

SABBATH SPIRIT FALLS UPON GLADSTONE PARK

Day of Liberty, Rest and Voluntary Duty Before Chautauquans.

VOICES OF CHILDREN. RING OUT IN CANTATA

This Musical Event, of Last Evening, Fitting Crown for a Week Filled With Good Things—Review of the White Ribboners' Day.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, July 13.—To awake with the delightful sense of Sunday rest, with no song, musical though it be, to call one to class work, but with the prospect of a day of devotional music, and to worship in God's own temple, will be the experience of the Chautauquans this morning; for today there are no duty hours except as each one wants to keep them.

Rare Musical Features. At 2 p. m. the Chautauqua chorus, under the direction of Professor Heritage, will give the opening music for the afternoon service.

The sermon will be by Dr. John R. Strain. A woman who charms. At 5 p. m. the Young Woman's Christian Association will occupy the auditorium. A most interesting and inviting program has been arranged.

Another address which will, in a way, be a companion piece for the first, will be by Miss Frances Gage, northwest secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who will talk on "Girls of Many Lands."

It Was the White Ribbon.

Today the white ribbon held the center of attraction. Frank Reagan spoke on "The Nation in Politics." Mr. Reagan was elected state senator from the Tenth Illinois district on the prohibition ticket and naturally contended that it can and should be done any where.

At the close of the regular meeting a delightful reception was tendered in the W. C. T. U. tent to Mr. Reagan and several other temperance lecturers who were on the grounds.

The following is the program of the cantata in full: Opening chorus—"Joy! Joy! A Year Hence I Shall Be a Queen."

ANOTHER BIG WEEK AT ELLERS PIANO HOUSE

SPLENDID NEW PIANOS OFFERED ACTUALLY FOR LESS THAN OTHER DEALERS ASK FOR SECOND-HAND INSTRUMENTS.

Perfect in Every Particular. Handsome Styles, and Purchasable on the Easy-Payment Plan—Grand Opportunity for Every Piano-Hungry Music Lover to Satisfy Desire—A Demonstration of Value-Giving and Liberal Selling Methods That Put Other Houses Out of the Race.

It remains for Ellers Piano House to demonstrate real, genuine piano bargains. The efforts of other dealers to "get aboard the band wagon" are amusing at best.

A Guaranteed Saving. We save every buyer from $50 to $150 from the cost in other stores. More than this, there is no juggling with prices at Ellers; there is one price the same to every piano seeker.

Now that this seems to be a season of "demonstrations," the House Ellers will do a little further demonstrating on their own account. Last week we offered a carload of the well-known Haas pianos at a special concession.

A Real Demonstration. This week, Ellers Piano House will demonstrate a little more emphatically than ever, where the real, genuine bargains are to be found.

For instance, here is a beautiful cabinet grand, in mahogany, straight from the maker, retailed by the average dealer for $225, which you can buy from Ellers Piano House for $135.

"DAD" TRINE DIES AT CORVALLIS

Veteran Trainer and Athlete Dead of Cancer Caused By An Accident.

W. O. Trine, familiarly known among Oregon athletes as "Dad," for the past six years physical director and trainer at the Oregon Agricultural college, died of cancer at his home in Corvallis at 7 o'clock yesterday evening.

His death was not unexpected by his friends, who have marveled at his wonderful grit while suffering from the cancer. He had gone ahead with his work while the great physical pain and agony worked up to the last minute.

Trine was born in Oregon about 40 years ago. He is survived by his wife and young daughter, both of whom were with him at the end. The funeral will be held today. Interment will be at Eugene.

February song—"I'm the Last of All the Train," Isbell Clark. Winter duet—"Boisterous and Cold," Winter chorus—"Winter Has Come," Fablesau, "Winter Has Gone."

May song—"I Come the Last of a Sister Band," Marrietta Hickman. Spring chorus—"There's Dust Upon My Mantle," Maud Booker.

September Song—"The Sultry Summer Is Past," Florence Hewitt. October Song—"Mine Is No Flowery Garland," Eunice Owensby.

November Song—"O, the Royal Indian Summer," Miss Christlene Kraut. Autumn Trio—"The Fruits I Bring Are Rich and Rare."

December Song—"Ye Call Me the Tyrant," Ruth Rauch. Ensemble—"The Moths in Fancy Drift."

State Song—"The Oregon Grape," (words by Eva Emery Dye, music by Father Dominio of Mt. Angel), Nellie Roberts of Salem and chorus. Double Chorus—"A Year Is Come! We Dear Friends Are Happy." Dr. R. A. Heritage, musical director.

SUMMER STORIES FOR LITTLE MEN AND WOMEN

Miss Hassler, Children's Librarian at Public Library, to Tell Fairy Tales on Wednesdays and Indian Legends on Saturdays—Course Began Yesterday.

Little children love to be told stories. What child has not begged to be told a story when she is put to bed, or when she is tired of play? Their innate love for a tale in their own language is one of the means used in reaching children in library work.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Hassler, the children's librarian at the public library, began a series of summer stories on Indians. She gathered the children around the table and explained to them that fairy stories and Indian stories were good for them during vacation when they were not supposed to study, and they nodded their heads in emphatic agreement.

OFFICERS OF STATE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., July 13.—The Oregon State Medical association, which closed its thirty-third annual meeting at Seaside yesterday, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Dr. R. C. Coffey; vice-president, Dr. Rosenberg; secretary, Dr. William House; delegate to the American Medical association, Dr. A. C. Smith; alternate, W. T. Williamson, all of Portland.

THREE STORY BEDS

Designed for Use in Camps, Apartments and Steamers. Two story beds, that is to say bedsteads containing two beds placed one above the other, have been in use for some few years, but something entirely new in this line is the three story bed, containing three beds one above another, which was first placed on the market in the present season.

Here Is One of the Letters Sent to John Blaauw in a Friendly Contest Before July 4th, From Children

Mr. John Blaauw: Dear Sir—I am a boy 10 years old. My mother sent me down town to get some coffee and I got a package of Three Gs at Mr. Ellers grocery; and she made some for supper and gave us each a cup to try. Liked it so well that I drank two cupsful. Mother says it is just fine. She don't let us drink coffee, but she lets us drink all of Three Gs that we want. I will send you the carton that the Three Gs was in. The package just weighed two pounds. You will find a drawing in this letter to show you how I think that it should be used in every home, because it is healthy. I think that is all, so good-bye. Your friend MR. JAMES EMERY MERLE ALLISON Dayton, Oregon. P. S.—I go to the Dayton public school.
