ENGINE CHASES RUNAWAY TRAIN

Wild Flight Down Tortuous Track Along Precipices and Over Chasms.

(Journal Special Service.) Stockton, Cal., July 19.—While slowly pulling up grade between Sonora and Jamestown on the Sierra railway, a train broke its coupling this morning and two freight cars and one passenger car started on a race down hill. The brakes refused to work and the passengers in the coach expected to be dashed over a precipice, as the road is very crooked and built along the side of deep gorges. Two women and two children were in the car. The engine was detached from the remainder of the freight cars and a race commenced between the runaway cars and the locomotive. After a short time the engine caught up with the cars and a coupling was made, but again it broke when the engine attempted to check the three cars. The locomotive followed the runaway cars and finally succeeded in making fast and bringing them to a standstill.

Tomorrow positively the last day for discount on east side gas bills.

For a month the Countess Louise has been the guest of honor of Mr. Hamilton's sister in Omaha, having returned with Miss Hamilton from Spain. The countess is young and speaks English and French in addition to her own language.
