Members of Hill Military academy have issued the 1907 commencement edition of The Orderly, and have surpassed all previous efforts in the way of publications. The number is replete with interesting stories, including 'The Exterior of the Willamette' and 'The Downfall of the once mighty tribe that predominated in the Oregon country. Photographic cuts of members of the faculty, athletic teams and scenes depicting life at the popular institution are liberally sprinkled throughout the edition. Class poems and class prophecies are perhaps the most interesting features to the students, and show much ability on the part of the writers. Walter G. Gleason, editor in chief, and his corps of associate editors and business associates, are to be congratulated upon their publication, which should rank with any issued this year by a preparatory school.

A. B. Steinbach, the Morrison-street clothier, has closed a deal with Judge H. H. Northrup for the purchase of the Hobart-Curtis, a six-story family hotel on the northwest corner of Fourteenth and Madison streets. A deposit was made yesterday by Mr. Steinbach, whose attorneys are now examining the abstract of title. The price paid for the holding has not been announced, and it is denied by the purchaser that the consideration is $125,000. The building covers only a small portion of the land sold, which has a frontage of 470 feet and a depth of 150 feet. The sale was negotiated directly between Mr. Steinbach and Judge Northrup.

Charles Tompkins, proprietor of the "Pup" saloon, Third and Jefferson streets, who was recently fined $55 in the municipal court for selling liquor to a girl under the age of 21 years, was again arrested last night by Detectives Kay and Kienlin on a charge of violating the box ordinance. According to the arresting officers, Tompkins was entertaining two men and a woman in a private box in the resort and the door to the compartment was locked, in violation of the ordinance. The police have had considerable trouble with the saloon and the place is kept under close surveillance by the "moral squad."

A new mammoth cherry, to be known as the "Giant," has been grown by Julius Kallach of Woodlawn. From the tree first perfected he this year secured a good crop. A jar of the best specimens was preserved yesterday by Colonel A. W. Dickson, judge of the Portland chamber of commerce exhibit. The Giant is a result of crossing the Lamber and the Bing.

Spend your Sunday at Estacada and take dinner at Hotel Estacada on the upper Clackamas river, 35 miles from the city. Fare 75 cents round trip; dinner 50 cents. Judge Samuel R. Artman, of Indiana, will lecture this evening at the First Presbyterian church on the 'Unconstitutionality of Saloon Licenses.' Judge Artman has just returned from Salem, where he delivered an address on the same subject. The lecture tonight will be under the auspices of the Municipal association.

The American Bar association meets in Portland, Maine, August 26, 27 and 28. R. H. Platt, president of the Oregon association, has announced Oregon is entitled to three delegates and he would be pleased to appoint any three members of the Oregon bar who may be in the east at that time and would like to attend.

A horse belonging to the Wells-Fargo Express company was instantly killed yesterday on Grand avenue in a runaway. The team took flight on East Morrison street and ran directly into a brick building at East Alder street, breaking the neck of one of the horses, which was valued at $400. The other horse was not injured.

MONEY IN HAND

Every one who has had any experience in the world of business affairs knows the value of "money in hand" or available cash. To some people this means money in the pocket, but to the shrewd man it means money in the bank because he knows that he is liable to be robbed or meet with some accident whereby his money may be lost, but when the money is deposited in bank it is absolutely safe and yet just as available as though carried on his person. The power of money in the pocket is limited to its face value, but money in the bank establishes a credit which is often larger and more valuable than the money itself. If you want to get the most benefit from your money deposit it in this strong bank where it will be safe and help your credit.

HOMESTEAD FIGHT IN CROOK COUNTY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Prineville, July 20.—Jake Reams was brought in from Hester Wednesday on a warrant charging him with threatening to kill C. McPherson. Some time ago Reams, who was then in the employ of McPherson, filed a homestead entry of a piece of land that cornered in the latter's alfalfa field. When the lines were run, the survey showed several acres of Reams' land, which produces three crops of alfalfa annually, to be on the new homestead. Reams was ordered off the land, but as he was living there in a tent with his family, he refused to go. McPherson's men were sent to remove the homesteader's fence, whereupon they were ordered off the land by Reams, who supported his arguments with a Winchester.

The defendant was given a hearing and bound over in the sum of $250 to appear before the circuit court.

HAWAIIAN DAMSELS TO TOUR OREGON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, July 20.—Arrangements were made here yesterday for a visit from twelve Hawaiian young women who will come to this country in September under the auspices of a newspaper published at Honolulu, Miss Edythe W. Tosler Weathered will act as guide, philosopher and friend for the dusky maidens, and they will be taken to Cloud Cap Inn, the Devil's Punch Bowl and other points of interest in the valley. Some of Hood River's famous apples will be placed at the disposal of the party in an effort to demonstrate to them that the land of the pineapple and mango is not the only place that can grow luscious fruits.

HIGH TRIBUTE TO REV. FOULKES

Editorial Comment of the Interior on Appointment of Prominent Minister.

DISTINGUISHED CALL IN CAPABLE HANDS

To Succeed to Pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church in Metropolitan Center of Oregon Heavy Tax of Responsibility, Says Organ.

Of Rev. William Hiram Foulkes, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, the Interior recently said editorially:

"To succeed to the pastorate of the

foremost church in the metropolitan center of Oregon—one of the greatest churches of the west—at the threshold of the fourth decade of his age, and before the close of the first decade of his ministry, puts a heavy tax of responsibility on the young man to whom there comes such a distinguished call; but Portland has had no occasion to doubt either in the city or in the congregation that the new minister of the First Presbyterian church is capable of the load. A lifelong pastorate from youth to age, with increasing strength in every year, of the good promise of a work already well begun under the most excellent auspices.

Ministerial Heritage.

William Hiram Foulkes was born into a cumulative ministerial heritage, being fifth in a succession of preachers descending from the staunch old land of Wales. His father, Dr. William Foulkes, has for years been one of the leading factors of the synod of Kansas. The young man's native place was Quincy, Michigan; his raising was in Ohio and Kansas.

"Emporia college, in the latter state, afforded him his literary education. Before he entered McCormick seminary he had a year of pioneer preaching at Burton, Kansas. While at McCormick he laid the foundations for the vigorous faith church in Chicago, but in spite of this extra burden laid upon him he gained the honors of his class, and upon graduating in 1901 received the Bernardine Orme Smith fellowship, enabled thus to spend a year abroad, and he and Mrs. Foulkes had the advantage of helpful study at Edinburgh.

"His first regular pastorate was in the country church of Scotch people at Elmira, Illinois, and from thence he was called to the church at Clinton, Iowa, where after three years the call from Portland found him.

Interest in Mission Work.

"The outstanding fact of Mr. Foulkes' ministry so far has been his remarkable activity in evangelistic work, and his fervent zeal for foreign missions, but this specialism has not hindered his development in other pastoral capacities, in the true sense of the phrase the pastor of Portland First church is an 'all-round man.'

"Dr. Foulkes received his degree of B. A. from Emporia in 1897, and his M. A. degree in 1900. The degree of D. D. was recently conferred upon him by three colleges simultaneously, his alma mater, Emporia of Kansas, Lenox, Iowa, on the occasion of her golden jubilee, and Whitworth, Tacoma, thus honoring themselves and the man."

SPLENDID BOOKLET ISSUED BY CHAMBER

Profusely Illustrated Publication Telling of Oregon's Fruit and Flowers Ready to Distribute.

"Oregon, the Land of Opportunity," is the title of the 1908 pamphlet issued by the Portland chamber of commerce just off the press and ready for distribution. During the past few years the chamber of commerce has sent out many similar publications, but the effort of the present year is far ahead of any similar publication.

The publication has 62 pages and is profusely illustrated with typical Oregon views ranging from the mountains and rugged spots of the state to the representation of the fruits and flowers grown within its borders. Included in the book is a map of the state upon the back of which is printed a resume of the land laws of the state for the information of those who contemplate coming from the east to make homes on the Pacific coast.

The chamber of commerce will send out 50,000 copies of this publication in answer to the inquiries which are constantly being received from every part of the country and even across the ocean.

The former work of the chamber of commerce in this line has netted good returns for the state and it is the intention of the organization to continue the campaign. The plans for the next publication are already being considered, it being the intention to enlarge the size to 46 pages. During the remainder of the year it is the intention of the chamber to print pamphlets on special subjects from time to time for distribution as called for.

BUILDING PERMIT FOR ROOMING HOUSE

STEADY GAIN IN REALTY SALES

Highest Figure of Month Reached in Realty Transactions Yesterday.

The highest figure of the month—$84,811—was reached in the realty transactions filed for record yesterday. For the past three weeks, or since the first of the month, there has been a steady gain in the volume of sales, with every indication pointing to an active demand throughout the remainder of the summer for all classes of property.

Deeds for two valuable holdings in the North Portland warehouse district were filed yesterday. Mrs. Ann Manning transferred to George W. Holcomb the quarter block at the northeast corner of Irving and Fifteenth streets for $20,000, and Louis W. and Everett G. Starr purchased from James P. Cooke the 50-foot lot at the southwest corner of Everett and Fourteenth streets for $17,500. Both of these sites are occupied by residences.

Mrs. Elizabeth G. Zigler has purchased from Charles E. Oliver a house and lot on the northeast corner of East Salmon and East Twenty-sixth streets for $5,500.

W. H. Monaster has sold to C. Hansen a lot on Goodall street, near East Stark, for $2,000. The property is a part of the Mayor Gates addition, adjoining Sunnyside to the north.

Bert E. Marlon has purchased from A. W. Smith a lot on Macadam road, near Idaho street, South Portland, for $2,900.

HARNESS THIEF IS SENT TO ROCK PILE

W. L. Chittenden, arrested by Detectives Kay and Kienlin for the theft of two sets of harness from Versteeg's brickyard, Thirty-first and Tillamook streets, was before Judge Cameron yesterday. He entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to six months on the rockpile. Chittenden was formerly employed by Versteeg and drink is assigned as the cause of his downfall. Versteeg, after the disappearance of the first set of harness, purchased a new outfit. On the same night Chittenden paid another visit to the barn to the discomfiture of his employer.
