperance element became intense. A league was formed, with Micolai as its head. It immediately set about securing evidence against the "blind pigs" alleged to have been operating in the little city. The league considerable evidence against the drug stores and raided one of the places.

Méthods used by the prosecutors were strenuously denounced by the liquor men as hypocritical and unfair, arguments arose as to what courts should try the cases and feeling ran high.

"Mr. Nicolai was fearless and upright," said Rev. Charles H. Porter, a Methodist minister and an active member of the Good Citisens' league, in discussing the disappearance. "He was brave as a lion, feared nobody and had the backing of the better class of citusens in Sunnyside.

"The night on which he disappeared, June 29, preceded a big mass meeting of the league in which Mr. Nicolai was to take a prominent part. He came down to the town that night from his home, which is on the mountain side about haif a mile away, to get some little things needed by his family and started to return to his home about the court of the league in which Mr. Nicolai was to take a prominent part. He came down to the town that night from his home, which is on the mountain side about haif a mile away, to get some little things needed by his family and started to return to his home about the force of the league in which his family and started to return to his home about the force of the league in which his family and started to return to his home about the force of the league in which his fami

PORTLAND MAN HUNTS HIGH AND LOW FOR STATE FIRE WARDEN

If there is a state fire warden in this city or in Ofegon, T. F. Baylis would like to hear from him. Baylis spent the entire forenoon today hunting for a fire warden, but could not find one. He went to the county clerk's office and discovered that the laws relating to burning of slashings were entirely remodeled by the last legislature and the matter placed in the hands of a state board of forestry. This board is given power to appoint fire wardens, but if any appointments have been made Baylis has been unable to discover them.

Baylis desires a permit to burn weeds and brush in Douglas county, along a branch railroad line. The brush had grown up along the track and interfered to which is run from the main line to a stone quarry. It was cleared away, and si snow dry, and it is feared that sparks from the lecomotive may set fire to it. For this reason a permit to burn the brush and weeds is sought, but no one can be found to grant it. If there is anyone who has been authorized to issue burning permits Baylis wants him to call at his office, 320 Falling building, or call him up at Pacific 1568.

are being signed as rapidly as the va-has heretofore been shipped to Seattle and that distributed by the O. R. & N. will enter Portland through the agency of the north bank and steamers on the open river.

BIG SHAKE-UP

(Continued from Page One.)

Looking for a Police Chief.

Body of Marchioness Found by Side of Man She Loved Locked in Casket.

(Journal Special Service.)

Florence, Italy, July 11 .- Falling in a swoon across the body of a dead man, Marchioness Magien Castellare was securely fastened into the casket containing the corpse of Signor Rossi and left to smother to death in the tomb, while the whole countryside was aroused in search for her.

The marchioness, a beautiful and accomplished member of the Italian nobility, was heartbroken when Signor Rossi died and went to his tomb the night of his burial to weep beside his open casket. The sight of her dead lover's face proved too much for her and she fainted away, her body falling into the open coffin.

and she fainted away, her bound into the open coffin.

Attendants came into the vault a short time afterward and closed the casket in the dark, never suspecting that they were burying a live woman with the dead man. It was not until the dead man. that they were burying a live woman with the dead man. It was not until this morning that the horrible error was disclosed, when the casket was opened and the two dead bodies found. The condition of the woman's body shows that she regained full consciousness before her death and struggled desperately to escape her living tomb.

LAND FRAUD

(Continued from Page One.)

the signing of wheat contracts there is left little room to doubt that the Hill lines have well laid plans to handle the of the organization. entire wheat crop of southeastern Washington this year, save the uphill haul which has heretofore been necessary in order to get the crop into Seattle, and at the same time bar the O. R. & N. from participating in the handling of the immense traffic. The wheat crop of the Horse Heaven country this year will be tremendous, say those who have been on the ground and looked over the fields. Contracts

COULDN'T KEEP IT.

Mept it Hid From the Children.

"We cannot keep Grape-Nuts food in the house. It goes so fast I have to hide it, because the children leve it so.

hide it, because the children leve it so.

It is that the food I have been looking for ever so long; something that I do not have to stop to prepare and still is nourishing."

Grape-Nuts is the most scientifically made food on the market. It is perfectly and completely cooked at the factory and can be served at an instant's notice, either with rich cold cream, or with hot milk if a hot dish is desired. When milk or water is used, a little sugar should be added, but when cold cream is used alone the natural dittle sugar should be added, but when cold cream is used alone the natural grape-sugar, which can be seen glistening on the granules, is sufficiently sweet to satisfy the palate. This grape-sugar is not poured over the granules, as some people think, but exudes from the granules in the process of manufacture, when the starch of the grains is changed from starch to grape-sugar by the process of manufacture. This, in effect, is the first act of digestion; therefore, is the food is pre-digested and is most perfectly assimilated by the very weakest stomach. There's a Reason."

Made at the pure food factories of the restum Ca. Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little health classic, "The Road wedding dress.

Wellville, in pure

IRISH LAND ACT

Emeral Farmers See Coming of Another Race of Landlords.

WILL BE WORSE EVEN THAN WAS THE LAST

Only Sixteen Million Available to Meet Demands of Two Hundred and Fifty Million-Farms Sold Far Above Their Real Value.

(Journal Special Service.) Dublin, July 11 .- The total inadequacy of the present land purchase act which has been quoted by British statesmen as an example of what England was willing to do for Ireland, was completely exposed by indisputable figures at a recent meeting in Dublin of the general council of Irish county councils, which is today the only truly representative public body in Ireland, in a national sense. The figures have re-ceived the additional hall mark of hav-ing been adopted a few days late in an answer to a question in the house of lords by Lord Denman, representing the British government.

British government.

The total amount of applications to the government for advances to finance the sales of estates by landlords to tenants under the act has been $258,-752,745 up to May 31 last. The total amount of money which has been appropriated, or otherwise made available, has been only $17,707,022, and the total amount actually paid has been $16,107,-675. That is to say, the government has compiled with only a little more than 6 per cent of the requests by tenants and landlords to rearrange the ownership of the land under the act.

No System to Business.

No System to Business. It was pointed out at the general council meeting also that the act, so far as it had been operative, has been worked entirely in the landlord's favor. Instead of paying them for the land in land stock, a government security, as would naturally have been expected, the would naturally have been expected, the government is paying the landlords off in cash, borrowed on the credit of the Irish taxpayers at ruinous rates of interest. The utterly unbusiness-like character of the arrangement is shown by the figures. The Irish taxpayer is borrowing the money at 3 per cent, a high rate in this country for government securities, and is advancing it to the tenant farmer to buy his farm at 2% per cent. It is also stated that when the character of the purchase is considered and the prices paid taken into account, the landlord is getting on an average 68% per cent more for his land than it would be worth, reckoning the ordinary capitalization of his rents under present conditions. der present conditions.

The Irish farmer, too, is not as en-thusiastic as he was about the land purchase act. I had a conversation repurchase act. I had a conversation recently in a train with half a dozen small farmers, some of whom were just completing the purchase of the farms under the act, and some of them were already sorry for what they had done. One man placed his finger at once on the weak spot. The British government has contracted to sell the farms to the tenants on from 20 to 26 years' purchase, but no provision has been made for financing the farmer in a bad crop year. The machinery of government is automatic and no sentiment can enter into its business dealings. into its business dealings rious farms can be visited and the work

Lose Farm in Bad Year.

nas been pursued so quietly that prac-"My landlord has forgiven me the rent twice in 15 years," said one of my trav-eling companions," but the government will not uo that. If I have a bad year tically the entire crop of the country. it is said, has been sold to the Hill Heretofore the O. R. & N. has handled a large part of the grain from this district, the crop being shipped both by rail and water after being ferried across the river, but the Hill line this year has apparently stolen a march on its competitor and both the wheat which has heretofore been shipped to Seattle and we get into difficulties we will not uo that. If I have a bad year I must lose my farm."

"It won't be 50 years till we have another, "and they will be worse than another, "and they will be worse than lords were kind men and gentlemen and we all not press a poor man, but now if we get into difficulties we will not uo that. If I have a bad year into the property of the part of the property of the old ones. Plenty of the old land-lords were kind men and gentlemen and we all not press a poor man, but now if we get into difficulties we will not press a poor man. other set of landlords in Ireland," said another, "and they will be worse than the old ones. Plenty of the old landlords were kind men and gentlemen and would not press a poor man, but now if we get into difficuities we will have to go to the 'gombeen' men and the banks and they will get our land."

The land purchase act, like most English legislation for Ireland, lacks an essential feature to make it workable. The provision of government agricultural banks, by which the farmers could be financed in bad years would have made the act a success, even at the inopen river.

At the offices of the Open Biver Transportation company Superintendent Frank J. Smith said the fact that their company had received no word from the Hill lines relative to the accommodation of the southern Washington wheat crop made certain the fact that the north bank road intended to handle the output without assistance from the outside. made the act a success, even at the inflated prices at which the land is being sold to the occupiers.

consideration by the police committee. Kay refuses to report to Captain Patrick Bruin and with Hillyer and Kienlin turns in his information direct to Chief Gritzmacher. Detectives Jones, Tichenor, Price, Smith, Hill, Mallett and Alden make their reports to Bruin. The hearing of Saturday will go far towards settling the question of who is boss of the detectives, it is expected.

There is strife between Chief Gritzmacher and Captain of Detectives Bruin and it is understood the chief has served notice that he will not remain at the head if Bruin is retained at the executive position on the detective branch of the department.

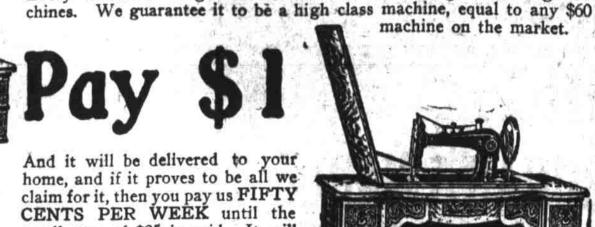

Acting on this assumption and with T. P. Gore, the blind nominee for senator from Oklahoma, owes much of his success to his wife. She reads to him the daily papers so that he may keep informed as to current events; his law books, so that he may remain abreast of his competitors in his pro-fession, and such volumes as the "Con-Acting on this assumption and with the impression that Gritzmacher was firmly intrenched in his present position the Spanish war veterans of the city have come to the rescue of the detective chief in a letter to Mayor Lane asking that Bruin be retained. The letter was sent as a result of directions issued at the lest meeting of the Portland gressional Record" so that he may obtain ammunition for use in his political campaigns. He is of pleasing appearance, and his affliction is not obvious to any one who sees him from a short Tom Word, ex-sheriff of Multnomah county, could have the position if he wanted it, but he has no hankering for the place. John Grussi, one of Word's deputies, has been urged for the place, but it is not believed that he will get it. There are others also who have been brought forward by their friends but no selection has been made either tentatively or definitely. Until some selection is made the present chief will wield the scepter.

Whatever happens, however, the next two weeks will see fur flying in the plain clothes department and new names will become more or less well-known through the efforts of new candidates to prove their possession of reasoning facilities given by the place. John Grussi, one of Word's from acid and grit. Just the thing for those who have an inclination for the niceties of every-day life. Ask your dentist. a delicious dentifrice. Free

50c a Week Buys It Every woman in Oregon should have one of these great Sewing Ma-

home, and if it proves to be all we claim for it, then you pay us FIFTY CENTS PER WEEK until the small sum of $25 is paid. It will do the work equally as well as a $75

This machine is made for us in carload lots by a manufacturer not in the Sewing Machine Trust. This is the Anti-Trust Sewing Machine. We employ no agents; we go to the people direct, therefore have no big commissions to add to its cost to

$60 Machine  $25 Pay $1 Down, 50c a Week All Attachments Free Lady Instructor for the Inexperienced

Gevurtz@Sons

First and Yamhill

Second and Yamhill

Sweet Pea Contest Held by Multnomah School Chil-

Following are the winners of the prizes in the sweet pea contest conducted for the Multnomah county school children and held yesterday on the third floor of the city hall:

County exhibit - First, Constance Davis, city; second, Olivette Mills, Rus- plying to the testimony of Superintendsellville; third, Bertha Baumann, Syca-more, and Maurine Thurmond, St. Johns, Division 1—First, Elsa Ritter, city; second, Emma Bucher, Hillsdale; third, made the act a success, even at the inflated prices at which the land is being sold to the occupiers.

Pigeon's Long Flight.

From the Chicago Tribune, A pigeeon taken to Florida five months ago by Master in Chancery William F. Cooper has returned to a ledge on the Merchants' building, La Salie and Washington streets, where it was hatched. Mr. Cooper from his office has studied city hall pigeons for 14 years.

Last December he took 12 homing pigeons and one of his city hall pets to Florida. The homers returned at once, but it was not until yesterday that the other was seen the first time after its return.

T. P. Gore, the blind nominee for senator from Oklahoma, owes much of his success to his wife. She reads to him the daily papers so that he may keep informed as to current events; his learn to the being allowed for the success to the may keep informed as to current events; his learn to the success to the s play, 2 points each being allowed for color arrangement and artistic arrangement.

The county prizes were worth $4, $3 and $2, and the division prizes were worth $2, $1 and 50 cents.
Mrs. Cleveland Rothwell, Mrs. B. F.
Padrick and H. C. Krum were the

MOYER PROVES

(Continued from Page One.)

stuck absolutely to his original story. Moyer's cross-examination closed at Haywood On Stand. Haywood, cool and collected, took the stand immediately on resumption of the afternoon session. He said that he was born in Salt Lake City, his father was afternoon session. He said that he was born in Ohio and his mother in England. In early life his father was a pony express rider, later he became a miner and died when the witness was 3 years old. His stepfather was a miner. He worked for him, beginning when he was 3 years old. He had worked as a miner all his life, excepting a few years, when he essayed real estate business in Salt Lake City, but the panic put him out of business. He was married in 1889. His wife has been a hopeless invalid since 1897. He joined the Federation in 1899 in Silver City, becoming a charter member of the local at that city. He was secretary of the union when the trouble occurred in the Coeur d'Alenes. He never knew Steunenberg personally. He had been a reader of the Miners' Magazine ever since it started.

His union and he personally took part in the Coeur d'Alene troubles by sending a committee there to investigate the permit system inaugurated by Steunenberg. He circulated a petition among townspeople and raised $1,000 for use in relieving starvation among the miners' families, who were then in the buil pen. Union members were also assessed for the same purpose.

Haywood made a good witness, his answers being positive and comprehensive. He explained the loss of his eye, which mars his face, by saying that he stuck a knife in it while a very young child.

He swore that the congressional report on conditions in the Coeur d'Alenes.

RESENTED HAVING WHISKERS CALLED "LOVELY LACE CURTAINS"

The second-hand dealer with the Dave Warfieldian hirsute appendage, resented such conduct by rushing to police head-quarters and securing a warrant for the arrest of Keliocher on a charge of assault, hence the police court proceedings this morning.

From the testimony adduced it ap-gated, and I helped to relegate him, po-litically. Our union fought for his re-nomination, and he was not renominated. I never met nor saw Steunenberg, and had no personal feeling against him. I regarded him as any other politician, who was swayed by capitalistic interests. That was my only interest in him."

Haywood left Idaho July, 1901, after having been elected a member of the executive board. One year later he was elected secretary-treasurer which office he still holds. He defined at length the duties of the office. He is under $30,-000 bonds.

Tederation in Politics.

The federation has, by resolution, decided to enter politics and does so. It opposes all candidates who oppose labor. "It elects its friends and defeats its enemies," he said. "We've made fair progress, too," he continued. "We have secured real reform in existing laws affecting mines; our local unions have hospitals for members, lodge and reading rooms, and have paid out thousands upon thousands in sick and death benefits, caring for dependents upon deceased members." His testimony relative to the enactment of labor laws for Colorado and the manner in which they are set aside by the courts there was exceedingly minute and consumed much time. Little not already known was brought out by this line of testimony. Federation in Politics.

PORTLAND WILL GET

(Continued from Page One.)

Instead of sending assistants to Mr. Bristol's aid, Attorney-General Bonaparte delayed matters, the revenues of the office were lower than the actual cost of transacting the government's business, and finally appointed Nathan V. Harlan over Mr. Bristol's head to investigate the Southern Pacific land grant. It was explained in the press dispatches that Mr. Harlan was sick and no more delightful vacation could be devised for him than a trip to Oregon to prosecute a $50,000,000 suit against one of the greatest railroad systems in the world. one of the greatest railroad systems the world.

Mr. Harian never came to Oregon. He prepared a brief, it is reported, which was sent to the attorney-general relating to the conditions he found in Oregon white mussing about the archives in Washington. It is believed the report of Mr. Harian was carefully shoved into pigeonhole to remain until it could be thrown into the waste paper receptacle.

Then Came Townsend.

"What lovely lace curtains you wear," pears that Kellocher, who weighs in the said J. Kellocher, a longshoreman of 693 Vancouver avenue, to H. Bloom, a junk dealer, as he pulled the latter's whiskers on a Union avenue car several nights ago, after Bloom had called him to account for crowding against him.

"What lovely lace curtains you wear," pears that Kellocher, who weighs in the neighborhood of 250 pounds, was violently thrown against Bloom by the car starting too suddenly and the latter thereupon became exceedingly hostile. At the climax of the argument which end agreement which eard and sarcastically referred to the whiskers as "lace curtains."

ent Stewart of the Silver City mine, who swore Haywood said Steunenberg should be exterminated, the witness said: "I never said he should be exterminated, I think I said he should be relegated, and I helped to relegate him. not litically. Our union HAS HIGH VALUE

John Haak Buys Beautiful Lowell Residence for Large Sum.

The Lowell residence and grounds, one of the handsomest places on the east side, situated on the western slope of Mount Tabor, was purchased yesterday by John H. Haak, a wealthy timber land dealer, for $25,000. The residence was recently built by E. L. Lowell at a cost of about $18,000 and is a fine specimen of colonial architecture. The grounds contain six full lots terraced down to the Base Line road. It is announced that Mr. Haak will at once take possession of the property and occupy it as a home.

Napoleon D. Gardner has purchased a three-acre tract near Woodstock from John Sullivan for $6,000. This is the first acreage sale in the vicinity where the holding brought $2,000 an acre. Mrs. Margaret F. Sallars has purchased six lots in Walnut Park from W. M. Killingsworth for $5,000. Mrs. Sallars sold a 50-foot lot at the corner of Sixth and Taylor streets a short time ago for $48,000. It is understood that the Walnut Park lots just purchased by her will be improved with modern upto-date residences.

Josephine Squires has purchased from George R. Edner 3½ acres on the peninsula west of Piedmont at the rate of $1,000 an acre.

Ellen A. Tyler has nurchased from George H. Shinn a residence site on Portland Heights situated on Laurel near Twenty-second street. Consideration $4,200.

R. B. Stingis has recently bought a house and lot on the southeast corner of Failing and Haight streets from G. W. Priest for $3,000. Peter Bartel has closed a deal with C. W. Dart for the purchase of four lots in Sellwood. Consideration, $3,000.

The quarter block at the northwest corner of Umatilla avenue and East Fifth streets has been purchased by Silas Welioorn from Lucetta Petros for $2,050. men of colonial architecture. The grounds contain six full lots terraced a delicious dentifrice. Free from acid and grit. Just the business also a horizontal field the free from acid and grit. Just the thing for those who have an inclination for the niceties of every-day life. Ask your dentist.

COFFEE

Don't buy coffee not packed in airtight packages; don't buy coffee without the name of the roaster.

Your grocer returns your mosey if you doe't the schollage's Besti we say has the schollage's Bes

It's No Wonder that critlike Columbia Tailoring!

It never fails to please. Always stylish, correct, dependable. The fact that our business this year is practically doubling that of last is a pretty positive indication that Columbia tailoring is gaining new converts every

IT'S UP TO YOU

Come in on our Mid-Season offer-extra pair of trousers free with every Juit costing $22.50 or more. Get acquainted now.

Suits$20 to $40 Trousers$4 to $10

BLKS BUILDING

SEVENTH AND STARK STS.

Bristol while in Portland, thereby showing his lofty displeasure over Mr. Bristol's alleged inaction.