FAITHFUL SERVICE IN RELIGIOUS WORK

Since 1859 Worker in the Ranks of Christianity Saw Great Changes in India - Talks Entertainingly of Life's Work in the Far East.

James Mills Thoburn, pioneer bishop in missionary work in India, and one whose life has been associated with great events in that country during the past 48 years, is at present resting quietly in Portland and says that he thinks it unlikely that he will return to that country, feeling that his adyears and his failing health entitle him now to a respite on such active labors. He has had a most interesting career and has seen the slow growth of modern ideas and culture in India, which when he went out was almost in darkness.

(Journal Special Service.)

Washington, D. C., July 23.—The civil service examinations to be held today for the position of forest ranger in the United States forest reserve service afford an excellent opportunity for young men to get a start in a new profession, suitable as a life business. The profession of expert forester is rapidly assuming a high importance in this country and no better opportunity to learn it thoroughly can be found than in the government service. learn it thoroughly can be found than in the government service. The position of forest ranger offers the additional advantage that a man can earn a living salary while learning the business.

The forest rangers are the men who actively 'patrol the different reserves and protect them from fire and depredation. The pay for the beginner is $720 a year. Out of this salary he is required to furnish his own horses and feed them. But the policy of the department is to promote the men who show an aptitude for the work and thus the salary gradually goes up until the best rangers get as high as $1,400 a year. They live in cabins in the woods and are allowed to have their families with them if desired.

A candidate for ranger must be in good health and able to take care of himself and horses in regions remote from settlement and supplies. He must have knowledge of trail building, construction of cabins, riding, packing, etc., and must know something of surveying estimating and scaling timber.

And in Arizona and New Mexico he must also know enough Spanish to do bust-And in Arizons and New Mexico he must also know enough Spanish to do business with Mexican users of the national forests. Working under the direction of the supervisor the ranger's duties include patrol to prevent fires and trespass, estimating, surveying and marking timber, supervising of cutting, and similar work, all of which a man thoroughly familiar with forested regions and pospeasing a fair education ought to fulfill. Experience, health and sound knowledge of forest conditions are sought by the government rather than book education. From ranger the promotions lead to the position of supervisor with salary possibilities running up to $2,000.

It was brought ashore and the coroner notified. The body had been in the river so long that it was impossible to identify it. Apparently the skull had been beaten almost into pulp by impact with obstructions in the water. The body was clothed in a black sateen shirt, corduroy pantaloons tied around the waist with a piece of yellow woolen cloth and logger's shoes, unspiked. It was that of a very large man and would probably weigh about 200 pounds. In a pocket was found a small padlock with two keys and a bundle of copper wire. No means of identification was found and the body was buried in the potter's field without an inquest. without an inquest.

WORK ON NEW CITY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The Dalles, Or., July 23.—The work of removing the old buildings preparatory to the erection of the new city hall will begin today. This building will be furnished with all modern appointments, and will be the most elegant and public edifice in eastern Oregon. The cost will be between $30,000 and $40,000 and the city will bond itself for the amount. This will mark a new era in the history of The Dalles. It is expected that other improvements will follow.

Mrs. A. Canavan of 330 Lincoln street, Portland, Or., says: "I was led to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills three years ago from the great relief I had found in a case of kidney complaint which had annoyed me for a long time. I tried other remedies previously, but Doan's Kidney Pills were the only remedy that helped me. My trouble had lasted for three years during which time I suffered from irregular action of the kidneys and backache. At times I was in such misery with the aching and weakness that I could not rest in any position. I suffered from headaches and dizziness and could hardly attend to the simplest of household duties. Doan's Kidney Pills freed me from this miserable existence and I never have lost an opportunity to recommend the lost an opportunity to recommend the remedy. In fact, I gave a public testimony in 1903, which I am glad to repeat and confirm."

Independent Telephone Security Holders-Who Are They?

An Interesting Answer to This Question Just Published by a Chicago Company Which Made a Comparative Canvass of the Field-The Results Show That Independent Investors Comprise Not Alone the Best Class in the Community, but the Shrewdest-Bankers Who Always Want Both Safety and Profit Predominate.

Chicago.-A most important compilation of facts bearing on the character of the people who hold Independent telephone securities has just been made public by E. B. Overshiner of this city, president of the Swedish-American Telephone Manufacturing Co. It has been one of the favorite arguments of the Bell press bureaus that only the "inexperienced" can as a general thing "be induced to invest their money in the so-called Independent companies, which the experienced know must of necessity fail." So persistently has this stock story been circulated through the press that it has almost come to be believed in certain sections of the east, where the real and substantial character of the Independent movement is still but imperfectly understood. The facts presented here will therefore be a revelation to this class.

In the west, of course, where practically everyone knows that it is the best element in the community that runs and controls the Independent telephone business, the data will not cause surprise, even though no one has ever before taken the trouble to put it together in the graphic shape in which it is presented by Mr. Overshiner, who says in intro-

'We selected at random one thousand Independent Telephone companies throughout the United States and ascertained the number of stockholders and the different lines of business represented by the stockholders. Herewith we give the data as we received

Bank officials and directors	625
Merchants	3,830
Farmers	1,906
Physicians	429
Electric light men	367
Manufacturers	980
Lawyers	104
Millers	.48
Capitalists	302
Unable to secure data	1,189
10000-000	COLUMN TO A

Total number of stockholders..... 9,780

"By this example it will be seen that the Independent Telephone business is made up of the best business men in each community. Today there are 7,000 Independent Telephone companies in the United States, and if we take the above data as being a fair average, which we believe it is, we have the following personnel:

Bankers		*	4,375
Merchants			26,810
Farmers			13,342
Physicians			3,003
Electric light men			2,569
Manufacturers			8,660
Lawyers			728
Millers			336
Capitalists			2,114
Miscellaneous call	ngs .		8,323
			70,260

In closing, the compiler of these facts and figures

"The above statistics demonstrate, beyond a doubt, that Independent Telephony is one of the strongest industries in the world, as well as the most remarkable. The moral strength, coupled with the fine sentiment found in all Independent companies, together with the individual responsibility has built up an industry representing millions of dollars; a business based upon the broad plan of Independence and of the people."

As further demonstration of the strength of the Independent movement among the shrewdest class of men in the community, the Swedish-American Co. is also circulating a pamphlet issued by the Independent Telephone Co. of Petersburg, Illinois, which gives a list of over five hundred bankers from every section of the country who are holders of Independent stocks and bonds. It is not pretended that the list is even approximately complete, being simply a compilation of names picked up here and there at random.
