

HAYASHI WILL FIGHT FOR EMERIT DALTON FREED ADMISSION OF JAPANESE FROM JAIL PAROLE

Reported That Negotiations for a New Treaty Are Now Being Carried on and That Mikado's Representative Will Demand Concessions.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 15.—Masuji Manjūkawa, a Japanese lawyer now staying at Washington, but formerly of San Francisco, where he was said to represent his countrymen in their protest over the segregation of Japanese pupils in the public schools, has issued a statement to the effect that he is advised of treaty negotiations between this country and Japan.
According to Manjūkawa, Otōkazu Yamabe and T. Fujikawa, of Tokyo, cabled to San Francisco, from whence the message was transmitted to Washington, information that they had been accorded a two-hour conference with Foreign Minister Hayashi, who told them that he would never consent to any treaty in which the exclusion of Japanese from the country was a condition. Wright had been negotiating for weeks with the object of gaining such concessions. Yamabe is said to have stated that he asked why Hayashi had not made his views public, and his answer was that in the near future he might give them out.
He is alleged to have said positively that when the new treaty was negotiated article 2 of clause 4 relating to police and immigration would not remain in it. He is said to have stated further that the Japanese government had begun negotiations for the admission of Japanese subjects resident in this country to naturalization, but as yet no satisfactory answer had been received, and that it might be decided to have Japanese in this country bring a case and that success was hoped for, as Secretary Straus was considered friendly to the Japanese claims for citizenship.
As to the alleged negotiations over the new treaty absolute denial has been made here that any deal has been struck.

REPORT CONFIRMED

Washington Officials Say Two Japs Were Arrested at Porto.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, July 15.—The war department confirms the arrest at San Diego of a Jap spy and the excluding of another from the Mare Island navy yard. Acting Secretary of War Allyn Worth says the Jap arrested at Fort Rosecrans was acting in a suspicious manner near one of the principal works. The other Jap was simply hustled off Mare Island and further action is not expected. An official report came this afternoon from General Funston at San Francisco.
This incident recalls the story of five Japanese said to have been detected in Havana last March while securing data about the fortifications there. They are said to have put up at a high-priced hotel and to have spent money liberally to gain their object, but were allowed to go because of the reluctance of Governor Magoon to create an incident, just when the California school incident was being widely discussed.

Last Survivor of Notorious Gang of Outlaws Is Out of Cell on Vacation.

HAS BEEN CONFINED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

At End of Four Months He Must Return to Prison to Await Pardon, Which, It Is Reported, Will Soon Be Forthcoming.

(Journal Special Service.)
Kansas City, Mo., July 15.—Bewildered by the busy scenes and new sights confronting his eyes, Emmett Dalton, the ex-train robber, is enjoying the first bit of freedom he has spent outside of prison walls in nearly 15 years. A week ago he was granted a four months' parole by Governor Hoch and released from the Kansas penitentiary at Lansing in order that he might come to the city to receive treatment for a wound in the shoulder, received in the famous skirmish at Coffeyville, Kansas. It is believed that a pardon is in sight for the ex-bandit, and it is probable that he will not be obliged to stay in prison long after the expiration of his present parole. His aged mother, who is now with him, has been working for his freedom for years and recently her efforts have received the indorsement of many prominent Kansans.
Last Survivor of Gang.
Emmett Dalton is the last surviving member of the Dalton gang of outlaws which included the brothers, Bob, Gratton and Emmett, who first sprang into public notice in 1889 and were wiped out in 1894 at Coffeyville, Kansas, where they attempted to rob the Coffeyville National bank. Bob Dalton had been a deputy marshal in the Indian territory, where he acquired a reputation for nerve and daring. In 1889 he was discharged from the service for accepting bribes. He was then accompanied by his brothers, Gratton and Emmett, he proceeded to California. They had not been there long before Gratton was shot and killed. Emmett, in which the fireman of the train was killed. The Daltons were accused and indicted. They were held in prison for the next 15 months they made criminal history faster than it had been made since the days of the Younger and James boys.

The Santa Fe train robberies at Wharton and Red Rock, the Missouri Pacific robbery at Abilene and the San Francisco robbery near Virginia all followed in rapid succession. Between jobs the Daltons were in the territory, Arkansas and Kansas. The railroad express companies heaped up rewards until they amounted to $25,000, but these were of no account to the Daltons. He had lived there, knew the banks and was anxious to do the same and Younger exploits by riding boldly into the town in broad daylight and plundering both banks at one haul. The raid on the Santa Fe train in October, 1891, rode into an alley and started for the bank, the Daltons carrying a Winchester in the hollow of his arm.
Citizens Give Battle.
But the purpose of the gang was quickly realized and a cry of "Robbers" was heard. Citizens of the town rushed into two hardware stores and armed with rifles and guns. They stole out of the Daltons' hands, in alleys and back lots, while some few stood boldly hid in the street. In the National bank the Daltons and Emmett Dalton had compelled the bank force to hold up its hands and had dumped $20,000 in cash into a sack. Coming to the bank window, Bob engaged in battle with the townspeople, killing one man and wounding three others.
While there was more serious trouble for Grat Dalton at the Condon bank. The bank had a time lock which frustrated the efforts of the gang to open it. Grat swept up the cash he found lying around, exchanging a few shots with the citizens until he was forced to flee. The gang hurried to the alley where their horses were tied and where they were hemmed in by citizens to such an extent that the Dalton boys only Emmett, a swifter of foot than the others, gained his horse. Emmett rode but a short distance when, to the astonishment of the citizens, he turned back and engaged in a struggle with the others, gaining his horse. Emmett rode but a short distance when, to the astonishment of the citizens, he turned back and engaged in a struggle with the others, gaining his horse.

When the smoke of battle cleared away there were eight dead men. The robbery had been done so. Dalton, Joe Evans and John Moore, and their fifth man, Emmett Dalton, had been shot until they were thought not to live. The citizens had lost the city marshal, a bank clerk and two merchants of the town. Several others had been severely wounded. Emmett recovered from his wounds he was tried and sentenced to be hanged, which in Kansas means a life sentence in the penitentiary. He was but 18 years old when captured and has been confined in the penitentiary nearly 15 years. He has spent most of all times as a model prisoner.

SAY PLANING MILL IS A NUISANCE

Residents in Vicinity of Madison and Fifth Complain to City Attorney.

Residents in the vicinity of Fifth and Madison streets have filed a long petition with the city attorney complaining about the planing mill and carpenter shop at Lewis & Lewis, situated on Madison street near Fifth. It is alleged by the petitioners that the buildings, one of which is on one side of the street and the other opposite from it, are a nuisance and a menace to the remainder of the neighborhood.

It is complained that the noise made by the planing mill annoys the entire group of residences surrounding it, while both structures are old shacks and firetraps.
The city attorney's office is considering the petition and will present it to the council at its next meeting on Wednesday, together with an opinion as to what remedy lies in the power of the city.

EAGER CLIMBERS DEPART TONIGHT

Strong Limbed People of the Mazama Outing Party Ready for Ascent.

Over 30 strong limbed, eager mountain climbers, constituting the annual Mazama outing party leaves at 7:45 o'clock tonight for Albany to prepare for the ascent of old Mount Jefferson next week. Next week this number will be augmented, by nearly as many people who desire to climb the icy sides of the great peak, but who are unable to enjoy the side trips that are taken this week.
All of the arrangements have been completed and the baggage is being taken to the depot today. W. A. Sprague, the chief of the state, has been receiving and checking baggage at the Union depot all day. All of the baggage must be turned in by 10 o'clock this evening and it is urged that the members of the party be in their seats in the cars at 7:30 o'clock. Part of a car has been reserved for Albany and a special car will carry the climbers to Detroit, from which point the first side trips will be taken. The state and the Mazama outfit will be given their first touch of rough walking, when a six-mile stroll will be taken just for the purpose of training the legs and commencing later in the week.
Following are the people who have signed for the trip: Miss Agnes Plummer, C. H. Sholes, Nelson Gammans, E. Henneman, Rodney Glesan, Francis Benefield, Dr. D. T. Kerr, E. P. Sheldon, G. H. Kiser, Rev. A. Chinlund, Volman, L. Hicks, Rev. A. D. Wagner, Mr. Stammers, Mr. Rice, John Nichols, S. E. Mohler, Miss Anna L. Reinland, Portland, La. Anderson and R. Alex. Bernstein of Los Angeles. In addition to these, advice has been received that Dr. John A. Sweeney, wife and two daughters, Eugene Semple and daughter from Seattle, will take the trip with the party, probably arriving today.

CHINATOWN WILL SUE DETECTIVES

Chock Wey Resents Action of Chinatown Squad in Breaking in His Abode.

Suit for damages will be instituted within the next few days against Detectives Kay and Klein, of the Chinatown squad, by Attorney W. W. Banks, representing Chock Wey, into whose abode at 214 East Saturday night the forced entrance of the officers in search for an alleged "white slave" supposed to be harbored there.
The allegation of Chock Wey, who is head of the Yuen Wah company, one of the largest Chinese merchandising establishments in Portland, that immediately after the departure of Kay and Klein from his dwelling place a solid gold ring and earrings were found to be missing, he being investigated personally by Chief Gritsmacher.
The chief is wrath over the action of his subordinates and declares that they will be held responsible for the breaking down the doors of Chock Wey's establishment without due process of law. Both detectives were before the chief yesterday, each was severely grilled for conduct.
"If the Chinese do not take further action I intend to let the matter drop," said Chief Gritsmacher this morning. "Chock Wey and his wife were to have come to my office yesterday to furnish a description of the missing jewelry, but for some reason did not put in an appearance. I can find no justification for Kay and Klein breaking into the place upon the statement of a woman that she saw a white woman enter the place. Even if it was so they had no right to force their way into the house, as it is not crime or white woman to enter any building in Chinatown. If similar complaints are registered against the officers I will file charges against them."
Woman Respectable.
"I have learned that the female who was seen entering the place is a hard-core woman who has been in the habit for the past two years of leaving her two small children with Chock Wey's family during her hours of labor. The children play with Chinese youngsters and their mother is held in such high esteem by Chock Wey and his family that they call her "cousin."
Attorney W. W. Banks, who has been retained to sue Kay and Klein, stated today that he intended to start a suit against the officers for damages.
"The men had absolutely no right to break into my statement of a woman," Banks, "and we intend to take the matter into the courts."

The Record of the Week Ending July 14

The advertising record for the week shows the following:

	Journal	Oregonian	Telegram
Local, inches	6,762	5,586	5,996
Foreign, inches	625	856	481
Classified and Real Estate, inches	2,552	3,066	1,530
	9,939	9,508	8,001

The Journal leads in quantity of advertising carried by the three daily papers of Portland for the past week, leads in paid circulation, as well as in volume of advertising, and in proportion to its paid circulation the Journal's advertising rates are much lower than those of any daily paper of the northwest. And those who use the Journal as an advertising medium get results, from Portland as well as all parts of the Oregon country. And remember advertisers are given the privilege of examining The Journal's circulation records, so they can determine for themselves its quantity and quality, and where it goes. In other words, The Journal delivers the goods to advertisers in full and fair measure, basing payment for advertising upon condition of the accuracy of its circulation statements. If The Journal has not the circulation it claims the advertiser does not have to pay a red cent for space. And as The Journal has the circulation, greater than any other daily paper, the advertiser gets more for his money spent with The Journal than he can from any other daily paper.

Pack Train of Mazamas Reached Mount Jefferson Safely.

Albany, Or., July 15.—Word has just been received here from Mr. Mohler that he has safely reached Mount Jefferson with the first pack train of the Mazamas and is on his way back to Detroit where he expects to meet the main body of the Mazamas this evening.
He made the trip across the mountains with 13 horses in the pack train. Everything went well until the train arrived at a very steep descent, this particular mountain was so steep that even after a road had been cut it was almost impossible for the animals to proceed. One of the pack men refused to heed the efforts of the driver to make him go forward. Finally the animal rolled over and was crushed, smashing the contents of the pack on his back.
Mr. Mohler's arrival at Brettenbush hot springs he found about 75 Portland people waiting to cheer the Mazamas on their way. All kinds of game abound in this section and a magnificent outfit is in store for those who make the trip.
Mr. Hicks, M. Wagner and Mr. Willis reached Albany July 12 on their way to Mount Jefferson, intending to join the rest of the party in camp Monday evening. They learned that three forest rangers had gone before and cut a way through the dense underbrush for them. It was also learned here that R. A. Bernstein had just arrived from Los Angeles on the steamer Columbia and will come at once to join the Mazamas.

Jacob Burkhardt, steward at the Good Samaritan hospital, is the latest victim of the spinal meningitis epidemic which raged recently and which was thought to have disappeared. Burkhardt, who is about 50 years of age, was affected two days ago and as soon as his malady became evident he was hurried to St. Vincent's sanitarium for treatment. While he is very sick his condition for the present is not critical.
The latest victim to be reported from spinal meningitis is that of Clara Adele Clifford, the 7-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Clifford, 345 Engle street. The child was taken down with the disease and died July 14.

Davis Leader at Bunker Hill.
When the Haywood trial reconvened today Judge Wood announced decidedly that he would not permit the introduction of the report of the probate court showing that John D. Elliott, one of the defense witnesses, had been an inmate of an insane asylum. He said Elliott admitted the fact on the stand, and if the state wanted to impeach him it should have done so. It did not, then Elliott's evidence must be weighed by the jury.
W. L. Lacey was recalled and positively identified "Big Bill" Davis as the member of the general union whom he said led the attack on the Bunker Hill mill.
Lawrence Gubinski of San Francisco contradicted several material facts in the San Francisco Bradley explosion. G. F. Wayne of Caldwell, who found Steunberger after the explosion, was recalled to testify that the body was blown through the gate from the outside. This was intended to prove that when the Bradley explosion took place he was not in the mill and that the effect of a giant powder explosion was absolutely indicated. A lively contest between the lawyers ended by the court excluding this evidence.
C. A. Lamson, an expert on gas, gave evidence that the Bradley explosion was not caused by gas.
Orchard Recalled.
Orchard was then recalled. He denied that he had ever known "Shorty" in Cheyenne.
On cross-examination he said his mother-in-law's name was McKinney and he lived in Ontario, but he didn't know if he was insane or not. He was broken up by the cause of his death. He did not know his uncle, Peter McKinney. He imagined he had come from the mill. Orchard said, and banged himself in Canada.
