SEWER BUILDERS DAIRYMEN FAIL ONLY ONE BID MAY LOSE MONEY, TO BRING SUITS

remainder of the job the contractors section proved very difficult and progress was slow for weeks.

Loose earth and quicksands made it almost impossible to proceed without building ahead and driving braces before the workmen. Now, however, two crews working are making excellent headway and it is thought no more such difficulties will arise.

Work on the tunnel between East

Work on the tunnel between East Eleventh street and the river has ceased altogether. The tunnel has been com-pleted but the construction of the sewer through this tunnel yet remains to be accomplished. The branches are engag-ing the time of the contractors, Pac-quet Glebisch & Joplin, which must be done in pleasant weather while the re-mainder can be completed during the winter.

Splendid progress has been made on Division street and the crew at that point with the trench machine has proceeded as far as East Thirty-eighth street. Nothing here has hindered the work so far and the foreman is of the opinion that this branch may be completed in a reasonably short time. There is a great amount yet to be done and it is impossible to determine how much time will be consumed before the sewer is ready for service.

On the branches the sewer is being completed as the workmen proceed. The trench is dug, the sewer built and the trench filled again at once. The trench machine works ahead but carries the dirt back over the heads of the masons in the trench and dumps it on the completed sewer. A temporary track carries the machine with all its treatles for dumping right along with the workmen.

Rayburn between May I and July 1 and held in a feed stable until the owners called for them and paid the damages. Wrath filled the souls of dairymen, but to no avail. Rayburn continued to lock cows up while dairymen sought legal advice and meaps to evade the initiative enactment that prohibite pasturing cows on avenues and boulevards of the growing city near Mount Scott. At the instigation of the Lents Push club recently organised to enforce the law. E. L. Rayburn was appointed a deputy by Sheriff Stevens to take up the cows. Members of the push club believed that Lents had reached that stage in its growth where cows should be kept off the streets and Rayburn was the man who made it possible. The law was passed at the last general election, but, because of lack of an officer, it had never before been enforced. Some residents were beginning to doubt if it could be enforced in Lents. Many dairymen in Lents had used public streets for pastures, and they did not easily assent to the enforcement, and for a time threatened to bring action against Rayburn whom they accused of improper motives. A petition was even presented to Sheriff Stevens to bave him removed. But the threats have all subsided. E. L. Rayburn, formerly adertising agent for the next stray cow. There has been nothing doing in that line, however, since the first of the month.

Only Deposit of Kind in the United States Found on California Line.

Washington, July 12.-The only jade mine in the United States is in the Klamath national forest, Siskiyou county, California, where it was found last ty. California, where it was found last year by an old prospector. Samples of the lade were sent to Germany to be tested, with the result that they were pronounced to be of standard grade and capable of taking a high polish.

Preparations are now being made to develop the mine and ship the rock to Germany to be worked into ornaments. As a first step, a permit for building a road to the mine has been secured from the forest service, which is especially charged with furthering in all possible ways the development of mines and all other national forest resources.

The people of Siskiyou county, particularly along the Klamath river, are very proud of this discovery and are looking forward with hopes of large returns from this new resource. A railroad will probably be built down the Klamath river, passing within a few miles of this mine.

A jade mine is located under the mineral laws and therefore may be located and operated within a national forest.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR CONCLAVE ENDED

(Journal Special Service.)

Saratoga, N. Y., July 12.—The thirtieth triennial conclave of Knights Templar is a thing of the past and today all outgoing trains were laden with homebound passengers. By night the white plumes and gold girt uniform which have been so familiar for four days will be a comparative rarity. In numerous instances the commanderies have split up in order to take in points of interest in this region. Many have gone direct to New York City, while other parties have gone on excursions to New England resorts, to the White mountains and the St. Lawrence region.

Every one appears satisfied with the success of the conclave and the manner in which the visitors have been entertained. The gathering has been notable for the great number of women present. Many of the knights brought their wives and daughters with them, and nothing has been left undone to contribute to the pleasure of the guests. For the few knights who will be here tonight and for the local committees a number of supplementary social functions have been planned. These will mark the formal close of the conclave. plar is a thing of the past and today all

TEACHERS' SESSIONS ARE ENDED TODAY

(Journal Special Service.)

Los Angeles, July 12.—Satisfied with the profit gained, and more than satisfied with the hospitality shown them, the attendants at the fiftieth annual meeting of the National Educational association are holding their concluding sessions today. Some of the teachers will stay over for a short time visiting places of interest in southern California, but the majority of the several thousand strangers who have been the guests of Los Angeles for a week will turn their faces homeward tomorrow.

This morning the department of elementary education discussed the topic: Geography and History in the Life of the Pupil. The department of normal schools held a session presided over by President John R. Kirk of the Missouri State Normal school. Meetings were held also by the departments of art education, school administration, and Indian education.

The principal speakers scheduled to address the concluding general session this afternoon are President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California and Professor John Adams of University California and Professor John Adams of fied with the hospitality shown them,
