

REPORTED DEAD, BUT SHE LIVES

Mrs. Anna Warshburn of California, Mourned as Deceased for Five Years, Surprises Sister by Walking into Latter's Home.

Women Now Enjoying a Pleasant Visit Together After Separation of Twenty Years—Divorced Husband May Be Responsible.

Mrs. Anna Warshburn, of Hanford, California, whose death was announced five years ago by a telegram sent to her sister, Mrs. Grace Loder, of Oregon City, whom she had not seen for 20 years, walked into her sister's home recently. When Mrs. Loder recovered from the shock of seeing the sister whom she had mourned as dead for five years, explanations were made, and the sisters are now enjoying a pleasant visit.

Twenty years ago the women separated at Brownsville, Oregon, where they had grown to womanhood. Their maiden name was Riley. One of the sisters married and moved to Oregon City, and then the other married and went to California. Since that time they had not seen each other until Mrs. Warshburn's unexpected arrival.

Death Notice Received.

Five years ago Mrs. Loder received a telegram announcing that her sister had died. Being unable to go to California to attend the funeral she remained at home, mourning her sister's death.

Mrs. Warshburn came to Portland as a delegate from her city in California to the Baptist convention here, and determined while here to find her sister, Mrs. Loder, if possible, not knowing that she had been reported dead.

It had been so long since Mrs. Warshburn had heard from her sister that she had nearly forgotten the name of her husband, and thought at first that he was Attorney John F. Logan of this city. She called Mr. Logan on the telephone, and learned she was mistaken.

Further search discovered Attorney John W. Loder at Oregon City. Mrs. Warshburn called Mr. Loder up, and he said that he had married Grace Riley of Brownsville, and said they were living at Oregon City. Without telling Mr. Loder who she was, Mrs. Warshburn took the next car to Oregon City, and went directly to her sister's home, where she found that she had surprised her relatives even more than she had planned to do.

Mrs. Warshburn believes that the telegram announcing her death may have been sent to Mrs. Loder by her husband, Warshburn, from whom she had secured a divorce.

RITUALISTIC WORK BY PICKED TEAM

Supreme Organizer Mitchell Will Organize Original Order of Owls in Portland Tonight.

H. W. Mitchell of North Bend, Indiana, supreme organizer of the Order of Owls, will organize tonight at Alley hall at 8 p. m., the original Order of Owls in this city. Ritualistic work will be exemplified by a picked team of members under the instruction of Mr. Mitchell. This marks the end of a big fraternal fight which has been waged between the Order of Owls and the Brotherhood of Owls which is an imitation of the order as it exists in the east. Harry W. Leavitt, organizer of the brotherhood last October in Walla Walla, Washington.

The order has regularly instituted work in all of the cities where Leavitt has had limitation orders. The order has in all something like 90,000 members in the east and south, with about 600 in the west. The society was organized tonight with about 100 members.

Redstone Pipe of Peace.

From the Winfield Courier. A curious relic of the aboriginal past was plowed up Wednesday by H. H. Fox on his farm on Badger creek, five or six miles southeast of Winfield. It is a redstone pipe of unmistakable Indian workmanship, said by the old timers, who have examined it to be a genuine peace pipe.

It is beautifully shaped and polished, as turned out by the Indian craftsmen of the redstone region in Minnesota, and is marked with tribal or clan emblems in the cruder workmanship of the plains people. An expert in American ethnology would be able to tell at a glance what tribe marking it was. We can only guess that it was Ojibwa, Kaw or Kickapoo. The place in which it was found is on or near the old Kickapoo hunting trail. It has been there not less than 35 years, no telling how much longer.

The redstone of which the peace pipes were made is found only in one locality and from it were supplied pipes to all the North American Indians from Algonquin to Yuma and from Seminole to Chilcat. The Indians believed the stone was the flesh and blood of the chief of the tribes who perished in the Great Flood.

Red Riding Hood's Wood.

From the London Chronicle. Jack killed his giants in Cornwall in the days of King Arthur, and Tom Thumb flourished at about the same time, while at much later date the Babes were left by their wicked Uncle to die in the wood in Norfolk—distinctly in northwest Norfolk.

Northwest Norfolk also contains "Little Red Riding Hood's Wood." Twenty years ago it was a lovely haunt for the hare lover. In the heart of the wood was a lake, in the middle of the lake an island and on the island a tiny, white-walled cottage, which was kept open by the owner's bailiff. It would have been unkind to tell the villagers, who firmly believed that the episode of the life of Little Red Riding Hood actually occurred, that Germany claimed to have sent us the story.

BE WARNED IN TIME

NEVER PAG MEANS THAT VITAL FORCES ARE EXHAUSTED.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Meet This Condition by Building Up the Blood and Strengthening the Nerves.

Nervous debility is the forerunner of a nervous breakdown, perhaps the first warning sign of paralysis. The first thing to do in nervous debility is to stop the cause of the trouble, if possible, whether it is irregular living, worry, or whatever it may be. Then the nerves must be given special nourishment and the blood enriched. This is the mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and this is why the pills have been used with such great success in nervous troubles that did not yield to ordinary methods of treatment.

Mr. Charles W. Lowell of Shelburne, Falls, Mass., says: "I was run down in health for ten years and for much of that time was unable to do any physical work on account of nervous debility. I kept at my work in the office although I was not in condition to do so and several physicians had been unable to give me any relief.

"I couldn't do a good day's work without being all used up. I suffered from a general fatigue all the time and had no strength or ambition. I had frequent backaches and a headache at least once a week. My sleep was broken. My eyes were affected by my nervous condition and I had dizzy spells for half an hour at a time, especially after eating a hearty meal. My appetite was poor and I was troubled with gas on my stomach and constipation.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me by a friend and finally I made up my mind to try them. My appetite improved, my sleep became sound and restful and I gained in weight and strength. My nervousness has entirely left me. I am very glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases of the blood and nerves, such as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fever, neuralgia, nervous debility, St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

WIND RIVER MILL BURNED TO GROUND

Several Hundred Men Deprived of Work by Heavy Loss at Cascade Locks.

The Wind River mill at Cascade Locks burned to the ground late last night, entailing an immediate loss of more than $150,000 on the company, while the delays consequent on the fire will bring the total to a much higher figure.

George Shepherd, the Portland attorney for the Wind River Logging Company, states that the damage at the mill will exceed $150,000, which is partially covered by insurance. According to Mr. Shepherd the Wind River company's lumber from its mill there will not be ready for shipment until the operation of its different camps, the mill and the yards.

The Wind River mill was started by J. G. and I. N. Day in 1900, and these gentlemen were bought out by a syndicate of Wisconsin lumbermen which placed Clark W. Thompson over the properties as general manager.

The burning of the mill, which was caused by a fire starting in the boiler-room, will result in the shutting down of the logging camps. The company until recently has been making a large number of men will be thrown out of employment in this way.

"Royal Summer Recipes" will save you fret and worry. Free to you. See page 15.
