If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse trap, than his neighbor, though he builds his house in the woods, the world will make a path to his door.—Emerson.

FORFEITURE OF THE RAILROAD GRANT.

IT IS IMPORTANT that the main issue in the Southern Pacific land grant question be not forgotten. The movement for forfeiture should not, and does not, have for its purpose the ousting of one crowd and the bestowal of the grant upon another.

If the people have equities in the grant, those equities belong not to a few, but to all. The lands are valuable, and that is why it is sought to make the railroad disgorge them.

Did you notice how Mars looked when it was nearest the earth the other night? Awful; as if it had also just had a Fourth of July.

THE TOBACCO TRUST.

IN ITS efforts to break up the tobacco trust the government will have the support or encouragement of practically all the tobacco growers and independent dealers.

The monopoly of the tobacco trade is not quite complete, but the trust practically controls the market. It is said that it buys 75 per cent of all the tobacco grown in the United States.

ostensible independent retail stores established throughout the country of late years are really established by a subsidiary company, under control of the parent trust.

THE TERRIBLE JAPS.

TRULY IT IS the silly season. Can we sleep o' nights lest Portland should be taken by the Japs? Why hasn't the president called for the enlistment of a million men?

For things are doing. Several scores of Japs are in Mexico, armed with jack knives. In Honolulu a lot of Japs have stored up several bags of rice. On two or three occasions Japs have been seen looking toward forts and naval reserves.

Of course the army will be recruited by sea. It is suspected that a force will land near Seaside and demand free meals at the Moore hotel. Somebody has found tracks in lower California that look as if Japs were going to land there.

IS FULTON FOR FAIRBANKS?

IF SENATOR FULTON, as seems to be indicated by his Seaside remarks, is for Fairbanks and against Roosevelt or Roosevelt's choice for president, and if, as seems even more certain, Fairbanks is the candidate of the "interests" which Roosevelt has to some extent attacked, what will be the effect on Fulton's candidacy for the senate next year?

BULL RUN WATER POWER.

SECRETARY M'GEE of the inland waterways commission, who has been in this state for several days, has made an important suggestion with reference to the use of Bull Run water. The commission's business is to investigate streams not only with reference to their use for and adaptability to purposes of navigation and transportation, but also to discover and suggest their potentiality as sources of power.

There's no treaty or law against Japanese laborers having a military drill in the woods is there? What is Wholesale? From Bonfort's Wine and Spirit Circular.

Letters From the People

Unconstitutionality of Saloon License. Portland, Or., July 19.—To the Editor of The Journal—Belated advocates of the "New Things in Righteousness" I note are coming into the ring with their "I told you so's." Not so The Journal.

The plan of canalizing the Illinois river, so as to make a waterway from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, will cost, according to the estimate $31,000,000, and it is calculated that enough power can be sold to pay 10 per cent on this amount, or $3,100,000 a year.

As this city grows it will need a great deal more water power. The falls at Oregon City furnish a good deal, and the Clackamas river at Cazadero much more, and still more can be obtained from Sandy river; but if practicable why should not the city own and control a lot of power from Bull Run?

Why Has Building Stopped?

From the Pendleton East Oregonian. Travelling men visit all the northwest towns and cities, but not only in Pendleton but in every other city of this size in the northwest, that practical building has stopped.

Commenting on the announcement that Secretary Cortelyou has appointed a committee to improve the condition of the treasury, the Republican New York Press, probably having in mind the collection and expenditure of that campaign fund, remarks: "There is a most important plan for the betterment of the treasury, which the committee, we feel confident in saying, will not recommend. That is the substitution for the present secretary of a man who has the confidence of the country."

The Merest Mention.

A peculiar feature of the visit of Vice-President Fairbanks to this city was the studied silence of all concerned as to the president of these United States. Only once in the course of any of the numerous interviews did he refer to the president of these United States.

Senator Hopkins thinks that if Roosevelt declines the nomination for president it should go to Uncle Joe Cannon, who he says would run better than any other man.

Joseph Chamberlain's Birthday.

Joseph Chamberlain, the eminent English statesman whose health for some time past has rather given ground, was born July 10, 1836, in London. When 20 years old he removed to Birmingham and engaged in business there.

This Date in History.

1195—Spaniards totally defeated by the Moors at Alarcos. 1822—Great Britain defeated the Scots at battle of Halidon Hill. 1858—Spanish Armada arrived in the English Channel. 1876—Capitulation of Quebec to the British. 1763—Peter III put to death. 1821—Coronation of King George IV of England. 1824—Iturbide, who made himself emperor of Mexico, shot at Padilla. 1841—Bank of England charter expired. 1864—Taking of Vicksburg ended the Taping rebellion in China. 1870—France made formal declaration of war against Prussia. 1874—Spain declared in a state of siege. 1894—Legs, the anarchist who shot at Premier Crispien of Italy, sentenced to 20 years imprisonment. 1899—General Russell A. Alger, secretary of war, resigned. 1902—Sir Henry Irving's last appearance at the Lyceum Theatre, London.

Support for the Drago Doctrine.

From the St. Louis Dispatch. It is the business of big navies to make his debts, not to collect them.

HOW THE RICH LIVE

Cost of a Newport Establishment

By Cleveland Morfett. Thus far we have considered chiefly what is spent in Newport on luxuries and superfluities, but of course there are also the necessities of life and it is interesting to see how much the fashionable rich manage to spend on such homely things as meat and groceries.

Occupation—Salary.

Table listing occupations and salaries: Special chef from Paris $1,000; Second chef $1,200; Private secretary to the lady $2,000; Governess $2,000; Two nurses $1,000; Five maids $1,000; Head coachman $1,200; Chauffeur and third coachman $1,200; Butler $1,000; Second butler $800; Four helpers $2,500.

From an Address by Cardinal Gibbons.

The question may be asked, What is the greatest need of our times for the betterment of society? Is it churches? Temples of worship are indeed very necessary at times. They bear evidence of the faith and devotion of the people.

The Need of True Men

In a word, we need men of upright character. If you reveal to me your character as above revealed, I will reveal to you your character as above revealed. You will not be presidents, or governors, or senators, or bishops. But the attainment of these offices is not the test of genuine success. It is the possession of success lies in the fulfillment of duty. If you are faithful at the post which you hold, you will be successful in life; you will merit the esteem of your fellow-citizens; you will enjoy the respect of your superiors; and above all, you will have the approval of heaven.

If Maw Should Strike.

By Frances G. Ingersoll. If Maw should strike, I don't know what all of use kids 'ud do; I'd be no one. To come in on his story, or write our 'souse, or tie our shoe.

Then, when a feller's played.

Until he's played, and wants a piece of pie, Or bread and jam; If Maw was on a strike, And wouldn't bake what us kids like, We'd be like Marm Hubbard's dog— We'd starve and die.

Strange Stanzas in Missouri.

From the Kansas City Journal. "The shower of fish which fell Sunday afternoon," says W. Rufus Wilson, one of the oldest inhabitants of Independence, "is not surprising to me. Back in the 40s one day people were surprised at the sudden appearance of a pinkish-looking cloud in the north-west. The rain which fell on that day was changed to bitter cold, and began falling. Soon large flakes came down and it snowed pink bugs."

Small Change

There was no toast to Teddy at Seaside. Oregon will be for Roosevelt, against Roosevelt candidates. It would seem to be about time to fire Chief of Police Dinan of San Francisco also.

The Salem Journal classes C. E. S. Wood with Walt Whitman and Leo Tolstoy.

By the way why doesn't the president have the nature fake name. Oyster Bay changed?

It was hardly to be expected that a newswoman named the Hochi Hochi could tell the truth.

Nick and Alice have been married about 17 months and so are not watched much any more.

Some people are worrying because, they say, the teddy bear is conducive to race suicide.

The machine politicians won't parcel out the offices among themselves as easily as they used to in Oregon.

What the people are groping around to find is true public servants to put in the place of selfish, self-out politicians.

"Can a wolf lick a lynx?" asks the Boston Herald. It might be less likely to say with making inquiry first at Oyster Bay.

It is hard for Schmitz to realize that money made the mayor go—out of office, though he must know that money made the mayor go—wrong.

Stuyvesant Fish says: "Many a dishonest railroad fortune has been made by robbing the stockholders." Whom can he be alluding to?

"Admiral Evans Talks" is a headline in an exchange. But of course he was not quoted verbatim, any more than Uncle Joe Cannon would be.

The weather-makers seem to have imagined this week that the summer season was over, but we may expect that they will change their minds soon.

On his recent trip to southern Oregon Governor Fulton discovered that the Southern Pacific had been made of land up there, and he has written to the company about it.

"The man who steals from you is worse off than you are," says the Atlantic Globe. Doubtless, yet this fact isn't much consolation to the victim of theft. The thief is not a philosopher.

The Albany Democrat declares that "An infidel has no more business in a church choir than in a pulpit." But a singer expresses no sentiments of his own; and then, mightn't he be thus converted? And what is an "infidel" anyway?

Oregon Sidelights

A bank may be established in Florence.

A large deposit of opals is reported at Summer lake.

The prune crop around Freewater is also very heavy.

A whole Blue mountain family had black measles all at once.

The Albany Herald has changed from a morning to an afternoon paper.

Timber lands are all gone, only Juniper claims being left, says the Prineville Review.

A Salem young man has ceased being Wise and has become Cross—but in name only.

An Albany man offered to secure an annual Chautauque assembly for this city, such as Ashland and Oregon City have, for a guaranty of $3,000.

A great number of eels that came into a canal from the Santiam river at Lebanon were carried into the Calapoopa at Albany, and were killed by hundreds of boys.

A flow of artesian water at a depth of 150 feet which had a stream of cool, sparkling water thirty feet high from a one-inch pipe is the result of the operation of well drillers on a North Powder farm.

The Pioneer in publishing five notices of coal land applications, the first notices of the kind ever published in Crook county. The notices cover 1,300 acres in the Hay creek country, and when patents are secured it is probable that extensive development work will be taken up.

The new Freewater cannery will be open for operations in a few days. The first product to be canned will be blackberries. But the directors expect the profit will be largely from the canning of tomatoes, there being fully 100 acres of them set out in this vicinity this season. Many varieties of fruit will be canned. A carload of 48,000 cans has already arrived.

The work has commenced that in a few months will result in making Eugene a real city—with modern paved streets and electric cars, says the Guard. Before the first of next year we will be far in advance of any other town in Oregon, outside of Portland, in the matter of municipal improvements and municipal government.

Baker City Democrat: Go out to the eastern boundary line of the city, stand on top of one of the hills that overlook Powder river valley and you will have a view of prosperity that will do your heart good. To the north as far as the eye can reach can be seen a wide field of grain and alfalfa and beautiful homes. And all this within the past few years! The great transformation: Thousands of acres of sage brush land reclaimed by private irrigation and flowing with milk and honey.
