Irvington in Throes of Paving War Between Bituminous Macadam, Bitulithic and Asphalt Forces-Ask Board Not to Award.

Irvington is in the threes of a paving war, the main battle ground now being the city council. Yesterday the latest engagement between the bituminous macadam, the bitulithic and the asphalt forces was fought. The asphalt people now seem to have the short hold on the

The council yesterday afternoon voted o re-refer the paving of the Irvington district to the street committee and at the same time decided to ask the executive board at its meeting tomorrow not to award any contracts for hard surface pavement in the district until the matter had been fully settled. It is now up to the street committee to take decisive action before the next meeting one week from yesterday.

The whole difficulty seems to be caused by strife between the Warren
Construction company and the Barber Asphait company. It is charged by A.
M. Shannon agent for the Warren people, that Ellis G. Hughes, who has been very active in the affair, is in the employ of the Barber Asphalt company, Hughes denies this.

In the beginning a petition was filed with the city auditor by what appeared to be two thirds of the property owners of the district asking for pavement with bituminous macadam. The next day a second petition was filed signed by the Title Guarantee & Trust company, represented as owning two thirds of the district, asking for pavement with bitulithic.

Subsequent to these two actions Eilis
G. Hughes appeared for the second time before the council and asked that the action previously taken by which bituminous macadam was to be used be rescinded and that asphalt be used.
Hughes had previously been one of the leaders in the movement for bituminous pavement. He now contends, however, that he and others have acquired title
to much property in the district and that two-thirds or more of the owners desire asphalt.

Portland Ad Men's and Press Clubs Desire Meetings of National Bodies Here.

of the Portland Ad Members Men's club have taken steps to secure the national convention of Associated Ad clubs America in Portland during the Rose carnival, June, 1908. In connection with the movement one has been set on foot to secure the national conven-tion of the National Association of Newspapermen at the same time, thus bringing together the conventions of the bringing together the conventions of the two large branches of newspaper work. So far no official action has been taken by the Portland Press club in the matter, although the matter has been under consideration since the members so successfully entertained Vice-President Fairbanks Tuesday evening. The

The first of the band concerts given at the plaza was listened to last night by a crowd of over 2,000 people. A well-rendered baritone solo by the leader. Signor De Caprio, was liberally applauded. Tonight's concert will be played at Beach street park if lights can be arranged on the grandstand in time. If they cannot the concert will be given at Holladay park. Tonight's program includes the "Jolly Fellows" waltz, selections from "The Fortune Teller" and "The Prince of Pilsen" and the intermezzo "Balome."

It is very probable that there will be a warm seasion of the street committee when the question is taken up for reconsideration. It has been charged that the asphalt company is directly responsible for the change of heart of Mr. Hughes and other of the property in the district and that two-thirds or more of the owners desire asphalt.

Mrs. M. E. Troutman, of Shedd, Oregon, writes The Journal an interesting letter concerning a collection of old coins which she has spent years accumulating ulating.

In the collection are two 50-cent pieces dated 1858, one 25-cent piece dated 1853, and a $1-piece dated 1798. She has another dated 1755, which is not an American coin. On one side of it appear the letters "P-a-t-r-o-n-a, B-a-v-a-r-i-a-e," and the date. On the other side are a number of Roman characters. The collections contains a number of interesting coins. ber of interesting coins.

Mrs. Troutman is desirous of disposing of the collection, and would also like to ascertain their value.

like to ascertain their value.

The description of the coins given is too vague to furnish a basis upon which to place a value. The 50-cent piece of 1858 is probably worth 75 cents. The dollar may be worth $10 or $2.50, while the 25-cent piece may be worth from 50 cents to $7.50. The values vary according to special marks on the coins, a combination of which on some coins make them especially valuable.

BRIDGE IMPROVEMENT

The first test of the legality of the bond issue voted at the June election will be made on the $450,000 bonds for the reconstruction of the Madison street bridge. City Attorney Kavanaugh yes-terday asked the council to authorize the sale of the bonds that he might at once take the matter into the courts. Mr. Kavanaugh stated he believed the Madison street bridge matter to be the most important improvement voted for by the people and elected to try this case out in the courts to determine whether this and all other bond issues could be legally sold.

Nolan Rice Best of Chicago, editor of the Interior, after a busy visit to Portland and this vicinity, left last night for his home. He was entertained by Rev. William Hiram Foulkes and by J. Thorburn Ross at luncheons and was given a dinner by the Presbyterian Brotherhood, when some good toasts were heard and a fine feeling manifested. One day was spent in the trip up the Columbia which Mr. Best seemed to enjoy, one day in a trip to the seashore, and his visit was terminated by the ascent of Mount Hood.

Frank E. A. Smith, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, arrived in the city, and will be given an informal reception following the prayer meeting this evening. Mr. Smith comes from Spokane, where he was acting as the assistant pastor of the First Baptist church. He has been prominently connected with T. M. C. A. Work.
