Tacoma Expert Defeats the Local Favorite in the First Round of State Tourney.

NEW CLAY COURTS TOO SOFT FOR BEST TENNIS

Visiting Women Defeated—Benham and Miss Leadbetter Win From Goss and Miss Weidner in Mixed Doubles—Today's Schedule.

Some of the best matches scheduled for late this afternoon:

At 3 o'clock—Benham and Andrews against Tyler and Armstrong, court 1. Mrs. Cook and Mr. Bellinger against Miss Robertson and Mr. Ewing.

At 4 o'clock—Miss Houghton and Miss Morrison against Miss Leadbetter and Mrs. Northrup, court 4. Miss Josephi and partner against Miss Schaeffer and Miss Fording, court 1.

At 5 o'clock—Bethel and Ewing against Goss and Lewis, court 4. Tyler against McAlpin, court 3.

Dan Bellinger, the pride of the Irvington club and the runner-up in last year's tournament for the singles championship of Oregon, was badly beaten in his first match in the 1907 tourney. His successful opponent was A. Armstrong, of Tacoma, one of the visiting players.

The game was played late yesterday afternoon and resulted in a score of 6-4, 6-0. Bellinger gave up entirely in the second set and succeeded only in winning the first. While Armstrong was known to be a strong player, it was generally believed here that Bellinger had the "edge" on him. The match was played on one of the new clay courts and there was bitter complaint against their condition. Bellinger was especially thrown off his game by the softness of the court and would undoubtedly have made a better showing had the ground been satisfactory.

Armstrong used a "slice" on his back and his volleying and smashing were extremely good. Judging by his form of yesterday he should make a strong bid for honors.

Twenty-four Matches Played.

The first day of the tournament went off in fine style, twenty-four matches being played. The only drawback was the softness of the new clay courts, which may cause some unfortunate reversals of form before the end of the tourney.

The club has two fine asphalt courts but built two more especially to accommodate the extra large number of tournament matches that must be played each day. The playing of a tournament on absolutely new courts is a dangerous experiment, which in this case certainly will not turn out well.

Both visiting ladies players were put off in their first matches, as both were unfortunate enough to draw local women of the first rank. Miss Theodora Bush, of Chicago, was defeated by Miss Josephi in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3. Miss Bush has a strong backhand but she put too many of them over the back line.

Goss beaten in Mixed Doubles.

The surprise of the day was the defeat of Nervous Dennis and Walter Goss and his partner in the mixed doubles, Miss Weidner, by R. R. Benham and Miss Leadbetter. The match was perhaps the most spectacular one of the day and was attended by a large crowd of rooters. Benham was very accurate in his shots and he was exceedingly well supported. Benham and Leadbetter won despite the fact that Goss took many more balls than went on his partner's side of the net than did his male opponent.

J. C. Tyler, the left-handed youth from Seattle, whom the Northwest association in the indoor tennis match second only to F. T. Payne, of Tacoma, won his singles match with ease. His opponent, Frohman, was hardly strong enough to give him a chance to exhibit his form. Tyler plays A. B. McAlpin this afternoon at 5 o'clock and the match should be a good one.

FROM LOS ANGELES TO PORTLAND IN AN AUTO

From Los Angeles to Portland in an automobile through the coast mountains is the difficult trip made by J. M. Carpenter, his son and his brother, A. L. Carpenter, who are now registered at the Hotel Oregon.

The long trip was made in a 35 horse power Stoddard-Dayton runabout. During the trip the expenses for repairs amounted to $75, which was spent to replace a broken spring. The trip from Portland to Los Angeles had been made in an auto by the three men last summer.

Frequently rough and muddy roads were encountered and delays were numerous. They will return to Los Angeles by rail, shipping their machine home.

quite a "phenom" as an amateur. It remains to be seen how he will pan in fast company.

Joe Fay wore a Portland uniform yesterday. Joe's knee, which he threw out of joint in a "Coast league" game a couple of months ago, is now and unless Schlumpf takes a sudden turn for the better, Fay will be back at short before the end of the week.

"Buck" Keith, who has handled the indicator at various past games of professional ball players, was in Derrick's place yesterday, as the latter was suffering from an acute attack of neuralgia of the face. The fans were highly entertained by "Buck's" graceful pose and his high-pitched, ladylike voice.

Lovett made a fine running catch in the ninth inning, cutting off what otherwise would have been a repetition of Nagle's two-bagger in the seventh.

Ellis, who was at center field the last time the Angels were in town, is at present holding down the bench. Ellis, who is a good batter and a fast man on the bases, is at his old post in the center garden. Bernard now bats first, while Carlisle, who made such a great home run record at the beginning of the season, follows him.

Los Angeles fans are said to be crying for continuous baseball.

Manager Berry has traded Pitcher Carnes for Pitcher Randolph of the Oakland club and Randolph may join the Los Angeles team some time this week.

Live All Your Years A Perfect Man

The human body is most wonderfully and perfectly constructed. Each part is built equal to its task. Unless overburdened or attacked by disease, no organ fails. Nature intended that every man should live all his years a perfect man. Few men do.

Undoing the Injury

I do not know how many thousands of men I have treated. I have been a specialist in men's diseases for seventeen years. During most of these years my practice has been the largest of its kind upon the Pacific coast.

I have met with but few incurable cases. I have failed to cure in still fewer cases. In recent years I have failed a none. This is because I attempt to cure only those cases that I feel confident I can cure, and as my experience has grown I have become able to determine curable and incurable cases with certainty.

Weakness

No matter in what form those functional derangements commonly termed "weakness" may appear, the causative conditions are, in nearly all cases, very similar.

My special practice also includes Hydrocele, Stricture, Contracted Bladder, Contagious Blood Poison, Nervous Debility and All Reflex Affections.

Varicocele

Varicocele affects the veins of the spermatic cord. An average of one man in four suffers from this affliction. The functional weakness is totally removed by the knowledge gained by close study and observation in thousands of cases enables me to recognize the exact requirements and treat accordingly, and in many cases failing in a single instance to accomplish the desired results.

Consultation Free

To men whose years are being lived in physical imperfection as a result of mistakes or misfortune, whose lives are less than full and perfect lives and who yearn to be the men that nature meant them to be, help is at hand.
