She has had a chance to observe the control of the co of the awards which attracts aims find-linger. She has had a chance to ob-serve the instruction and methods of Mr. and Mrs. Chapin, directing the in-strumental and the vocal departments of the conservatory, and she believes them capable of giving one the finest finish in a musical education.

Help But Mot Charity. Glenn E. Walker, the son of the well-known Oregon pioneer, is aided in his aspirations for a scholarship by Edgar H. Cooper of Banks. After reading the article about young Walker in The Journal last Sunday, Mr. Cooper volunteered a bunch of votes.

Glenn writes the Contest Editor that he now has a bicycle and he is scouring the country in all directions from he now has a bicycle and he is scouring the country in all directions from Albany to secure contest votes. Seeing that he is a cripple, several people offered him money to ald him in getting the education he seeks. But he declined this, saying that he prefers to earn his education through taking subscriptions to The Journal. He says he have to looking for donations but wants is not looking for donations, but wants to give every one who helps him the full value for their money and that's what he does when he gives them The

Glenn likes the farmers and the farmers like him and he finds the farmers around Albany very willing to take a daily newspaper. Albany has a fine rural letter service, also a rural telephone service and the farmers are keen and keen up with the times. and keep up with the times.

"Hew" or "Old" Subs.

Francis Riverman, the new contestant on R. F. D. 1, north of Cornelius, asks whether a person who took The Jour-nal two years ago and then dropped from the list may be counted a new subscriber. Certainly. The circulation manager of The Journal has ruled that a subscription may be marked new if the person has not been taking the paper through the mail or by a regular carrier for 30 days previous to the date of the subscription. The Journal has list of the names of all subscribers and will very soon discover whether the con-subscriptions. Whenever subscriptions are wrongly reported, the fault has been found to rest with the subscriber who is over-zeolous in behalf of the contestant and who wants the money he spends to purchase as many votes as possible. Subscribers should emulate the honesty of the boys and girls instead of suggesting plans by which they stead of suggesting plans by which they may cheat one another in counting old subscriptions as new. In order that this contest may be fair to all, every ie participating must work under the iles laid down for all the others. Harlin Taibert at Albany is working for a scholarship like a Trojan. He gets some new subscriptions off on every mail. Evidently the people of Albany are over-generous toward the scholarship contestants who seek votes among them.

Grace M. Riverman of Cornellus is helping her brother, Francis Riverman, to gather subscriptions. They are cordially received by strangers as well as by their friends and acquaintances. Miss Riverman writes: "I never thought that the American people were so kind before"

Oregon Journal.

The Journal makes it possible for boys and girls to earn the scholarships by securing subscribers to The Journal and making advance collections from people already taking the paper. The student who engages in this work has a valuable business experience quite as essential as his studies at school. The individual giving the subscription gets full value for his money while at the same time helping the student. And the newspaper enjoys a permanent growth of circulation among the best class of people.
