PEDESTRIANS WILL SOON BE PROTECTED FROM SPEEDING AUTOS

Pedestrians are to be protected in den rounding of corners without slowing down and "homing." Yesterday in the council meeting a communication was read from Dr. H. F. Ong asking that some action be taken to curb the recklessness of the auto drivers. He said he had several narrow escapes from injury and presumed others had been placed in like positions. The council seemed favorable to the communication of Dr. Ong and will provide some means of lessening the danger. The matter was thoroughly discussed in the council and it is possible that an ordinance will be passed which will compel drivers to run at a reasonable speed on a straight course and stop completely or slow down to two miles an hour in rounding a corner. In the meantime giving vigorous notice of the approach of the car. The ordinance will be passed at the next meeting of the council.

MAYOR TESTS STREET BROOMS FINDING THEM TOO HARD TO PUSH

"Hello, there; say, let me take a try at that, will you?"

Then Mayor Lane stepped into the street on Fifth between Alder and Morrison yesterday afternoon and undertook to sweep the street with one of those hand-brooms that the sweepers push around each day. The mayor reached out behind and pushed mightily. Say, that thing runs blooming hard, don't it? queried the city's chief executive.

Finally his honor got under way, but he did not go far.

"I guess we'll have to supply gasoline engines to run those things," I didn't know they were so hard to handle."

"Well, I'll see about that," answered the mayor. The sweeper was greatly pleased as the mayor departed.

"If he'd run for president of the United States I'd vote for him," said the city employee afterwards. "Even the bosses will not get out into the street and try these sweepers."

FIRST TRIPLETS OF YEAR ARRIVE AT BIGMAN HOME

Triplets, three bouncing baby boys, the first to be born in Portland this year, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anton E. Bigman, 1167 Union avenue, at 6 o'clock Tuesday night. The combined weight of the lusty lugged infants is 16½ pounds and they are all vigorous, healthy children. Mrs. Bigman was Miss Fannie Ruddy and is 31 years of age, weighing in the neighborhood of 140 pounds. The father is a salesman.

Nine pairs of twins have been born in Portland since the first of the year, making a record for the period. January has the largest number, three. No twins arrived in March or April, but a pair came in February. May and June each have two pairs of twins, while so far this month one pair has been reported.
