The rooms of the threads of Oregon history, Glenn Walker comes into this contest under favorable auspices.

The rooms of the Oregon Historical society in the Portland city hall contain many relics of the Walker family. Among them is a sword and belt used by Cyrus Walker when acting as first lieutenant of Company B, Oregon First Volunteers in the late civil war.

The very pan in which Glenn's father, was christened is one of the relics of the Historical society. The slinpers that he wore as a child are there also and tacked to them is a card bearing the following inscription:

"Make in 1838 by Mrs. Mary Richardson to Oregon territory. In occupation he is one of Oregon, now living, born to white parents December 7, 1838."

In addition to these relics there is a Under Paverable Auspices.

In addition to these relics there is a pair of Indian gauntlets that were made for Cyrus Walker by an Indian girl at Warmspring when air. Walker was teaching in the government and mission school there.

Mother Was A Pioneer.

Mary F. Wheeler, Gleen's mother, was a pioneer of '47 and a daughter of Jason Wheeler, another pioneer of Albany, Oregon, Mary Walker died on August 18, 1996, leaving, besides Glenn, two other children, Clifford and Mary Walker, of the ages of 18 and 11 respectively.

If Glenn Walker inherits the courage and perseverance of his mother's side of the family together with the enthusiasm and energy of his father's blood, he will achieve a high position in The Journal's educational contest. Journal's educational contest

George H. Hines, the widely-known pioneer and writer on Oregon history, says of Gienn Waiker's candidacy for a Journal scholarship:

"It should be a pleasure to the pioneers of Oregon and to the native sons and daughters to help Glenn E. Walker win one of the scholarships offered by The Oregon Journal. He is a cripple yet hopeful and cheerful and is anxious to fit himself to be useful. He is the son of a worthy and well-known pioneer. There are other contestants in Albany, so that the boy cannot have the entire support of his home town. He is doing what he can for himself. Now if pioneer families in other parts of the state who have no other claims upon their patronage will subscribe for The Journal and ask that the votes be credited to Glenn E. Walker, the boy will be sure of the scholarship which he seeks. The newspaper costs no more on account of the votes which are given to the contestant. Pioneers who now take The Journal can help the boy by advancing their subscriptions for certain periods, any period longer than three months.

"As far as Edison Edwards is concerned, I can say that he is an earnest, industrious and ambitious young man. It is, as I understand it, his intention to prepare himself for the competitive entrance examination for the United States Naval academy at Annapolis, and since he is depending entirely upon his own efforts to accomplish this object he is undoubtedly entitled to every encouragement possible. He is now anxious to reenter the academy, as he realizes that we have successfully fitted several young men for both the United States academies at Annanolis and West Point, and have at our command unusual facilities to accomplish that purpose.

"As Edwards wishes to continue to live at home with his parents, and to attend the academy as a day pupil, he would claim, if he should succeed in winning out that scholarship which your paper offers to day students. Thus the scholarship with board, also offered by The Journal would become the prize of some other fortunate contestant, probably one out of the city.

"In closing let me assure you that the Hill Military academy will receive with open arms any of the contestants winning one of the scholarships offered by The Oregon Journal. Very truly yours.

Men's Diseases

I have treated hundreds of men who had long suffered a gradual decline of physical and mental energy as a result of private ailments, and have been interested in noting the marked general improvement that follows a thorough cure of the chief disorder. My success in curing difficult cases of long standing has made me the foremost specialist treating men's diseases. This success is due to several things. It is due to the study I have given my specialty; to my having ascertained the exact nature of men's ailments, and to the original, distinctive and thoroughly scientific methods of treatment I employ.

To those in doubt as to their true condition who wish to avoid the serious results that may follow neglect, I offer free consultation and advice, either at my office or through correspondence. If your case is one of the few that has reached an incurable stage, I will not accept it for treatment, nor will I urgemy services upon anyone. I treat curable cases only, and cure all cases I treat.

You Pay When Cured

My Fee in Any Uncomplicated Case

Weakness So-called "weakness" in men is curable—fully curable. It has not been cured by those measures commonly employed, for they are commonly employed, for they are methods based upon supposition and not upon fact. Prematureness and loss of power in men is due to a chronic state of inflammation in the prostate giand, and not to a disordered nervous condition, as has been supposed. I treat the inflammation by a local process that does not fail to accomplish its purpose and with compilsh its purpose and with this condition corrected full and complete strength and vigor re-

STRICTURE-My treatment is absolutely painless, and perfect results can be depended upon in every instance. I do no cutting or dilating whatever. Contracted Disorders

Every case of contracted disease I treat is thoroughly cured; my patients have no relapses. When I pronounce a case cured there is not a particle of infection or inflammation remaining, and there is not the slightest danger that the disease will return in its original form or work its way into the general system. No contracted disorder is so trivial as to warrant uncertain methods of treatment, and I especially solicit those cases that other doctors have been unable to cure. ally solicit those cases that oth doctors have been unable to cure.

Without using knife, ligature or caustic, without pain and without detention from business, I cure Varicocele in one week. If you have sought a cure elsewhere and been disappointed or if you fear the harsh methods that most physicians employ in treating this disease, come to me and I will cure you seemly and permanently by a gentle and painless pathod. Don't delay. Varicocele has its dangers and brings its disastrous results. If you will call I will be pleased to explain my method of curing.

Of a dozen jewelry establishments in St. Louis visited recently by a purchaser in search of cameos, says the Globe-Democrat, only one had unset cameos in stock, and only three had more than eight specimens of the set gems. This scarcity of cameos makes them very expensive, and those jewelers that are so fortunate as to have them in stock can get almost any price they choose to ask for them.

can get almost any price they choose to ask for them.

The true nature of a cameo is very much misunderstood by the public generally. Most people think it is the stone itself, when in reality the method of cutting is what produces the cameo. The real meaning of the word is unknown, its derivation having never been discovered, but correctly speaking cameos are small sculptures executed in low relief on some substance precious either for its beauty, rarity or hardness: There are emerald comeos, turquoise cameos, shell cameos, coral cameos; indeed, any substance that lends itself to carving in such minute detail can be used for cameo cutting, and nearly all precious stones, except diamonds, have been so used. Diamonds have been used for intaglios but never for cameos. Emerald is the most common precious stone from which cameos have been made and there are some mon precious stone from which cameos have been made, and there are some very fine emerald portrait cameos in existence, notably those of Queen Elizabeth in the British museum. Shell cameos were first made in the fifteenth century but never became popular until recently.

Banded onyx is generally used for cameo work because of its hardness and coloring, and it is this fact that has caused the misapprahension, the stone being used so much in making cameos that it has now become better known as "cameo" than by its right name.
