TODAY'S MARKETS

California Fruit Canners Association Names Values for the Season.

Today's market features Loganberries in good shape. Raspberry season is closing.

After all this worrying regarding the lateness of announcement of opening values on canned fruits, the California Fruit Canners' association today named its 1907 initial values, one day ahead of the time prices were named a year ago. Then they were named July 17. Generally speaking, the opening values are materially higher than a year ago, the big corporation making quotations every much like those named by the Central California Canners' association a week or so ago. Today jobbers named their prices to conform with the newly unced ones of the California asso-season from $50 to $10 at the season from $50 to $10 at the green fruit. Dried apricots are very high, packers asking about 21c in the south, which would place the price here around 25c a pound.

Local canneries have named their fruit quotations. Practically speaking, they are about the same as those named they are about the same as those named by the California Fruit Canners' association except that the jobbers here save the freight charged from the south. In most lines of canned fruits the northwest jobbing trade secures practically all its supplies from local institutions. This year the local packers are offering cherries, apples, blackberries, raspberries, loganherries, blackberries, gooseberries, piums, pears and rhubarb. In a small way peaches likewise are offered. kagway, Sitka, Juneau and way ports. Sailing 9 p. m. E. S. S. Co.'s Enmbolds ... July 12, 22 City of Seattle ... July 20 Cottage City, via Sitka ... There has been a revival of the trading in hops locally during the past 24 hours. A few small lots have been purchased from dealers, especially Lochmund & Pincus. English buyers are coming out with predictions of heavy crops all over the United States this season, but are nevertheless more anxious buyers of the old crop than they have been. This seems to prove that they are talking to get growers to sell more freely.

There has been a reappearance of Sound silver smelt in the market. To-day quoted at 7c a pound. This is the first shipment for about two weeks. Dressed meat market is firmer than ever, especially for fine stuff. As high as 9c a pound obtained for strictly fancy stuff. St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior, Winnipeg and Port Arthur and re-farmers of the county are prepared to offer a most gratifying crop report.

The Journal correspondent after a careful search in the matter has secured interviews with such prominent business men as J. L. Bialock, secretary of the Arlington Investment company; Wade & Wade of Olex, Judge Ed Dunne of Condon and Judge Mariner of Blalock, all shrewd and conservative business men and men who are in a position to predict upon the subject, being deeply interested in the outcome of the approaching harvest. The concensus of opinion seems to indicate that the county will produce more than an average Chicago wheat market opened with a sharp decline today, liquidation and the sharply lower Liverpool causing an initial decline of ½ to %c here. A Minneapolis dealer wires: "Just had talk with a cash grain man, who sent over 150 inquiries in North Dakota last week asking about the cropoutlook. He has received over 100 replies and not one of them was good. They averaged from fair to so bad that the wheat was being plowed up."

greatest activity and largest above yested day. It closed 25 points above yesterday's price. Southern Pacific was also a very strong feature. It held a net gain of 1% points at the end of the day. The entire market was firm and higher, although trading was not on an extensive scale.

The manipulation behind the prices today is interesting in that it will not allow bullish sentiment to breed over one day at a time.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Rock Creek, Or., July 16.—The cool west winds of the past week, followed by a warm Sunday rain have fully insured the grain crop of Gilliam county and those knowing ones who always guess the crop a little short are new willing to concede that this portion of the Columbia basin will produce the bumper grain crop in the history of the county, and owing to the ideal "ripening" weather the past few days the farmers of the county are prepared to offer a most gratifying crop report.

Peaches and apricots are the principal canned fruits purchased by the local trade from California. Jobbers' prices on peaches today for the new pack range from $2 to $3 a dozen, according to quality, as against $1.65 and $2.50 a year ago. Jobbers quote apricots for the new pack at $2.15 and $3.25 as against $1.75 and $2.40 a year ago. The sharp advance in values is due more to the scarcity of labor and packing materials than anything else. However, in apricots the short crop and the bareness of supplies for several weeks helped most to elevate quotations.
