ICEBANKS BLAMES YELLOW JOURNALS

Vice-President Says Newspapers, Should Be Indicted and Sent to Prison.

(Journal Special Service.)
Spokane, Wash., July 11.—"Yellow journals are dirty and degrading and ought to be indicted as common criminals," declared Vice-President Fairbanks, who is visiting Spokane today. The vice-president likewise hazarded the opinion that newspapers of the type in question have a very bad influence on the general public.

Fairbanks' wrath against yellow journals was aroused when he was questioned about the action of the Indiana prohibition state committee in censuring him for serving cocktails at his table when he gave a dinner to President Roosevelt on Decoration day. He places the responsibility for the story on the newspapers printing it.

Fairbanks is seeing the sights of Spokane today and will leave here this afternoon for Seattle where he will attend the sessions of the Christian Endeavor convention.

CHILD ATTACKED BY GREAT DANE

Vicious Dog Tears Infant's Ear and Gashes Cheek.

(Journal Special Service.)
San Bernardino, Cal., July 11.—The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Feethan, well known residents of this city, was injured in a shocking manner yesterday by a Great Dane belonging to John Verbrick, a neighbor, which suddenly attacked the child, tearing away an ear and inflicting a terrible wound two inches long. The dog, which formerly belonged to Feethan, was curled upon the lawn when the child toddled to it. With a growl the beast sprang on the little boy. Mrs. Feethan and a woman friend standing a few feet distant, rushed to the infant's aid and only succeeded in driving the brute away after a sharp fight, during which the dog attacked both women, but finally was put to flight and later taken in charge by the police.

The child's injuries, while very serious, are not thought likely to prove fatal unless complications develop.

AT THE THEATRES

"Ingomar" at the Marquam.
There will be a change of bill at the Marquam tonight, Miss Nance O'Neill, the renowned tragedienne, appearing in "Ingomar." It has been many years since this play has been seen in Portland and a great deal of interest has been manifested in the production. Seats now selling.

"The Man From the West."
Tonight and all the balance of the week the Allen stock company will appear in the drama of the Frontier which never fails to please the most exacting audience. "The Man from the West." The play delighted all Lyric audiences. This is Josephine Dreyfus' last week.

Animal Family at Oaks.
At the wild animal show at the Oaks there is one of the rarest collections of natives of the forests and jungles that has ever been exhibited in this city. Representatives of almost every animal family are found in the collection and additions are being made constantly.

"Utah" at the Star.
"Utah," the attraction at the Star this week, is the hit of the month at that theatre. The company appears to advantage, the scenery is new and elaborate, and the play itself is the kind which causes the audience to laugh and weep alternately.

Astonishing Specialties.
Mind reading is one of the numerous specialties on the bill at the Grand this week. Abigail Price performs astonishing feats in this direction, and her performance has caused more talk than any other vaudeville act this season. Charles Carter is a clever magician.
